Literary Concord Uncovered Joseph L. Andrews,2014 Charles Edward Ives and His Piano Sonata No. 2 "Concord, Mass. 1840-1860" Alice S. Reed,2005 Charles Ives greatest music teacher was his father His father was Danbury s musical leader teaching any musical instrument needed He was the Civil War band leader and carried out experiments in sound for example sounds made when three or four bands played together in different keys His son Charles Edward tried to do those sounds in multiple keys no one could play the music It was terribly hard Those who tried it gave up They called him a crackpot or an untrained musician and made fun of him At Yale he was told to follow the rules His instructor disapproved of his music so Ives performed one way in school and followed his own muse at home When he finished at Yale he had decided that he could not make a living with his music He got a job at an insurance company for five dollars a week Soon he and a friend went into partnership and made a good living in the insurance business He kept writing at night and storing it in his barn Ives dual life as a composer and business man led to a physical breakdown in 1918 which left him with permanent cardiac damage During his long convalescence he went through his music and had it published and sent to anyone he thought might be interested It was not to be copyrighted and anyone who wanted a copy was to have one Slowly a few people learned to play parts of it In 1939 John Kirkpatrick learned and played the Concord Sonata People liked it and he repeated it Ives music began to be heard and liked so much so that by the time of his death in 1954 he had become an almost legendary figure Ives way of musical notation resulted in his being called the first American to write 20th Century music Makers and Finders Van Wyck Brooks,Otto L.. Bettmann,1970 Dictionary of American Library Biography Donald G. Davis,2003-01-30 This second supplement to DALB the Dictionary of American Library Biography 1978 adds 77 notable deceased members of the library and archival communities to the 302 entries in the main volume and the 51 entries in the first supplement 1990 The second supplement includes primarily those figures who died between 1987 and the end of the year 2000 though some 13 entries provide sketches for notable persons whose death dates are somewhat earlier and who were not included in earlier works Among the entries are a number of African Americans and nearly one half of the entries are women Some 80 contributors from the United States and Canada provided sketches many based on original source material This supplement follows the practice and format of the earlier volumes though it allows presidents of the American Library Association to compete for inclusion with other nominations *Albertus C.
