T. Allmand, 1995 The fourth volume of The New Cambridge Medieval History covers the eleventh and twelfth centuries which comprised perhaps the most dynamic period in the European middle ages This is a history of Europe but the continent is interpreted widely to include the Near East and North Africa The volume is divided into two parts of which this the second deals with the course of events ecclesiastical and secular and major developments in an age marked by the transformation of the position of the papacy in a process fuelled by a radical reformation of the church the decline of the western and eastern empires the rise of western kingdoms and Italian elites and the development of governmental structures the beginnings of the recovery of Spain from the Moors and the establishment of western settlements in the eastern Mediterranean region in the wake of the crusades Trade and Institutions in the Medieval Mediterranean Jessica L. Goldberg, 2012-08-23 The Geniza merchants of the eleventh century Mediterranean sometimes called the Maghribi traders are central to controversies about the origins of long term economic growth and the institutional bases of trade In this book Jessica Goldberg reconstructs the business world of the Geniza merchants maps the shifting geographic relationships of the medieval Islamic economy and sheds new light on debates about the institutional framework for later European dominance Commercial letters business accounts and courtroom testimony bring to life how these medieval traders used personal gossip and legal mechanisms to manage far flung agents switched business strategies to manage political risks and asserted different parts of their fluid identities to gain advantage in the multicultural medieval trading world This book paints a vivid picture of the everyday life of Jewish merchants in Islamic societies and adds new depth to debates about medieval trading institutions with unique quantitative analyses and innovative approaches Early Islam and the Birth of Capitalism Benedikt Koehler, 2014-06-17 Early Islam and the Birth of Capitalism proposes a strikingly original thesis that capitalism first emerged in Arabia not in late medieval

Italian city states as is commonly assumed Early Islam made a seminal but largely unrecognized contribution to the history of economic thought it is the only religion founded by an entrepreneur Descending from an elite dynasty of religious civil and commercial leaders Muhammad was a successful businessman before founding Islam As such the new religion had much to say on trade consumer protection business ethics and property As Islam rapidly spread across the region so did the economic teachings of early Islam which eventually made their way to Europe Early Islam and the Birth of Capitalism demonstrates how Islamic institutions and business practices were adopted and adapted in Venice and Genoa These financial innovations include the invention of the corporation business management techniques commercial arithmetic and monetary reform There were other Islamic institutions assimilated in Europe charities the waqf inspired trusts and institutions of higher learning the madrasas were models for the oldest colleges of Oxford and Cambridge As such it can be rightfully said that these essential aspects of capitalist thought all have Islamic roots les Fatimides et la mer (909-1171) David Bramoullé, 2019-11-04 The Fatimids 10th 12th centuries C E are known to have been the first Shiite caliphal dynasty and to have founded Cairo the city that became their capital in 973 when they left Tunisia for Egypt During their reign the Fatimids built an effective war fleet that inflicted several defeats on Christian navies This is the first study on the Fatimid naval force and more generally on the role of the sea for the Fatimids whose territories touched both the Mediterranean and the Red Sea The documentation presented in this study demonstrates how in the course of two centuries this Ismaeli dynasty set up a maritime policy and developed a communication strategy in which their control of the sea helped legitimize their universalist claims against competing powers Les Fatimides 10e 12e s ap J C sont connus pour avoir t la premi re dynastie califale chiite et pour avoir fond Le Caire qui devint leur capitale partir de 973 lorsque la dynastie quitta la Tunisie actuelle pour s installer en Egypte et prendre possession d un empire qui s tendait de l Alg rie orientale jusqu la Syrie en passant par la Sicile et certains territoires de la p ninsule arabe Durant leur r gne ils dispos rent d une flotte de guerre efficace qui infligea plusieurs d faites aux marines chr tiennes Au del de la chronologie des batailles navales aucune tude n existait sur le r le de cette force navale et plus g n ralement sur le r le de la mer pour les Fatimides dont les territoires touchaient la fois la M diterran e et la mer Rouge La documentation met pourtant en vidence que sur durant plus de deux si cles les Fatimides mirent en place une politique maritime qui d passait largement les consid rations militaires Ils d velopp rent ainsi une strat gie de communication dans laquelle la mer jouait un r le majeur pour la fois l gitimer les pr tentions universalistes de cette dynastie isma lienne face des pouvoirs concurrents et pour lui permettre de survivre Egypt and Syria in the Fatimid, Ayyubid and Mamluk Eras III Urbain Vermeulen, 2001 This volume contains 24 papers presented at the sixth seventh and eighth Colloquium on the History of Egypt and Syria in the Fatimid Ayyubid and Mamluk Eras organized at the University of Leuven in May 1997 1998 and 1999 The main purpose of these annual colloquia is to bring together an international body of scholars from different fields of research around the central theme of Syro Egypt s high and late medieval history Resulting now in a

