Louise Bogan's Aesthetic of Limitation Gloria Bowles, 1987-01-01      Louise Bogan's Aesthetic of Limitation Gloria Bowles, 1987      A Study Guide for Louise Bogan's "Song for the Last Act" Gale, Cengage Learning, 2016      The Veiled Mirror and the Woman Poet Elizabeth Caroline Dodd, 1992 In The Veiled Mirror and the Woman Poet Elizabeth Dodd explores the lives and work of four women poets of the twentieth century H D Louise Bogan Elizabeth Bishop and Louise Gluck Dodd argues that sexist and male dominated cultural forces in their personal and professional lives challenged these women to find a unique mode of expression in their poetry a practice Dodd defines as personal classicism Dodd uses the term personal classicism to examine modern and contemporary poetry that appears torn between two major modes of poetic sensibility the Romantic and the Classical While the four poets she addresses exhibit a poetic sensibility that is primarily Romantic valuing Wordsworth's spontaneous overflow of powerful feelings adopting a natural spoken tone and relying on personal subject matter they have nonetheless employed masking and controlling strategies that are more nearly Classical Combining feminist theory and biographical studies with close readings of individual poems Dodd moves historically from H D one of the best known Imagists through the Confessional movement to the major contemporary poet Louise Gluck In the final chapter Dodd brings us to the present where she finds women writers still struggling with the recent Confessional legacy of such highly anthologized poets as Anne Sexton and Sylvia Plath The Veiled Mirror and the Woman Poet combines thoughtful consideration of both formal and theoretical issues in a graceful prose that reaffirms poetry as an art vitally connected to life It will be of significant interest to students of modern and contemporary poetry as well as to those concerned with women's studies      American Women Writers, 1900-1945 Laurie Champion, 2000-09-30 Women writers have been traditionally excluded from literary canons and not until recently have scholars begun to rediscover or discover for the first time neglected women writers and their works This reference includes alphabetically arranged entries on 58 American women authors who wrote between 1900 and 1945 Each entry is written by an expert contributor and discusses a particular author's biography her major works and themes and the critical response to her writings The entries close with extensive primary and secondary bibliographies and the volume concludes with a list of works for further reading The period surveyed by this reference is rich and diverse Modernism and the Harlem Renaissance two major artistic movements occurred between 1900 and 1945 and the entries included here demonstrate the significant contributions women made to these movements The volume as a whole strives to reflect the diversity of American culture and includes entries for African American Native American Mexican American and Chinese American women It includes well known writers such as Willa Cather and Eudora Welty along with more neglected ones such as Anita Scott Coleman and Sui Sin Far      The Cambridge History of American Poetry Alfred Bendixen, Stephen Burt, 2014-10-27 The Cambridge History of American Poetry offers a comprehensive exploration of the development of American poetic traditions from their beginnings until the end of the twentieth century Bringing together the insights of fifty distinguished scholars this literary history emphasizes the complex roles that poetry has played in American cultural and intellectual life detailing the variety of ways in which both public and private forms of poetry have met the needs of different communities at different times The Cambridge History of American Poetry recognizes the existence of multiple traditions and a dramatically fluid canon providing current perspectives on both major authors and a number of representative figures whose work embodies the diversity of America s democratic traditions

Encyclopedia of American Poetry: The Twentieth Century Eric L. Haralson, 2014-01-21 The Encyclopedia of American Poetry The Twentieth Century contains over 400 entries that treat a broad range of individual poets and poems along with many articles devoted to topics schools or periods of American verse in the century Entries fall into three main categories poet entries which provide biographical and cultural contexts for the author s career entries on individual works which offer closer explication of the most resonant poems in the 20th century canon and topical entries which offer analyses of a given period of literary production school thematically constructed category or other verse tradition that historically has been in dialogue with the poetry of the United States A History of Twentieth-Century American Women's Poetry Linda A. Kinnahan, 2016-06-20 A History of Twentieth Century American Women s Poetry explores the genealogy of modern American verse by women from the early twentieth