

A close-up photograph of a woman's face, focusing on her mouth and nose. She has bright red lipstick and is holding her right index finger to her lips in a 'shushing' gesture. Her hand is positioned in the lower half of the frame, with a gold ring visible on her ring finger. The background is dark and out of focus.

Making Sense of Media and Politics Gadi Wolfsfeld,2011-06-23 Politics is above all a contest and the news media are the central arena for viewing that competition One of the central concerns of political communication has to do with the myriad ways in which politics has an impact on the news media and the equally diverse ways in which the media influences politics Both of these aspects in turn weigh heavily on the effects such political communication has on mass citizens In Making Sense of Media and Politics Gadi Wolfsfeld introduces readers to the most important concepts that serve as a framework for examining the interrelationship of media and politics political power can usually be translated into power over the news media when authorities lose control over the political environment they also lose control over the news there is no such thing as objective journalism nor can there be the media are dedicated more than anything else to telling a good story the most important effects of the news media on citizens tend to be unintentional and unnoticed By identifying these five key principles of political communication the author examines those who package and send political messages those who transform political messages into news and the effect all this has on citizens The result is a brief engaging guide to help make sense of the wider world of media and politics and an essential companion to more in depths studies of the field

Feminists, Feminisms, and Advertising Kim Golombisky,Peggy J. Kreshel,2017-10-16 Women and advertising are both globally ubiquitous Yet advertising remains one of the most unabashedly misogynist heterosexist and racist industries This edited volume of original unpublished chapters is the first ever to offer explicitly feminist views on advertising Feminists Feminisms and Advertising provides feminist analyses of the historical relationships between the advertising industry and the women's movement in the United States Contributors consider the ways that advertisers encode race ethnicity gender and heteronormativity into advertising practices and messages exported around the world They further explore the ways that intersectional audiences such as women of color Latinas and lesbian and gay audiences decode reinterpret resist and subvert advertising With this book the editors and contributors address the present lack of feminist scholarship research knowledge or curriculum in advertising and begin a more honest dialogue about diversity and intersectional gender in the advertising academy as well as the advertising industry

Sexual Discretion Jeffrey Q. McCune, Jr., 2014-03-07 African American men who have sex with men while maintaining a heterosexual lifestyle in public are attracting increasing interest from both the general media and scholars Commonly referred to as down low or DL men many continue to have relationships with girlfriends and wives who remain unaware of their same sex desires and in much of the media DL men have been portrayed as carriers of HIV who spread the virus to black women Sexual Discretion explores the DL phenomenon offering refreshingly innovative analysis of the significance of media space and ideals of black masculinity in understanding down low communities In Sexual Discretion Jeffrey Q McCune Jr provides the first in depth examination of how the social expectations of black masculinity intersect and complicate expressions of same sex affection and desire Within these underground DL communities men aren't as highly policed and thus are able to maintain their public roles as properly masculine McCune draws from sources that range from R and from E Lynn Harris's contemporary sexual passing novels to McCune's own interviews and ethnography in nightclubs and online chat rooms Sexual Discretion details the causes pressures and negotiations driving men who rarely disclose their intimate secrets

Sex, Feminism and Lesbian Desire in Women's Magazines Kate Farhall, 2020-09-14 This book examines evolving pop culture representations of sex and relationships from the 1970s onwards to demonstrate parallels between the strength of the feminist movement and positive portrayals of women's sexuality In charting changes in the sex and relationship content of women's magazines over time this analysis reveals that despite surface level changes in sexual and relationship content the underlying paradigm of hetero monogamy remains unchanged Despite a seemingly more diverse empowered and liberated sexuality for women in contemporary magazines in reality such feminist rhetoric masks an enduring model of sexuality which rests on women's sexual and emotional maintenance of male partners and their own self objectification and self surveillance Where substantive changes can be identified they rise and fall in tandem with feminism By demonstrating this empirical relationship between cultural products and feminist organising the book validates an assumption that has rarely been tested that a feminist social milieu improves cultural narratives about sexuality for women Sex Feminism and Lesbian Desire builds on ground breaking feminist texts such as Susan Faludi's Backlash to present an empirically focused comprehensive study interrogating changes in content over the lifetime of women's magazines By charting the representation of sex and relationships in two women's magazines Cosmopolitan and Cleo since the 1970s through an analysis of over 6 500 magazine pages and 1 500 articles this timely work interrogates and ultimately complicates the apparent linear progression of feminism This book is suitable for researchers and students in women s and gender studies queer studies LGBT studies media studies cultural studies and sociology
