Ross, 2010-04 A novel of art love intrigue and magic in the South of France Love's Madness Helen Small, 1996 Love s Madness is an important new contribution to the interdisciplinary study of insanity Focusing on the figure of the love mad woman it presents a significant reassessment of the ways in which British medical writers and novelists of the nineteenth century thought about madness femininity and narrative convention The book centers around studies of novels by Jane Austen Sir Walter Scott Charlotte Bront Wilkie Collins and Charles Dickens as well as of previously neglected writings by Charles Maturin Lady Caroline Lamb and Edward Bulwer Lytton among others Poetics of Love in the Arabic Novel Wen-chin Ouyang, 2012-06-20 Considers the Arabic novel within the triangle of the nation state modernity and tradition Wen Chin Ouyang explores the development of the Arabic novel especially the ways in it engages with aesthetics ethics and politics in a cross cultural context and from a transnational perspective Taking love and desire as the central tropes the story of the Arabic novel is presented as a series of failed illegitimate love affairs all tainted by its suspicion of the legitimacy of the nation modernity and tradition and above all by its misgiving about its own propriety But There Was Love Michal Govrin, Dana Freibach-Heifetz, Etty BenZaken, Raya Morag, 2025-04-21 But There Was Love Shaping the Memory of the Shoah proposes a new paradigm for Shoah remembrance in today s cultural and political reality It derives from the four year workings of a group of researchers and artists at The Van Leer Jerusalem Institute led by Michal Govrin The group positions the extraordinary Jewish and non Jewish human struggle in facing dehumanization and extermination as the essence of the Shoah challenging us with a profound ethical call Love and Death in the American Novel Leslie A. Fiedler, 1997 No other study of the American novel has such fascinating and on the whole right things to say Washington Post A Love of Reading Robert Adams, 2011-01-14 Every year Robert Adams prepares a series of five reviews of contemporary novels to be delivered alone on a theatre stage to sold out audiences in Toronto and Montreal In A Love of Reading Adams has now gathered 18 of his most brilliant reviews from Jack Maggs by Peter Carey and The Poisonwood Bible by Barbara Kingsolver to A Fine Balance by Rohinton Mistry and Barney's Version by Mordecai Richler. In them he skillfully interweaves a nimble and entertaining discussion of plot, theme and characterization with fascinating historical, biographical and literary context. He is repeatedly drawn to the spectacle of less than perfect humans making their way in a hostile world and as a result a review by Robert Adams is almost always a hugely satisfying mix of rich pathos and abundant humour. Famously, Adams reads a book a day from which he selects only those novels that are truly extraordinary that have made him see some part of the world or some aspect of the human condition in a new light because for Adams the best books always take the reader on a journey with a destination very distant from the point of departure. It should be not only a journey of discovery, an exploration of the author's vision but also of risk. By matching one's own vision to that of the author, says Adams, the reader enters an exciting negotiation to produce a new vision of his own. This joint enterprise between reader and writer, the shared risk and the wonder of discovery is the foundation of A Love of Reading. For the last six years, Robert Adams has presented an annual series of book reviews to sold-out audiences. Eighty per cent of Adams' 3,000 subscribers in Toronto and Montreal renew for the following season. This book is a selection of modern classics from a discriminating and entertaining guide. Perfect for reading groups. Quill Quire, noting the jump in sales of any book reviewed by Adams, has called the phenomenon 'The Adams Effect'.

A Critical Edition of Caroline Norton's Love in "The World" Ross Nelson, Marie Mulvey-Roberts, 2023-10-10 Caroline Norton s forgotten novel which has remained unpublished until now tells of the perils of courtship facing a na ve young girl Alixe who has been launched onto the London social season Her encounters with both a worthy and an undesirable suitor open an intriguing window onto the fashionable society of the 1820s in which Love in the World takes place In placing her heroine in these predicaments Norton was able to draw upon her own experiences of the bon ton as the time in which the novel is set coincides with her first ball in March 1826 when she burst upon the scene with all her beauty and brilliance later recalling I came out to find all London at my feet She believed that London could be as callous as the metropolitan social scene might prove treacherous and in alerting the reader to the dangers of fashionable society she makes ample use of her own observations as a debutante at her first London season In a highly readable and coherent narrative with an indeterminate ending which throws a spotlight onto her life and times the plot of Love in the World initially follows a pattern broadly representative of her own experience before developing in unexpected and surprising ways

Love, Violence and Identity: A Comparison Dr. Rajneesh Kumar, 2022-07-14 Love

Violence and Identity are multifaceted concepts of life in general and literature in particular. Much has already been written on the themes of love, violence, and identity in English literature till date; however, these emotions are still inexplicable to one and all. Love, violence, and identity have multiple connotations as words, and these emotions keep multifarious nuances as expressions. On the other hand, when we try to understand them in comparison, the implications turn out to be multidimensional. This book presents a comparative study of the themes of love, violence, and identity in such a unique manner that it helps to comprehend the hidden meanings of these cumbersome concepts and at the same time it opens up certain remarkably new avenues of learning in the field of Comparative Literature Studies.
