The Insurance Press, 1912 Lean Innovation

Barry L. Cross, 2012-12-03

Do these comments sound familiar? We would love to be more innovative, but we don't have the resources. Innovation works in some companies; we just aren't that creative. We get some good ideas, but nothing ever happens with them. Unfortunately, they reflect the general perception and environment for innovation in many firms today.

In Lean Innovation, Underhill explores the barriers to innovation and offers practical advice on how to overcome them. The book is a must-read for anyone interested in innovation, whether in a business or academic setting.

The Sixth History of Man, John Bershof, MD, 2024-05-16

In the spirit of medieval writer Chaucer, all human activity lies within the artist's scope. The History of Man Series uses medicine as a jumping-off point to explore precisely that: all history, all science, all human activity since the beginning of time. The jumping-off style of writing takes the reader, the listener into worlds unknown, always returning to base only to jump off again.

History of Man are stories and tales of nearly everything. The Sixth History of Man is the last narrative in the History of Man Series that uses infection as the underlying foundation. The series will continue, but use other disease platforms for jumping off. From a human infection perspective, this sixth book will visit with the King of Pop, Michael Jackson, vitiligo and propofol, the famous and infamous sexually transmitted diseases, herpes, gonorrhea, chlamydia, trichomonas, HIV, and the granddaddy of colorful stories, syphilis, with their very entertaining tales, a world of romance, suspense and thrillers. We'll hop from science to art to music, going back in time to the astronomy of the Persians, Syrians, the Greek Aristotle, and on to Ptolemy, Copernicus, and Kepler. Our travels will take us to the Renaissance of art and music, stopping along a few stations such as da Vinci, Michelangelo, Rembrandt, and Monet. A discussion of why and how humans went from spoken language to written language is on our menu. We will pay homage with another visit with the First Viennese School, parse senility, delirium, and dementia, and most assuredly discuss the women who helped build Johns Hopkins Hospital. OK, Boomers, and the sociology of cohort generations will help complete this narrative.

New York Railroad Men, 1906 A Penny Saved... Is Impossible
