Looking After Din:

Seeking After God Wayne Talbot, 2019-10-08 The author has a fascination with God His belief stems from an earlier study of science and logic concluding that a transcendent infinite entity is the most probable cause of our existence The same study convinced him that God is One and that he should ignore polytheistic religions in his search for understanding A study of the Quran revealed it to be a mixture of Jewish Christian and pagan beliefs and thus unlikely to be an authentic depiction of God A deeper study of Christian history the contradictions and implausible narratives in the New Testament and the Old Testament variances from the earlier Hebrew Scriptures convinced him to walk away from the Christianity of his earlier years All this he has written about in his previously published works Now he had but one choice to understand what Judaism has to say about God For this he sought the opinions of earlier Jewish scholars Maimonides Rabbi Ibn Ezra Hasdai Crescas and others and more modern commentators Hirsch Kook and most especially Rabbi Nathan Lopes Cardozo in the title of whose book Jewish Law in Rebellion he found a kindred spirit echoing his own rebellion against religions in general He considers religions to be too complacent believing that they already know the God Whom the Jews describe as Ein Sof the Infinite and Unknowable God The author contends that cannot truly know God agreeing with Maimonides that we can only describe God in terms of what He is not Thus his search continues believing that God knows the fallibility of the mankind He created and likely prefers that we seek without finding rather than in turn accept vicariously the perceptions of others who have not sought for themselves Indoctrination has its dangers whether in ideology politics or religion

Russian-Muslim Confrontation in the Caucasus Gary Hamburg, Thomas Sanders, Ernest Tucker, 2004-08-02 This book presents two extraordinary texts: The Shining of Swords by Al Qarakhi and a new translation for a contemporary readership of Leo Tolstoy's Hadji Murat, illuminating the mountain war between the Muslim peoples of the Caucasus and the imperial Russian army from 1830 to 1859. The authors offer a complete commentary on the various intellectual and religious contexts that shaped the two texts and explain the historical significance of the Russian-Muslim confrontation. It is shown that the mountain war was a clash of two cultures, two religious outlooks and two different worlds. The book provides an important background for the ongoing contest between Russia and indigenous people for control of the Caucasus.

Corpus Inscriptionum Arabicarum Palaestinae, Volume Two: -B-C- Moshe Sharon, 2021-07-26

Western Palestine is extremely rich in Arabic inscriptions whose dates range from as early as CE 150 until modern times. Most of the inscriptions date from the Islamic period for under Islam the country gained particular religious and strategic importance even though it made up only part of the larger province of Syria. This historical importance is clearly reflected in the hundreds of inscriptions the texts of which cover a variety of topics: construction, dedication, religious endowments, epitaphs, Qur'anic texts, prayers and invocations, all now assembled in the Corpus Inscriptionum Arabicarum Palaestinae (CIAP). The CIAP follows the method established at the end of the 19th century by Max van Berchem, namely the studying of the Arabic inscriptions in context. Van Berchem managed to publish two volumes of the inscriptions from Jerusalem; the CIAP covers the entire country. The inscriptions are arranged according to site and are studied in their respective topographical, historical and cultural context. In this way the CIAP offers more than a survey of inscriptions; it represents the epigraphical angle of the geographical history of the Holy Land. Volume One A was published in 1997, Volume Two B C in 1999, Volume Three D F in 2004, Volume Four G in 2008, an Addendum in 2007, Volume Five H I in 2013, Volume Six J 1 in 2016, and Volume Seven J 2 Jerusalem 1 in 2021. All volumes are still available.
