The Aesthetics of Senescence Andrea Charise, 2020-01-01 Investigates how nineteenth century British literature grappled with a new understanding of aging as both an individual and collective experience The Aesthetics of Senescence investigates how chronological age has come to possess far reaching ideological ethical and aesthetic implications both in the past and present Andrea Charise argues that authors of the nineteenth century used the imaginative resources of literature to engage with an unprecedented climate of crisis associated with growing old Marshalling a great variety of canonical authors including William Godwin Mary Shelley George Eliot Anthony Trollope and George Gissing as well as less familiar writings by George Henry Lewes Christoph Wilhelm Hufeland Agnes Strickland and Max Nordau Charise demonstrates why the imaginative capacity of writing became an interdisciplinary crucible for testing what it meant to grow old at a time of profound cultural upheaval Charise s grounding in medicine political history literature and genre offers a fresh original thoroughly interdisciplinary analysis of nineteenth century aging and age theory as well as new insights into the rise of the novel a genre usually thought of as affiliated almost entirely with the young or middle aged Charise s brilliantly argued clearly written book is an important intervention in nineteenth century British literature age studies and medical humanities It brings these areas of inquiry together in what seems a seamless way as if they have always traveled together or ought to have Through an investigation of what she calls the aesthetics of embodiment that shaped nineteenth century visions of aging Charise has given us an original and groundbreaking study of literary historical anthropological and philosophical texts Devoney Looser author of The Making of Jane Austen
