Reasons For The Fear Of Death:

Reasons and the Fear of Death R. E. Ewin, 2002 Philosophers have argued back and forth about whether the fear of death can be justified by arguments of rationality Ewin philosophy U of Western Australia suggests that both sides have gotten the question wrong Fear of death he suggests is prerational underlying all of the concepts with which we reason Rather than reifying Reason we should see reasons as emerging from a complex of emotion cognition and other aspects of being human that emerged from our evolutionary history In approaching reason and death in this way we can shed new light on the moral judgements on euthanasia and related questions Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR

Personality: A Topical Approach Robert B. Ewen, 2013-02-01 Many texts attempt to bridge theory and research They include one or two pages dealing with important theorists Jung Adler Freud et al inserted into chapters focused on academic studies In most cases the discussion fails to do justice to the theorists and the relationship between the ideas and the empirical work is often tenuous at best This book takes a different approach An alternative to Ewen's An Introduction to Theories of Personality this book features a chapter on each major type of theory followed by a separate chapter reviewing the relevant research controversies and emerging findings Although it incorporates material from the previous text there are substantial differences Personality A Topical Approach devotes more attention to psychological research and considerably less attention to the more minor and abstruse aspects of various theories Chapters are devoted to the following theories psychoanalytically oriented trait cognitive self humanistic and behaviorism While the book emphasizes major research foci the Big Five personality factors self efficacy self esteem and more it also includes a chapter on research

The Limits of Reason in Hobbes's Commonwealth Michael P. Krom, 2011-10-06

The Limits of Reason in Hobbes's Commonwealth explores Hobbes's attempt to construct a political philosophy of enduring peace on the foundation of the rational individual Hobbes's rational individual motivated by self preservation obeys the laws of the commonwealth and thus is conceived as the model citizen Yet Hobbes intimates that there are limits to what such an actor will do for peace and that the glory seeker too rarely found to be presumed on is capable of a generosity that is necessary for political longevity Michael P Krom identifies this as a fundamental contradiction in Hobbes's system he builds the commonwealth on the rational actor yet acknowledges the need for the irrational glory seeker Krom argues that Hobbes's attempt to establish a king of the proud fails to overcome the limits of reason and the precariousness of politics This book synthesizes recent work on Hobbes's understanding of glory and
