Rebirth Of A Realist:

Corruption and Realism in Late Socialist China Jeffrey Kinkley, 2006-10-26 As China's centrally planned economy and welfare state have given way to a more loosely controlled version of late socialism public concern about economic reform's downside has found expression in epic novels about official corruption and its effects While the media shied away from dealing with these issues novelists stepped in to fill the void Anti corruption fiction exploded onto the marketplace and into public consciousness spawning popular films and television series until a clampdown after 2002 that ended China's first substantial realist fiction since the 1989 Beijing massacre With frankness and imagination seldom allowed journalists novelists have depicted the death of China's rust belt industries the gap between rich and poor social unrest i.e. riots and the questionable new practices of entrenched communist party rulers Corruption and Realism examines this rebirth of the Chinese political novel and its media adaptations explaining how the works reflect contemporary Chinese life and how they embody Chinese traditions of social criticism literary realism and contemplation of taboo subjects This is the first book to investigate such novels and includes excerpts from personal interviews with China's three most famous anticorruption novelists of animals plants and landscapes By exploring how these problems appear in the fiction of the period Alexander Phillips's book situates the literature in a longer genealogy of environmentalism and ecological aesthetics beyond Germany That genealogy includes the early twentieth century Nature Fakers debate in the United States twentieth century nature writing and contemporary ecocritical theory      Political Realism in Apocalyptic Times Alison McQueen,2018 From climate change to nuclear war to the rise of demagogic populists our world is shaped by doomsday expectations In this path breaking book Alison McQueen shows why three of history's greatest political realists feared apocalyptic politics Niccol Machiavelli in the midst of Italy's vicious power struggles Thomas Hobbes during England's bloody civil war and Hans Morgenthau at the dawn of the thermonuclear age all saw the temptation to prophesy the end of days Each engaged in subtle and surprising strategies to oppose apocalypticism from using its own rhetoric to neutralize its worst effects to insisting on a clear eyed tragic acceptance of the human condition Scholarly yet accessible this book is at once an ambitious contribution to the history of political thought and a work that speaks to our times      Realism Arthur Sydney McDowall,1918      Christian Fiction and Religious Realism in the Novels of Dostoevsky Wil van den Bercken,2011-01-01 This study offers a literary analysis and theological evaluation of the Christian themes in the five great novels of Dostoevsky Crime and Punishment The Idiot The Adolescent The Devils and The Brothers Karamazov Dostoevsky's ambiguous treatment of religious issues in his literary works strongly differs from the slavophile Orthodoxy of his journalistic writings In the novels Dostoevsky deals with Christian basic values which are presented via a unique tension between the fictionality of the Christian characters and the readers experience of the existential reality of their religious problems      A History of Buddhist Philosophy David J. Kalupahana,1992-03-01 David J Kalupahana's Buddhist Philosophy A Historical Analysis has since its original publication in 1976 offered an unequalled introduction to the philosophical principles and historical development of Buddhism Now representing the culmination of Dr Kalupahana's thirty years of scholarly research and reflection A History of Buddhist Philosophy builds upon and surpasses that earlier work providing a completely reconstructed detailed analysis of both early and later Buddhism      Consumer Culture Reborn Martyn J. Lee,2003-09-02 Consumer Culture Reborn focuses on consumption as the point at which economy and culture combine The book draws the often polarised discourses of political economy and cultural studies closer together in a historical context as a means of understanding our social situations as we approach the end of the millenium Taking as its central theme the ability of the capitalist mode of production to transform the material and social world which sustains it the book focuses on some of the ways in which this transformational impulse has altered the means by which ordinary people reproduce their life and their patterns of life Neither a history book nor simply a book of theory Consumer Culture Reborn fuses elements of economic social and cultural theory in an historical perspective      Realism's Others Eva Aldea,Geoffrey Baker,2010-07-12 For at least a century scholarship on realist narrative and occasional polemics against realist narrative have assumed that realism promotes the values of sameness against those of otherness and that it does so by use of a narrative mode that excludes certain epistemologies ideologies and ways of thinking However the truth is more complex than that as the essays in this volume all demonstrate Realism s Others examines the various strategies by which realist narratives create the idea of difference whether that difference is registered in terms of class ethnicity epistemology nationality or gender The authors in this collection examine in detail not just the fact of otherness in some canonical realist and canonical magical realist and postmodern novels but the actual means by which that otherness is established by the text These essays suggest that neither realist narrative nor narratives positioned as anti realist take otherness for granted rather the texts discussed here actively create difference and this creation of difference often occasions severe difficulties for the novels representational schema How does one represent different types of knowledge other aesthetic modes or other spaces for example in texts whose epistemology has long been seen as secular and empirical whose aesthetic mode has always been approached as pure descriptive mimesis and whose settings are largely domestic These essays all begin with a certain collision of nationalities of classes of representational matrices of religions and go on to chart the challenges that this collision presents to our ideas or stereotypes of realism or to the possibilities of writing against and beyond realism This question motivates examination of key realist or social realist texts in some of these essays by Honor de Balzac George Eliot Franz Grillparzer Theodor Storm Gottfried Keller Theodor Fontane Wilhelm Raabe Mar a Amparo Ruiz de Burton Henry James William Dean Howells Charles Chesnutt Theodore Dreiser H T Tsiang Alan Sillitoe and Richard Yates However it is no less central a question in certain non realist texts which engage realist aims to a surprising degree often to debate them openly some of these essays discuss in this light fantastic magical realist and postmodern works by Abram Tertz Paul Auster Alejo Carpentier Toni Morrison Gabriel Garc a M rquez Salman Rushdie and A S Byatt Realism becomes more than an aesthetic aim or narrative mode It becomes rather a value evoked and discussed by all of the works analyzed here in order to reveal its impact on fiction s treatment of ethnicity nationality ideology space gender and social class

Stephen H. Phillips,1998-01-01 Our knowledge of the most ancient times in India rests mainly on tradition The Puranas the Mahabharata and in a minor degree of Ramayana profess to give accounts from tradition about the earliest occurrences The Rgveda contains historical allusions of which some record contemporary persons and events but more refer to bygone times and persons and are obviously based on tradition Almost all the information therefore comes from tradition The results obtained from an examination of Puranic and epic tradition as well as of the Rgveda and Vedic literature are set forth in the present book which happens to be a pioneering work in the area by an important orientalist of the nineteenth century

Reckson, 2020-01-28 Honorable Mention Barnard Hewitt Award from the American Society for Theater Research Explores the intersection and history of American literary realism and the performance of spiritual and racial embodiment Recovering a series of ecstatic performances in late nineteenth and early twentieth century American realism Realist Ecstasy travels from camp meetings to Native American ghost dances to storefront church revivals to explore realism's relationship to spiritual experience In her approach to realism as both an unruly archive of performance and a wide ranging repertoire of media practices including literature photography audio recording and early film Lindsay V Reckson argues that the real was repetitively enacted and reenacted through bodily practice Realist Ecstasy demonstrates how the realist imagining of possessed bodies helped construct and naturalize racial difference while excavating the complex shifting and dynamic possibilities embedded in ecstatic performance its production of new and immanent forms of being beside Across her readings of Stephen Crane James Weldon Johnson and Nella Larsen among others Reckson triangulates secularism realism and racial formation in the post Reconstruction moment Realist Ecstasy shows how post Reconstruction realist texts mobilized gestures especially the gestures associated with religious ecstasy to racialize secularism itself Reckson offers us a distinctly new vision of American realism as a performative practice a sustained account of how performance lives in and through literary archives and a rich sense of how closely secularization and racialization were linked in Jim Crow America
