Recent Social Trends in West Germany, 1960-1990 Wolfgang Glatzer, International Research Group on the Comparative Charting of Social Change in Advanced Industrial Societies, 1992 The third volume in the invaluable reference series Comparative Charting of Social Change examines social trends in West Germany during the period between 1960 and 1990 This was a special phase of German history the Federal Republic of Germany was founded in 1949 and by 1960 the main disturbances of the Second World War had been overcome The next thirty years saw relatively stable development in democratic institutions economic wealth and the welfare state This process however was not entirely without difficulties Environmental conditions deteriorated and unemployment grew especially in the 1980s A new reunified Germany replaced the old FRG in 1990 ushering in a fundamentally different social structure Recent Social Trends in Greece, 1960-2000 L. Maratou-Alimprantē, Andromachi Hadjiyanni, 2004 An overview of the socio economic profile of Greece during 1960 1995

Multicultural Variations Lance W. Roberts, Barry Ferguson, Mathias Bös, 2013-02-01 Contrary to mid twentieth century predictions ethnic pluralism has increased dramatically in North America and significantly in Europe Neither the post 9 11 emphasis on international border security nor anti immigration and anti multiculturalism movements have affected the fifty year trend of increasing labour mobility and sustained levels of migration The ethnic pluralism accompanying this powerful trend has fueled academic research and public debate Contributors report on and develop a conceptualization of ethnic social incorporation and multiculturalism in Canada the United States Germany Greece Bulgaria and Italy This group of countries displays a remarkable variety of both ethnic diversity and public policy responses to ethnic social incorporation over the past four decades It includes two countries Canada and the United States built upon very large scale immigration over the course of more than a century two countries Greece and Italy which until recently were characterized by large scale emigration but now are grappling with immigration one country Bulgaria that was until the 1990s insulated from extensive migration and faces a demographic slump and one Germany that has experimented with isolating temporary populations but is now addressing the responsibilities of permanent immigration Multicultural Variations includes national reports describing each of the six countries under investigation and is book ended by introductory and concluding chapters that present a new understanding of and synthesis on multiculturalism that is distinct from either enthusiastic support or ideological critiques Contributors include Mathias B s Philipps Universität Marburg Germany Antonio Chiesi Università degli Studi di Milano Italy Jason Edgerton University of Manitoba Canada Barry Ferguson University of Manitoba Canada Nikolai Genov Freie Universität Berlin Germany Louis Hicks St Mary's College of Maryland USA Paul Kingston University of Virginia USA Laura Maratou Alipranti National Centre for Social Research Athens Greece Lance W Roberts University of Manitoba Canada Sonia Stefanizzi Università degli Studi di Milano Bicocca Italy and Susanne von Below Johann Wolfgang Goethe Universität Frankfurt Germany Recent Social Trends in West Germany, 1960-1990 Wolfgang Glatzer, Karl Otto Hondrich, 1992-08-21 The thirty year period examined was characterized in West Germany by a number of inconsistent trends While income and consumption levels increased as part of a silent revolution poverty also increased especially during the 1980s People s lifestyles changed with less time spent on formal employment and more on household production and recreation Individualization and pluralization began to dissolve the class structure and social movements such as feminism and environmentalism gained some influence Although hostility toward foreigners did not disappear de facto immigrants were increasingly integrated into society Satisfaction with life reached a generally high and stable level although some people expressed an unanticipated degree of boredom The legitimacy of the political system was not affected by conflicts about income distribution and changing values and cooperation grew among government business and traditional and emerging intermediate groups Special chapters have been authored by Johann Behrens Mathias B s Bernhard Engel Renate Hornung Draus Heiner Meulemann Claudia Koch Arzberger J rgen Kohl Jakob Schissler J rgen Schumacher and Karin Seibel

