Spender, 1974 Edwardian Bloomsbury S. Rosenbaum, 2016-07-27 This is the second volume of a formidable enterprise and part of a series of publications by the same author that may entitle him to the position as the leading scholar of the Bloomsbury Group Rosenbaum has managed to write with freshness and insight about Forster s novels no matter how much they have been analyzed before The next volume will deal with the effect of that exhibition upon the Group s writing and much more I am sure of its early literary history The work is eagerly awaited Peter Stankys English Literature in Transition 1880 1920 Edwardian Bloomsbury is a continuation of the early literary history of the Bloomsbury Group begun with Victorian Bloomsbury but it can also be read independently as an account of the Group s interrelated writings during the first decade of the twentieth century Sylvia Plath Linda Wagner-Martin, 2013-04-15 This set comprises 40 volumes covering 19th and 20th century European and American authors These volumes will be available as a complete set mini boxed sets by theme or as individual volumes This second set compliments the first 68 volume set of Critical Heritage published by Routledge in October 1995 The Spectator, 1921 A weekly review of politics literature theology and art Emotions in American History Jessica C. E. Gienow-Hecht, 2010-04-01 The study of emotions has attracted anew the interest of scholars in various disciplines igniting a lively public debate on the constructive and destructive power of emotions in society as well as within each of us Most of the contributors to this volume do not hail from the United States but look at the nation from abroad They explore the role of emotions in history and ask how that exploration changes what we know about national and international history and in turn how that affects the methodological study of history In particular they focus on emotions in American history between the 18th century and the present in war in social and political discourse as well as in art and the media In addition to case studies the volume includes a review of their fields by senior scholars who offer new insights regarding future research projects America's 'Special Relationships' John Dumbrell, Axel Schäfer, 2009-09-10 This unique volume offers an original collection of essays on the theme of America s special relationships It interrogates in an original and provocative manner the distinctive character of America s interactions with an array of allies and clients both international and domestic The essays vary in their focus some are primarily historical some are more contemporary All consider the quality of specialness in the context of America's relationship with particular countries including the United Kingdom Canada Australia New Zealand Holland Russia Iran and Israel The collection also concerns the relationship between the American state and key special foreign policy interests notably ethnic lobbies and religious groups Bringing together a wide range of experts this timely collection provides a valuable addition to the debates surrounding US foreign policy and will be of great interest to students and scholars of American politics American history and international relations *W.B. Hays, 2011 This History of the criticism of The Sun Also Rises shows not only how Hemingway's first major novel was received over the decades but also how different critical modes have dominated different decades and what besides tenure critics of different eras looked for in it As such it shows what has interested critics how they have reinterpreted the novel and how they have seen the characters playing different roles Thus the novel becomes a mirror reflecting not only Paris and Spain in 1925 but us British Influence On The Birth Of American Literature Linden Peach, 1982-07-08 Something We Have That They Don't Steve & Mark Clark & Ford, Steven H. than we are Although there is supposed to be something We have that they don't don't ask me What it is John Ashbery Tenth Symphony Something We Have That They Don't presents a variety of essays on the relationship between British and American poetry since 1925 The essays collected here all explore some aspect of the rich and complex history of Anglo American poetic relations of the last seventy years Since the dawn of Modernism poets either side of the Atlantic have frequently inspired each other's developments from Frost's galvanizing advice to Edward Thomas to rearrange his prose as verse to Eliot's and Auden's enormous influence on the poetry of their adopted nations whichever Auden is Eliot once replied when asked if he were a British or an American poet I suppose I must be the other from the impact of Charles Olson and other Black Mountain poets on J H Prynne and the Cambridge School to the widespread influence of Frank O'Hara and Robert Lowell on a diverse range of contemporary British poets Clark and Ford's study aims to chart some of the currents of these ever shifting relations Poets discussed in these essays include John Ashbery W H Auden Elizabeth Bishop T S Eliot Mark Ford Robert Graves Thom Gunn Lee Harwood Geoffrey Hill Michael Hofmann Susan Howe Robert Lowell and W B Yeats Poetry and sovereignty Philip Larkin remarked in an interview of 1982 are very primitive things these essays consider the ways in which even seemingly very unprimitive poetries can be seen as reflecting and engaging with issues of national sovereignty and self interest and in the process they pose a series of fascinating questions about the national narratives that currently dominate definitions of the British and American poetic traditions This innovative and exciting new collection will be of great interest to students and scholars of British and American poetry and comparative literature Odisea nº 11:
