Ingrained Habits Mary Ellen O'Donnell,2018-03-09 Born Catholic Raised Catholic Americans across generations have used these phrases to describe their formative days but the experience of growing up Catholic in the United States has changed over the last several decades While the creed and the sacraments remain the same the context for learning the faith has transformed As a result of demographic shifts and theological developments children face a different set of circumstances today from what they encountered during the mid twentieth century Through a close study of autobiographical and fictional texts that depict the experience Ingrained Habits explores the intimate details of everyday life for children growing up Catholic during the 1940s 50s and 60s These literary portrayals present upbringings characterized by an all encompassing encounter with religion The adult authors of such writings run the gamut from vowed priests to unwavering atheists and their depictions range from glowing nostalgia to deep seated resentment however they curiously describe similar experiences from their childhood days in the Church

They grapple with what age and life have taught them, contemplate their experiences, and reflect on where they have arrived. These are writers who get down and dirty, who have looked at themselves as they are and at life as it is, to discover not only what time has taken from them but also the powerful gifts that only come with age and experience. Contributors include Isabel Allende, Maya Angelou, M. F. K. Fisher, China Galland, Vivian Gornick, Germaine Greer, Erica Jong, Audre Lorde, Grace Paley, Alix Kates Shulman, Gloria Steinem, and Terry Tempest Williams.

Our Lady of Everyday Life María Del Socorro Castañeda-Liles, 2018 For Mexican Catholic women in the United States, devotion to Our Lady of Guadalupe, La Virgen, is a necessary aspect of their cultural identity. In this masterful ethnography, María Del Socorro Castañeda-Liles considers three generations of Mexican origin women between the ages of 18 and 82. She examines the Catholic beliefs the women inherited from their mothers and how these beliefs become the template from which they first learn to see themselves as people of faith. She also offers a comprehensive analysis of how Catholicism creates a culture in which Mexican origin women learn how to be good girls in a manner that reduces their agency to rubble. Through the nexus of faith and lived experience, these women develop a type of Mexican Catholic imagination that helps them challenge the sanctification of shame, guilt, and aguanté endurance at all cost. This imagination allows these women to transgress strict notions of what a good Catholic woman should be while retaining life-giving aspects of Catholicism. This transgression is most visible in their relationship to La Virgen, which is a fluid and deeply engaged process of self-awareness in everyday life.

Church and Estate Thomas F. Rzeznik, 2013-06-20 In Church and Estate, Thomas Rzeznik examines the lives and religious commitments of the Philadelphia elite during the period of industrial prosperity that extended from the late nineteenth century through the 1920s. The book demonstrates how their religious beliefs informed their actions and shaped their class identity while simultaneously revealing the ways in which financial influences shaped the character of American religious life. In tracing those connections, it shows how religion and wealth shared a fruitful yet ultimately tenuous relationship

Bad for Us John Portmann, 2004 Why do people do things that are blatantly bad for them Think of the falls from grace of Richard Nixon Gary Hart Rob Lowe Martha Stewart and Kobe Bryant Portmann argues that we are often our own worst enemies and that the hardest kind of suffering to bear is what we inflict upon ourselves This groundbreaking book is a wide ranging exploration of self destructive behavior and self injury It helps us better understand how and why we engineer our own downfalls and why dizzying reversals of fortune often leave a trail that leads back to people who should have known better like Jayson Blair and his blatant plagiarism or Bill Clinton and his affair with Monica Lewinsky After developing an exciting philosophical category raving in which we take leave of our senses and refuse to act according to societal mores Portmann observes that we all occasionally crave the forbidden or the dangerous While raving takes varied forms from streaking nude across a college campus to indulging in unsafe sex it is best described as a temporary vacation from the self Cautioning that our very happiness is at stake Portmann exhorts us to choose wisely This rare book is the North Star for cautious rebels Bad for Us is an engaging book that explores a social and moral paradox Drawing from thinkers ranging from Immanuel Kant to Thomas Sowell to Madonna John Portmann deeply explores a topic all but taboo among modern writers the dual need each of us feels to develop and maintain a sense of self control and to lose it from time to time William N Eskridge Jr author of Gaylaw Challenging the Apartheid of the Closet and John A Garver Professor of Jurisprudence at Yale Law School