century to the millennium Beginning with an extensive introduction that charts important theoretical contributions to the field this History includes wide ranging essays that illuminate the legacy of American women poets Organized thematically these essays survey the multilayered verse of such diverse poets as Edna St Vincent Millay Marianne Moore Anne Sexton Adrienne Rich and Audre Lorde Written by a host of leading scholars this History also devotes special attention to the lasting significance of feminist literary criticism This book is of pivotal importance to the development of women s poetry in America and will serve as an invaluable reference for specialists and students alike New Black Feminist Criticism, 1985-2000 Barbara Christian, 2010-10-01 A passionate and celebrated pioneer in her own words New Black Feminist Criticism 1985 2000 collects a selection of essays and reviews from Barbara Christian one of the founding voices in black feminist literary criticism Published between the release of her second landmark book Black Feminist Criticism and her death these writings include eloquent reviews evaluations of black feminist criticism as a discipline reflections on black feminism in the academy and essays on Toni Morrison Alice Walker Paule Marshall and others Repression and Recovery Cary Nelson, 1989 A poststructuralist literary history Nelson s premise that the history of modernist culture is one we no longer know we have forgotten and he aims to recover the political questions many forgotten modern poets looked straight in the eye Flawed Light Brett C. Millier, 2009 Women poets who found both inspiration and isolation at the bottom of the glass Women's Studies on Its Own Robyn Wiegman, 2002-11-13 The future of a retheorized women s studies in an increasingly institutionalized context The Heath Anthology of American Literature Paul Lauter, 1994 The Politics of Women's Studies Florence Howe, 2000-08-01 The true stories of those bold women who espoused feminism in the world of academia and forever changed our educational system and culture In the patriarchal halls of 1970s academe women who spoke their minds risked their careers Yet intrepid women students faculty administrators members of the community persisted in collaborating on women s studies programs In doing so they created a movement that altered paradigms curricula teaching styles and content across disciplines In these original essays we hear the voices of feminists exhilarated by the opportunities and challenges of creating women s studies programs in American colleges and universities nurtured by the women s movement of the 1970s from young graduate students and newly hired faculty to tenured professors in search of ways to improve their students capacities to learn veteran academics at last witnessing change and even a few administrators Library Journal In all of these programs these founding mothers grappled not only with issues of gender but with those of class race and sexuality in a decade infused with political unrest and questioning when civil rights and anti war activism as well as feminism shaped academic worlds Walking and the Aesthetics of Modernity Klaus Benesch,François Specq,2016-08-31 This book gathers together an array of international scholars critics and artists concerned with the issue of walking as a theme in modern literature philosophy and the arts Covering a wide array of authors and media from eighteenth century fiction writers and travelers to contemporary film digital art and artists books the essays collected here take a broad literary and cultural approach to the art of walking which has received considerable interest due to the burgeoning field of mobility studies Contributors demonstrate how walking far from constituting a simplistic naïve or transparent cultural script allows for complex visions and reinterpretations of a human s relation to modernity introducing us to a world of many different and changing realities When Women Ask the Questions Marilyn Jacoby Boxer,2001-09-28 In When Women Ask the Questions Marilyn Boxer traces the successes and failures of women s studies examines the field s enduring impact on the world of higher education and concludes that the rise of women s studies has challenged the university in the same way that feminism has challenged society at large Drawing on her experiences as a historian feminist academic administrator and former chair of a women s studies program Boxer observes that by working for justice and for changes necessary to make the attainment of justice a practical possibility women s studies ensures that women are heard in the processes and places where knowledge is created taught and preserved The intellectual transformation behind the emergence of women s studies Boxer concludes is one of historic proportions Like other great moments in human experience it has given rise to a flowering of art literature and science and to the challenging of previously accepted authorities of text and tradition 100 Essential Modern Poems by Women
