South American Medicinal Plants I. Roth,H. Lindorf,2013-04-17 Books dealing with medicinal herbs have been forests by man Furthermore the knowledge of use ful and medicinal plants is lost as soon as tradition much in demand in the last decade since interest in the use of healing plants instead of chemistry vanishes through the import of new products from wrapped up in the form of pills has gradually in industrialized countries Already in 1926 PITTIER creased Interest in natural methods of healing by regreted that the use as well as the production of medicinal plants advanced with the ecological con indigenous medicinal herbal products foodstuffs science of man European officinal plants are well and other local industrial vegetable products such known and have already been applied for hundreds as special oils waxes fibers tannic substances cork of years or even more However as the tropical etc diminished alarmingly as importation of arti forests attracted more attention the great wealth of ficial or foreign products from the USA and Europe increased This decrease in natural indigenous pro useful plants stored in tropical regions became ob vious India is probably a leading country in the duction continues up to the present day such that knowledge of indigenous tropical medicinal plants also the knowledge of these useful plants is being some of which are also known or are even common gradually forgotten As local industries disap in Europe Further useful and medicinal plants peared unemployment consequently increased

CULTIVATED PLANTS, PRIMARILY AS FOOD SOURCES -Volume II Gyorgy Fuleky,2009-02-13 Cultivated Plants Primarily as Food Sources is a component of Encyclopedia of Food and Agricultural Sciences Engineering and Technology Resources in the global Encyclopedia of Life Support Systems EOLSS which is an integrated compendium of twenty one Encyclopedias Global food demand is forecast to double and possible triple by the year 2050 when more than 10 billion people will need to be fed worldwide To ensure adequate nutrition for this growing population food production must be expanded faster than the population Following a longer introduction chapter with some information on the history of crop production the land used for agriculture the cropping systems and the future trends comes the knowledge in depth The grain and cereal the edible been plants the vegetables and plants for edible starch oil sugar and beverage production the fruits and nuts the fiber forage and industrial crops Each subject contains glossary and bibliography for better and deeper understanding At each important plant the history the production technology the importance of the crop in nutrition of growing population the feeding value some short case stories and the future trends are discussed When considering plant foods in relation to human health it should be remembered that plant foods may also have health value in addition to their nutritional value It would seem possible to modify the composition of plant foods as to improve human health In developing countries poverty leads to food shortage and under nutrition and many populations survive largely on plant based diets In industrialized countries relative affluence leads to over consumption of food and especially to over consumption of animal foods at the expense of plant foods These two volumes cultivated plants primarily as food sources help to get more detailed knowledge to overcome the mentioned problem of the World These volumes are aimed at the following five major target audiences University and College Students Educators Professional Practitioners Research Personnel and Policy Analysts Managers and Decision Makers NGOs and GOs

Science and Civilisation in China, Part 9, Textile Technology: Spinning and Reeling Joseph Needham,Dieter Kuhn,1988-06-09 This study the first of two parts gives a comprehensive account of Chinese textiles and textile technology and deals with the evolution of bast fibre spinning and silk reeling in the history of China These operations are the basic techniques in the production of yarn and thread pre requisite to weaving and any study of Chinese textile technology must start with the raw material obtained from fibre plants such as hemp ramie jute cotton etc and silk reeled off from cocoons of the domestic silkworm The time span covered runs from the neolithic to the nineteenth century Archaeological and pictorial evidence the bulk of it hitherto unpublished in the West is brought together with Chinese textual sources which are extensively translated and interpreted to illustrate Chinese achievements in this field Professor Kuhn's study reveals the way in which Chinese textile technological inventiveness has influenced textile production in other regions of the world and in medieval Europe It explains how textile technology reached its high point between the tenth and thirteenth centuries and attempts to indicate the reasons for its subsequent relative decline The development of the textile industry in Europe was a key factor in the rise of capitalism In the case of China after Sung times textile technology and the organisation of textile labour may help indicate why such a development did not take place in China

Application of Vegetation Science to Grassland Husbandry W. Krause, 2013-11-11 WERNER KRAUSE INTRODUCTION GENERAL COMMENTS ON THIS VOLUME The subject Application of vegetation science to grassland husbandry is not limited by geographical boundaries It is proposed to cover this subject in an internationally applicable work of reference However to avoid omissions it would have to embrace all the diversity of grassland from the Arctic to the Equator The term application requires that the papers contained herein take into account both generally relevant scientific knowledge and the special needs of practical farming The latter are not satisfied solely by the laws of vegetation science the changing effects of the market politics the distribution of wealth and poverty highly developed technology and the continued use of archaic farming methods must all be considered To try to cover all this adequately in one volume of approximately 550 pages is a hopeless task The editor and the authors had to limit themselves to presenting a selection of problems and attempts to solve them with the aim that these examples should indicate how much vegetation science can contribute to grassland husbandry and the scope of this contribution is broadened by the references quoted The arrangement of the sections within this volume does not lend itself to specific suggestions for the management of individual systems However grassland husbandry can expect to obtain from this work an insight into some overall general relationships which could assist the adviser in the formulation of more specific improvement plans

Change Detection - fernerkundungsgestützte Methoden zur Ableitung des Landnutzungswandels in den Tropen Randy Thomsen, 2005-01-17 In der Dominikanischen Republik hat die Knappheit an kultivierbarem und fruchtbarem Land in tieferen Lagen ein Vordringen des landwirtschaftlichen Anbaus in die ökologisch labileren Gebirgsregionen mit besonders erosions- und degradationsgefährdeten Böden nach sich gezogen Gerade auf diesen marginalen Standorten wird der nachhaltige Umgang mit den natürlichen Ressourcen mittel- und langfristig überlebensnotwendig und somit entscheidend für die Zukunft unserer Wirtschaftens sein In der vorliegenden Studie wurde der Landnutzungswandel im oberen Einzugsgebiet des Río Yaque del Norte exemplarisch für eine Gebirgsregion in den Tropen analysiert Auf Grundlage multitemporaler Satellitenbilder wurde unter Einbezug von Luftbildern und Geländedaten

Müller, 2012-12-06 Zoogeography aims to explain the structure function and history of the geographical ranges of animals The absence or presence of a species in a given place has ecological as well as historical causes It is therefore a mistake to suppose that reconstructing the phylogenetic connections of a taxon will by itself give a definite picture of how its range originated A purely ecological interpretation of the range could be equally misleading if it did not take into account the population genetic structure underlying the geographical range Phylogenetic systematics population genetics autecology and synecology have all their own methods none of which can be substituted for another without which a range cannot be studied or interpreted The present book covers only certain aspects of the wide field of zoogeography These are in the form in which they were crystallised in the course of innumerable discussions with my teachers my colleagues at home and abroad and my fellow workers postgraduates and students at Saarbrücken as well as in the zoogeographical part of my basic lectures on biogeography for the year 1973 1974 The chief emphasis is laid on the genetic and ecological macro structure of the biosphere as an arena for range structures and range dynamics on urban ecosystems which have hitherto been grossly neglected and on the most recent history of ranges the dispersal centre concept The marine and fresh water biocycles on the other hand have been dealt only briefly Beiträge zur tropischen Landwirtschaft und Veterinärmedizin, 1985