Leviathan Transformed Theodore Caplow, 2002-01-16 The authors using these goals as a checklist found that each of the seven states performs well in some areas and badly in others They discovered that all states approached these goals in a style shaped by their own history and in particular by how they have been affected by the troubles of the twentieth century Their investigations offer a new informative way of looking at these nation states and detail the social and political conditions in each state Contributors include Theodore Caplow Salustiano Del Campo Royal Academy of Political and Social Science Madrid Nikolai Genov Bulgaria Academy of Sciences Karl Otto Hondrich Goethe University Simon Langlois Universit de Laval Alberto Martinelli University of Milan and Henri Mendras OFCE Paris Changing Structures of Inequality Yannick Lemel, Heinz-Herbert Noll, 2002 The international sociological community has engaged recently in a controversial discussion on social inequality There is a vigorous debate on whether the traditional concepts of social class and social stratification are still useful Some researchers argue that social classes still offer a key explanation to social inequalities while others challenge the long standing tradition of class analysis New approaches have been proposed to describe recent social changes in the stratification system vanishing middle class two thirds societies cosmographic inequality and classless society among others Values and Attitudes across Nations and Time Masamichi Sasaki, 2021-11-15 Values and Attitudes across Nations and Time contributes to an ever growing body of work focussing on the elucidation of variations in values and attitudes throughout the world not only what they actually are but also strategies for their detection description and classification Researchers in the field seek to identify both similarities and differences In this work quantitative and qualitative views and methods are explored by nine well known authors Masamichi Sasaki current President of the International Institute of Sociology Theodore Caplow of the University of Virginia Mattei Dogan of the National Center of Scientific Research Paris S N Eisenstadt of the Hebrew University of Jerusalem Chikio Hayashi of the Institute of Statistical Mathematics Tokyo Geert Hofstede of the University of Limburg at Maastricht in The Netherlands Alex Inkeles of Stanford University P Herbert

Leiderman of the Stanford University Medical School Robert M Marsh of Brown University and Carmi Schooler of the National Institute of Mental Health Bethesda USA      Counterpreservation Daniela Sandler, 2016-12-15 In Berlin decrepit structures do not always denote urban blight Decayed buildings are incorporated into everyday life as residences exhibition spaces shops offices and as leisure space As nodes of public dialogue they serve as platforms for dissenting views about the future and past of Berlin In this book Daniela Sandler introduces the concept of counterpreservation as a way to understand this intentional appropriation of decrepitude The embrace of decay is a sign of Berlin's iconoclastic rebelliousness but it has also been incorporated into the mainstream economy of tourism and development as part of the city's countercultural cachet Sandler presents the possibilities and shortcomings of counterpreservation as a dynamic force in Berlin and as a potential concept for other cities Counterpreservation is part of Berlin's fabric in the city's famed Hausprojekte living projects such as the K pi Tuntenhaus and KA 86 in cultural centers such as the Haus Schwarzenberg the Schokoladen and the legendary now defunct Tacheles in memorials and museums and even in commerce and residences The appropriation of ruins is a way of carving out affordable spaces for housing work and cultural activities It is also a visual statement against gentrification and a complex representation of history with the marks of different periods the nineteenth century World War II postwar division unification on display for all to see Counterpreservation exemplifies an everyday urbanism in which citizens shape private and public spaces with their own hands but it also influences more formal designs such as the Topography of Terror the Berlin Wall Memorial and Daniel Libeskind's unbuilt redevelopment proposal for a site peppered with ruins of Nazi barracks By featuring these examples Sandler questions conventional notions of architectural authorship and points toward the value of participatory environments      Teaching the American Civil Rights Movement Julie Buckner Armstrong, Susan Hult Edwards, Houston Bryan Roberson, Rhonda Y. Williams, 2012-11-12 The past fifteen years have seen renewed interest in the civil rights movement Television documentaries films and books have brought the struggles into our homes and classrooms once again New evidence in older criminal cases demands that the judicial system reconsider the accuracy of investigations and legal decisions Racial profiling affirmative action voting districting and school voucher programs keep civil rights on the front burner in the political arena In light of this there are very few resources for teaching the civil rights at the university level This timely and invaluable book fills this gap This book offers perspectives on presenting the movement in different classroom contexts strategies to make the movement come alive for students and issues highlighting topics that students will find appealing Including sample syllabi and detailed descriptions from courses that prove effective this work will be useful for all instructors both college and upper level high school for courses in history education race sociology literature and political science      Canadian Family Policies Maureen Baker, 1995-01-01 With poverty unemployment and one parent families on the rise in most Western democracies government assistance presents an increasingly urgent and complex problem This is the first study to explore Canada's family policies in an international context Maureen Baker looks at the successes and failures of social programs in other countries in search of solutions that might work in Canada Baker has chosen seven industrialized countries for her comparative study Australia France Germany The Netherlands Sweden the United Kingdom and the United States These countries experience social and economic strains similar to those felt in Canada and though they share certain policy solutions major differences in policy remain Baker considers which of the policies in these countries are most effective in reducing poverty enhancing family life and improving the status of women then applies her findings to the Canadian situation Bringing together research and statistics from the fields of demography political science economics sociology women s studies and social policy this rich multidisciplinary study provides a unique resource for anyone interested in Canadian family policy

