Picturesque Tectonic Romantic:

Picturesque, Tectonic, Romantic Trevor Boddy, Helliwell + Smith, Blue Sky Architecture, 1999 Details of the house designs by Blue Sky Architecture Planning Inc based in Vancouver Canada Beach Houses of Australia and New Zealand Stephen Crafti, 2000 The beach houses featured in this book are as diverse as the architects and the climates around both of these countries Solar Architecture in Cool Climates Colin Porteous, 2012-04-27 A must read for practitioners teachers and others interested in or working with energy use in the built environment including a delightful set of examples Ann Grete Hestnes former President of the International Solar Energy Society Solar Architecture in Cool Climates is an invaluable primer on low energy building design combining accessible information with convincing arguments enabling new techniques to be implemented in daily practice Approaching the topic in a thematic manner the book provides inspiration an understanding of key principles and technical data on the design of solar buildings in higher latitudes The text is enlivened through direct experience of case studies from Europe and North America dealing with new build retrofitting and conceptual projects that outline future potential the principles being equally applicable to equivalent southern latitude locations The authors examine the dilution of additional costs through different strategies the tensions between energy efficiency and environmental quality and the proactive control of energy in building design Promoting flexibility and opportunity to a diverse audience including those who use procure and finance buildings the book aims to bring the design of green solar buildings in cool climates from special interest status into the mainstream Broader environmental issues relating to solar architecture are addressed in the final chapter again drawing on case studies from the authors own wide experience Solar Architecture in Cool Climates is written for architects and other building designers students of architecture and other professionals interested in sustainable architecture renewable energy and engineering Pure Form Ivan Rijavec, 2000 Ivan Rijavec is an Australian architect based in Melbourne who continues to produce work that astounds both his peers and the wider community Though commentators find it difficult to categorise and explain his work images are the most reliable source with which to describe it are only a few of the terms that have been used to describe the work of this remarkable architect Rijavec likens the design process to a movie I see my work as a strip of film that keeps changing in the viewers mind The appearance changes according to one's vantage point giving inner life to the structure If only all movies were this good

Blue Sky Living Trevor Boddy, The Images Publishing Group, 2013 Blue Sky was born out of the ferment of the late 1960s and early 1970s but it has proved to have much more talent tenacity and imagination than most other idealistic initiatives from that time Blue Sky Romantic Naturalists, Early Environmentalists Dewey W. Hall, 2016-04-08 In his study of Romantic naturalists and early environmentalists Dewey W Hall asserts that William Wordsworth and Ralph Waldo Emerson were transatlantic literary figures who were both influenced by the English naturalist Gilbert White In Part 1 Hall examines evidence that as Romantic naturalists interested in meteorology Wordsworth and Emerson engaged in proto environmental activity that drew attention to the potential consequences of the locomotive's incursion into Windermere and Concord In Part 2 Hall suggests that Wordsworth and Emerson shaped the early environmental movement through their work as poets turned naturalists arguing that Wordsworth influenced Octavia Hill's contribution to the founding of the United Kingdom's National Trust in 1895 while Emerson inspired John Muir to spearhead the United States National Parks movement in 1890 Hall's book traces the connection from White as a naturalist turned poet to Muir as the quintessential early environmental activist who camped in Yosemite with President Theodore Roosevelt Throughout Hall raises concerns about the growth of industrialization to make a persuasive case for literature's importance to the rise of environmentalism

Studies in Tectonic Culture Kenneth Frampton, 2001-08-24 Composed of ten essays and an epilogue that trace the history of contemporary form as an evolving poetic of structure and construction the book's analytical framework rests on Frampton's close readings of key French and German and English sources from the eighteenth century to the present Kenneth Frampton's long awaited follow up to his classic A Critical History of Modern Architecture is certain to influence any future debate on the evolution of modern architecture Studies in Tectonic Culture is nothing less than a rethinking of the entire modern architectural tradition The notion of tectonics as employed by Frampton the focus on architecture as a constructional craft constitutes a direct challenge to current mainstream thinking on the artistic limits of postmodernism and suggests a convincing alternative Indeed Frampton argues modern architecture is invariably as much about structure and construction as it is about space and abstract form Composed of ten essays and an epilogue that trace the history of contemporary form as an evolving poetic of structure and construction the book's analytical framework rests on Frampton's close readings of key French and German and English sources from the eighteenth century to the present He clarifies the various turns that structural engineering and tectonic imagination have taken in the work of such architects as Perret Wright Kahn Scarpa and Mies and shows how both constructional form and material character were integral to an evolving architectural expression of their work Frampton also demonstrates that the way in which these elements are articulated from one work to the next provides a basis upon which to evaluate the works as a whole This is especially evident in his consideration of the work of Perret Mies and Kahn and the continuities in their thought and attitudes that linked them to the past Frampton considers the conscious cultivation of the tectonic tradition in architecture as an essential element in the future development of architectural form casting a critical new light on the entire issue of modernity and on the place of much work that has passed as avant garde A copublication of the Graham Foundation for Advanced Studies and The MIT Press Fine Homebuilding, 2000 Residential Spaces of the World Images Pub, 2000 This publication brings together the most talented architects and designers worldwide to showcase both contemporary and inspirational trends in residential interiors illustrating living leisure kitchen dining bathroom bedroom and courtyard spaces Biographies of participating firms are given Bibliographic Guide to Art and Architecture New York Public Library. Art and Architecture Division, 2001