The Great Sea David Abulafia, 2011-06-01 Connecting Europe Asia and Africa the Mediterranean Sea has been for millennia the place where religions economies and political systems met clashed influenced and absorbed one another In this brilliant and expansive book David Abulafia offers a fresh perspective by focusing on the sea itself its practical importance for transport and sustenance its dynamic role in the rise and fall of empires and the remarkable cast of characters sailors merchants migrants pirates pilgrims who have crossed and re crossed it Ranging from prehistory to the 21st century The Great Sea is above all a history of human interaction Interweaving major political and naval developments with the ebb and flow of trade Abulafia explores how commercial competition in the Mediterranean created both rivalries and partnerships with merchants acting as intermediaries between cultures trading goods that were as exotic on one side of the sea as they were commonplace on the other He stresses the remarkable ability of Mediterranean cultures to uphold the civilizing ideal of convivencia living together Now available in paperback The Great Sea is the definitive account of perhaps the most vibrant theater of human interaction in history

Islamic History R. Stephen Humphreys, 2020-06-16 This book will be immensely helpful to those who wish to orient themselves to what has become a very large body of literature on medieval Islamic history Combining a bibliographic study with an inquiry into method it opens with a survey of the principal reference tools available to historians of Islam and a systematic review of the sources they will confront Problems of method are then examined in a series of chapters each exploring a broad topic in the social and political history of the Middle East and North Africa between A D 600 and 1500 The topics selected represent a cross section of Islamic historical studies and range from the struggles for power within the early Islamic community to the life of the peasantry Each chapter pursues four questions What concrete research problems are likely to be most challenging and productive What resources do we possess for dealing with these problems What strategies can we devise to exploit our resources most effectively What is the current state of the scholarly literature for the topic under study stolen relics of St Mark to the fall of the Venetian Republic to Napoleon in 1797 the visual arts in Venice were dramatically influenced by Islamic art Because of its strategic location on the Mediterranean Venice had long imported objects from the Near East through channels of trade and it flourished during this particular period as a commercial political and diplomatic hub This monumental book examines Venice's rise as the bazaar of Europe and how and why the city absorbed artistic and cultural ideas that originated in the Islamic world Venice and the Islamic World 828-1797 features a wide range of fascinating images and objects including paintings and drawings by familiar Venetian artists such as Bellini Carpaccio and Tiepolo beautiful Persian and Ottoman miniatures and inlaid metalwork ceramics lacquer ware gilded and enameled glass textiles and carpets made in the Serene Republic and the Mamluk Ottoman and Safavid Empires Together these exquisite objects illuminate the ways Islamic art inspired Venetian artists while also highlighting Venice's own views toward its neighboring region Fascinating essays by distinguished scholars and conservators offer new historical and technical insights into this unique artistic relationship between East and West The Silk Roads Peter Frankopan, 2016-02-16

INTERNATIONAL BESTSELLER Far more than a history of the Silk Roads this book is truly a revelatory new history of the world promising to destabilize notions of where we come from and where we are headed next A rare book that makes you question your assumptions about the world The Wall Street Journal From the Middle East and its political instability to China and its economic rise the vast region stretching eastward from the Balkans across the steppe and South Asia has been thrust into the global spotlight in recent years Frankopan teaches us that to understand what is at stake for the cities and nations built on these intricate trade routes we must first understand their astounding pasts Frankopan realigns our understanding of the world pointing us eastward It was on the Silk Roads that East and West first encountered each other through trade and conquest leading to the spread of ideas cultures and religions From the rise and fall of empires to the spread of Buddhism and the advent of Christianity and Islam right up to the great wars of the twentieth century this book shows how the fate of the West has always been inextricably linked to the East Also available The New Silk Roads a timely exploration of the dramatic and profound changes our world is undergoing right now as seen from the perspective of the rising powers of the East Asia Before Europe K. N. Chaudhuri, 1990 This book explores the dynamic interaction between economic life society and civilisation in the regions around and beyond the Indian Ocean during the period from the rise of Islam to 1750 Within a distinctive theory of comparative history Professor Chaudhuri analyses how the identity of different Asian civilisations was established He examines the structural features of food habits clothing architectural styles and housing the different modes of economic production and the role of crop raising pastoral nomadism and industrial activities for the main regions of the Indian Ocean In an original and perceptive conclusion the author demonstrates how Indian Ocean societies were united or separated from one another by a conscious cultural and linguistic identity However there was a deeper structure of unities created by a common ecology technology of economic production traditions of government theory of political obligations and rights and a shared historical experience His theory enables the author to show that the real Indian Ocean was an area that extended historically from the Red Sea and the Persian Gulf to the sea which lies beyond Japan

Agriculture in Egypt from Pharaonic to Modern Times Alan K. Bowman, Eugene L. Rogan, 1999-04-29 From the Pharaohs to the United Arab Republic of the present day Egypt's agriculture has been subject to very different forms of political power and organization The papers in this volume draw on the abundant documentary and archaeological evidence to analyse and compare the patterns of agricultural exploitation across historical periods including Ptolemaic Roman and Ottoman times Among important themes discussed are the changing composition of agrarian elites relationships between state landholders and peasants the impact of commercialization on the rural economy technology irrigation and water control and changes in crop patterns and production This volume's comparativist approach to the subject is crucial in crossing the linguistic and historical barriers between the different eras in Egypt's agrarian history Byzantinische Forschungen J.
