Hearts of Darkness: Melville, Conrad and Narratives of Oppression Paweł Jędrzejko,Milton M. Riegelman,Zuzanna Szatanik,2010-01-01 The volume came about as a result of a joint effort at a bifocal reflection of the international community of Melvillians and Conradians in Szczecin Poland in August 2007 What became clear in formal and informal discussion among the participants of that international gam was that Herman Melville and Joseph Conrad Korzeniowski shared the intuition that the essential liquidity of the existential human condition necessitates a universal squeeze of the hand This idea beautifully conceptualized by Melville in chapter 94 of Moby Dick caused both writers to examine in their complex narratives the ways in which various kinds of oppression prevent this desired possibility read more in the Introduction On Anthologies Jeffrey R. Di Leo,2004-01-01 Over the course of the past twenty five years anthologies have shifted from playing a relatively minor role in academic culture to a position of dominance The essays in this collection explore the significant intellectual economic political pedagogical and creative resonance of anthologies through all levels of academic life They show that anthologies have consequences and are grounded in commitments Striving to articulate these consequences and commitments is a priority in higher education today Most of the contributors to this volume are editors of anthologies and they draw on personal experiences to provide a rare glimpse into the economics and logic of anthology publication Their essays illustrate the ways in which editing an anthology involves negotiation and compromise between intellectual ideal and realistic practice On Anthologies includes discussion of a wide range of anthologies used and produced by teachers and scholars Though the emphasis is on literature and theory anthologies the insights in this volume speak to professionals in all areas of academic life Collectively these essays establish the foundation for continuing critical analysis of anthology production and consumption in all disciplines
