Caffrey,2013-11-04 Poet anthropologist feminist Ruth Fulton Benedict was all of these and much more Born into the last years of the Victorian era she came of age during the Progressive years and participated in inaugurating the modern era of American life Ruth Benedict Stranger in This Land provides an intellectual and cultural history of the first half of the twentieth century through the life of an important and remarkable woman As a Lyricist poet Ruth Benedict helped define Modernism As an anthropologist she wrote the classic Patterns of Culture and at one point was considered the foremost anthropologist in the United States the first woman ever to attain such status She was an intellectual and an artist living in a time when women were not encouraged to be either In this fascinating study Margaret Caffrey attempts to place Benedict in the cultural matrix of her time and successfully shows the way in which Benedict was a product of and reacted to the era in which she lived Caffrey goes far beyond providing simple biographical material in this well written interdisciplinary study Based on exhaustive research including access for the first time to the papers of Margaret Mead Benedict s student and friend Caffrey is able to put Benedict s life clearly in perspective By identifying the family and educational influences that so sharply influenced Benedict s psychological makeup the author also closely analyzes the currents of thought that were strong when Victorianism paralleled the Modernism that figured in Benedict s life work The result is a richly detailed study of a gifted woman This important work will be of interest to students of Modernism poetry and women s studies as well as to anthropologists Monthly Catalogue, United States Public Documents ,1972

No Man's Land Sandra M. Gilbert,Susan Gubar,1996-02-21 How do writers and their readers imagine the future in a turbulent time of sex war and sex change And how have transformations of gender and genre affected literary representations of woman man family and society This final volume in Gilbert and Gubar s landmark three part No Man s Land The Place of the Woman Writer in the Twentieth Century argues that throughout the twentieth century women of letters have found themselves on a confusing cultural front and that most increasingly aware of the artifice of gender have dispatched missives recording some form of the future shock associated with profound changes in the roles and rules governing sexuality Divided into two parts Letters from the Front is chronological in organization with the first section focusing on such writers of the modernist period as Virginia Woolf Zora Neale Hurston Edna St Vincent Millay Marianne Moore and H D and the second devoted to authors who came to prominence after the Second World War including Gwendolyn Brooks Sylvia Plath Margaret Atwood Toni Morrison and A S Byatt Embroiled in the sex antagonism that Gilbert and Gubar traced in The War of the Words and in the sexual experimentations that they studied in Sexchanges all these artists struggled to envision the inscription of hitherto untold stories on what H D called the blank pages of the unwritten volume of the new Through the works of the first group Gilbert and Gubar focus in particular on the demise of any single normative definition of the feminine and the rise of masquerades of femininity amounting to female female impersonation In the writings of the second group the critics pay special attention to proliferating revisions of the family romance revisions significantly inflected by differences in race class and ethnicity and to the rise of masquerades of masculinity or male male impersonation Throughout Gilbert and Gubar discuss the impact on literature of such crucial historical events as the Harlem
