

Estrellita donde estás

Estrellita dónde estás,
me pregunto qué serás,
en el cielo y en el mar,
un diamante de verdad.

Estrellita dónde estás,
me pregunto qué serás.

Cuando el sol se ha ido ya,
cuando nada brilla más,
tu nos muestras tu brillar,
brillas, brillas sin parar.

Estrellita dónde estás,
me pregunto qué serás.

Estrellita dónde estás,
me pregunto qué serás,
en el cielo y en el mar,
un diamante de verdad.

Estrellita dónde estás,
me pregunto qué serás.

Looking For Estrillita:

Brian Castro's Fiction , Transcultural Writers and Novels in the Age of Global Mobility Arianna Dagnino, 2015-06-30

In Transcultural Writers and Novels in the Age of Global Mobility Arianna Dagnino analyzes a new type of literature emerging from artists increased movement and cultural flows spawned by globalization. This transcultural literature is produced by authors who write across cultural and national boundaries and who transcend in their lives and creative production the borders of a single culture. Dagnino's book contains a creative rendition of interviews conducted with five internationally renowned writers: Inez Baranay, Brian Castro, Alberto Manguel, Tim Parks, and Ilija Trojanow, and a critical exegesis reflecting on thematic, critical, and stylistic aspects. By studying the selected authors' corpus of work, life experiences, and cultural orientations, Dagnino explores the implicit, often subconscious process of cultural and imaginative metamorphosis that leads transcultural writers and their fictionalized characters beyond ethnic, national, racial, or religious loci of identity and identity formation. Drawing on the theoretical framework of comparative cultural studies, she offers insight into transcultural writing related to belonging, hybridity, cultural errancy, the Other, worldviews, translanguaging, deterritorialization, neomadism, as well as genre, thematic patterns, and narrative techniques. Dagnino also outlines the implications of transcultural writing within the wider context of world literature and identifies some of the main traits that characterize transcultural novels.

Drift Brian Castro, 2011-05

Brian Castro's fifth novel is perhaps his most complex and certainly his most political. Like all his work, it is productively playful, punningly irreverent, and deeply concerned with sex and death, fact and fiction, but also more seriously with the redemptive possibilities of art and the existential power of the novel, all in the context of Australia's contested history. From the Introduction by Katharine England

Global Fragments Anke Bartels, Dirk Wiemann, 2007

While the world seems to be getting ever smaller and globalization has become the ubiquitous buzz word, regionalism and fragmentation also abound. This might be due to the fact that far from being the alleged production of cultural homogeneity, the global is constantly redefined and altered through the local. This tension pervading much of contemporary culture has an obvious special relevance for the new varieties of English and the literature published in English: world-wide Postcolonial literatures exist at the interface of English as a hegemonic medium and its many national, regional, and local competitors that transform it in the new English literatures. Thus, any exploration of a globalization of cultures has to take into account the fact that culture is a complex field characterized by hybridization, plurality, and difference. But while global or transnational cultures may allow for a new cosmopolitanism that produces ever-changing fluid identities, they do not give rise to an egalitarian global village; an asymmetry between centre and periphery remains largely intact, albeit along new parameters. The essays collected in this volume offer readings of literary, theoretical, and filmic texts from the postcolonial world. These texts are read as attempts to articulate the global with the local from a perspective of immersion in the actual diversity of life-worlds, focusing on such issues as consumption, identity, politics, and modes of affiliation In this sense they are global fragments locally refracted figurations of an experience of world wide interconnectedness Translation in Diasporic Literatures Guanglin Wang,2019-03-26 This book investigates issues of translation and survival in diasporic and transcultural literature combining Chinese and Western theories of translation to discuss the centrifugal and centripetal forces that are inherent in diasporic Chinese writers Cutting across philosophy semiotics translation studies and diasporic writing it the book tackles the complexity of translation as a key tool to re read the dynamics of Sino Anglo literary encounters that reset East West parameters Focusing on a range of specialized areas of cultural translation sand China related writings this book is a key read for scholars of translation and cross cultural writings ethnic studies postcolonial studies American and Australian literature studies and global Chinese literature studies