Women in Executive Power Gretchen Bauer,Manon

Tremblay,2011-03-10 Women in Executive Power studies the participation of women in the political executive around the world notably in cabinet positions as ministers and sub ministers and as heads of government and state Providing multiple case studies in each chapter the book provides regional overviews of nine different world regions covering those with the fewest to the most women in executive power Evaluating the role of socio cultural economic and political variables of women s access to cabinet positions and positions of head of state and government the book shows that women are increasingly moving into positions previously considered male Tracing the historical trends of women s participation in governments that has markedly increased in the last two decades the book assesses the factors that have contributed to women s increasing presence in executives and the extent to which women executives once in office represent women s interests With case studies from Europe the Americas Asia Africa the Arab world and Oceania Women in Executive Power will be of interest to scholars of comparative politics gender and women s studies

Crime, Risk and Insecurity Tim Hope,Richard

Sparks,2012-11-12 This book presents new empirical and conceptual work on the questions of fear anxiety risk and trust both as problems of everyday living and as key themes in the culture and politics of contemporary Western societies The volume includes contributions from distinguished social researchers from Britain the United States Germany and Italy and will be of interest to academics and students in the areas of criminology and sociology

Imagined Homes Hans Werner,2012-10-18

Imagined Homes Soviet German Immigrants in Two Cities is a study of the social and cultural integration of two migrations of German speakers from Eastern Europe and the Soviet Union to Winnipeg Canada in the late 1940s and Bielefeld Germany in the 1970s Employing a cross national comparative framework Hans Werner reveals that the imagined trajectory of immigrant lives influenced the process of integration into a new urban environment Winnipeg s migrants chose a receiving society where they knew they would again be a minority group in a foreign country while Bielefeld s newcomers believed they were going home and were unprepared for the conflict between their imagined homeland and the realities of post war Germany Werner also shows that differences in the way the two receiving societies perceived immigrants and the degree to which secularization and the sexual and media revolutions influenced these perceptions in the two cities were crucially important in the immigrant experience      Gaming the Iron Curtain Jaroslav Svelch, 2023-09-19 How amateur programmers in 1980s Czechoslovakia discovered games as a medium using them not only for entertainment but also as a means of self expression Aside from the exceptional history of Tetris very little is known about gaming culture behind the Iron Curtain But despite the scarcity of home computers and the absence of hardware and software markets Czechoslovakia hosted a remarkably active DIY microcomputer scene in the 1980s producing more than two hundred games that were by turns creative inventive and politically subversive In Gaming the Iron Curtain Jaroslav Svelch offers the first social history of gaming and game design in 1980s Czechoslovakia and the first book length treatment of computer gaming in any country of the Soviet bloc Svelch describes how amateur programmers in 1980s Czechoslovakia discovered games as a medium using them not only for entertainment but also as a means of self expression Sheltered in state supported computer clubs local programmers fashioned games into a medium of expression that unlike television or the press was neither regulated nor censored In the final years of Communist rule Czechoslovak programmers were among the first in the world to make activist games about current political events anticipating trends observed decades later in independent or experimental titles Drawing from extensive interviews as well as political economic and social history Gaming the Iron Curtain tells a compelling tale of gaming the system introducing us to individuals who used their ingenuity to be active be creative and be heard

The Handbook of Community Practice Marie Weil, Michael S. Reisch, Mary L. Ohmer, 2013 Written by some of the most influential scholars in the field this Handbook covers community development organizing planning and social change as well as key issues fields of practice and global approaches      Martin Kippenberger Chris Reitz, 2023-06-06 An illuminating study of the work of artist Martin Kippenberger whose art expressed the enthusiasms and frustrations of the West German middle class Martin Kippenberger Everything Is Everywhere is the first scholarly monograph in English on West German artist Martin Kippenberger 1953 1997 one of the most prominent German artists of the 1980s In this book Chris Reitz shows that the condition of Kippenberger's art was an endless enthusiastic searching constrained by the impossibility of fulfillment A child during West Germany's Wirtschaftswunder the economic miracle of the 1950s and 1960s and a young adult during the economic recession and political tumult of the 1970s Kippenberger belonged to the first truly postwar generation But largely uninterested in the legacy of National Socialism that had occupied his predecessors Kippenberger instead pursued a hyperproductive artistic practice that reflected the dreams and fears of the ascendent 1980s West German middle class Kippenberger's ambitions took him everywhere he founded a museum in Greece invested in a fashion business and a restaurant and even bought a gas station in Brazil He made art in a dizzying range of genres from paintings to poetry from posters to stickers He made art out of his appetites too producing art on the theme of his own alcoholism Intensely entrepreneurial Kippenberger carried out an artistic practice in which his diverse endeavors and the people who joined him in them were all connected in a sprawling network Reitz deftly presents Kippenberger's career as an allegory of the neoliberal networks of capital technology and culture that spanned Europe and America in the 1980s      Perverse Incentives Theodore Caplow, 1994-08-30 Problems considered include careless design social technology health care public schools welfare criminal justice and compensation of injuries      Borderlines in a Globalized World G. Preyer, Mathias Bös, 2013-11-11 Scholars of different schools have extensively analyzed world systems as networks of communication under the fashionable heading globalization Our collected new research pushes the argument one step further Globalization is not a homogenization of all social life on earth It is a heterogeneous process that connects the global and the local on different levels To understand these contemporary developments this book employs innovative concepts strategies of research and explanations Globalization is a metaphor for different borderstructures new borderlines and conditions of membership which emerge in a global world system As a world system expands it incorporates new territories and new peoples The process of incorporation creates frontiers or boundaries of the world system These frontiers or boundary zones are the locus of resistance to incorporation ethnogenesis ethnic transformation and ethnocide      Convergence Or Divergence? Simon Langlois, Theodore Caplow, Henri Mendras, Wolfgang Glatzer, 1994 A cross national study of social trends in the United States Germany France and Quebec Convergence or Divergence is a revealing exploration of the patterns of social evolution in modernized societies The analyses in this volume are based on the four national profiles already published in the Comparative Charting of Social Change series      Postwar Tony Judt, 2006-09-05 Finalist for the Pulitzer Prize Winner of the Council on Foreign Relations Arthur Ross Book Award One of the New York Times s 100 Best Books of the 21st Century Impressive Mr Judt writes with enormous authority The Wall Street Journal Magisterial It is without a doubt the most comprehensive authoritative and yes readable postwar history The Boston Globe Almost a decade in the making this much anticipated grand history of postwar Europe from one of the world s most esteemed historians and intellectuals is a singular achievement Postwar is the first modern history that covers all of Europe both east and west drawing on research in six languages to sweep readers through thirty four nations and sixty years of political and cultural change all in one integrated enthralling narrative Both intellectually ambitious and compelling to read thrilling in its scope and delightful in its small details Postwar is a rare joy
