The Legal Realism of Jerome N. Frank Julius Paul,2012-12-06 Between the Levite at the gate and the judicial systems of our day is a long journey in courthouse government but its basic structure remains the same law judge and process Of the three process is the most unstable procedure and facts Of the two facts are the most intractable While most of the law in books may seem to center about abstract theories doctrines principles and rules the truth is that most of it is designed in some way to escape the painful examination of the facts which bring parties in a particular case to court Frequently the emphasis is on the rule of law as it is with respect to the negotiable instrument which forbids inquiry behind its face sometimes the emphasis is on men as in the case of the wide discretion given a judge or administrator sometimes on the process as in pleading to a refined issue summary judgment pre trial conference or jury trial designed to impose the dirty work of fact finding on laymen The minds of the men of law never cease to labor at improving process in the hope that some less painful more trustworthy and if possible automatic method can be found to lay open or force litigants to disclose what lies inside their quarrel so that law can be administered with dispatch and decisiveness in the hope that truth and justice will be served
