Rebuilding Communities in an Age of Individualism Paul Hopper, 2016-10-31 As modern societies become increasingly individualistic this fascinating book examines how we can maintain and revive local communities and community life It demonstrates how the major developments and processes of our time notably globalization post industrialism and de traditionalization contribute to this individualism to the detriment of community life The author examines how community is a necessary and important component of human life and discusses possible ways in which to arrest its decline In this regard strategies geared to fostering trust and social capital are outlined as the basis for reinvigorating community life The volume provides a coherent and distinct analysis of community as well as offering concrete policy prescriptions to counter the excessive individualism of our times In both the nature and scope of its analysis it offers a unique contribution to an extremely important issue in the contemporary period one that increasingly preoccupies politicians academics and ordinary citizens

Something Greater Jeanne Choy Tate,2013-05-21 Every day Americans rub shoulders with the cultures of the world on the sidewalks of their cities and increasingly in small towns and rural areas As civil discourse becomes increasingly divisive many long for our nation to better deal with its diversity Yet Americans also wonder how far the nation can stretch to embrace diversity and still maintain an identity Ethnic and faith communities Americans of many varieties share a fear of losing their traditions Will the next generation still honor the values of caring for others and contributing to community life The psychology of individualism that underlies American life is no longer adequate to guide a future filled with diversity America s children may have wings to soar into the future but they lack roots connecting them to a shared heritage Something Greater explores the impact of individualism on American child rearing practices and its inability to deal with diversity while sustaining life together in families and communities By contrasting the intergenerational values of biblical and Chinese communities and current infant research with her own experiences in San Francisco's Chinatown the author reveals how the living stories of heritage that lie at the heart of human development speak to a deep American hunger for shared values and connectedness in family and community
