Transforming Leadership, Improving the Patient Experience Alan T. Belasen, Ph.D., Barry Eisenberg, Ph.D., Jill Borgos, Ph.D., 2024-02-27 This book focuses on the patient experience as a leadership strategy It explores the relationships between coordinated care expert leadership provider patient communications and the patient experience When clinical and nonclinical staff collaborate effectively healthcare

teams can improve patient outcomes prevent medical errors improve efficiency and increase patient satisfaction Surprisingly however healthcare leaders tend to prioritize specific metrics to improve hospital performance and patient satisfaction even though patient experience and provider patient communications are intertwined Determining the most effective strategy for achieving higher levels of service quality and patient satisfaction can prove elusive for providers Consider the evidence a survey in 2012 of more than 17 000 healthcare leaders in North America for example found that leaders perceptions did not always match the data and many hospital leaders overestimated the performance of their hospitals Over 75% of the hospital leaders reported quality of care was something their hospital did well while their patients on average rated them lower on perceived service quality Ten years later in 2022 only a few providers integrated best practices to achieve high patient satisfaction which severely impacted CMS Hospital Star Rating This has significant effects on profit margins since patients consider the star rating differentials in their choices of hospitals and are willing to pay upward of 17% extra for treatments in 5 star hospitals a revenue generating source of income at times when hospitals have seen falling revenues down 4 8% and rising labor up 37% from pre COVID 19 pandemic levels To reduce the gap between perception and reality hospital leaders can consider the link between communication goals e g responsiveness of hospital staff pain management communication about medicines and outcomes e g increased adherence and compliance readmission healthcare delivery costs hospital overall ratings as well as improve the patient experience When intentions and outcomes are aligned they create a powerful medium by which healthcare leaders can evaluate the gaps that exist between patient care measures and best practices and mitigate organizational or technological factors relevant to improving the patient experience When the alignment is optimal care teams develop a better sense of shared purpose become more committed and accountable and work together to improve the patient experience When accomplished patients participate more fully and actively in the exchange and are discharged with an enhanced commitment to carry out care management requirements Key topics in this practical guide include provider patient communications demonstrating the value of patient focused care how physician and nurse executives use synergy as a strategy engaging board members in promoting quality and safety goals and in developing hospital community partnerships building bridges between physicians administrators trustees and hospital staff and developing a leadership pipeline

Office of Personnel Management,1994 The United States Civil Service Commission Announces an Examination in The Indian And Alaska Native Health Program ,1967 The Researcher Experience in Qualitative Research Susan Diemert Moch,Marie F. Gates,2000 One of the most prominent currents felt in the arena of qualitative research methods is the impulse toward reflexivity and self analysis researchers considering their own place in the research act The goals of this book are to describe various researcher experiences and give novice researchers some insight to better choose research settings deal with their own personal issues in the research act and to report their research accurately The first part of the book will consider various populations and settings for qualitative research with a special emphasis on health care related settings Part Two will discuss how one processes the researcher experience both in terms of tools that can be used networking focused discussions qualitative writing etc as well as issues pertaining to processing cross cultural and gender issues etc It then offers some insight into ways of processing the researcher experience in teams Finally in part three the author turn to ways of reporting the researcher experience both in terms of possible setting journal articles chapters the Internet as well as modes and issues first person narratives ethical considerations
