Making Of The European Union Contributions Of The Social Sciences:

The Making of the European Union Max Haller, 2012-12-06 Outstanding social scientists economists sociologists political scientists and policy researchers discuss in this book the issue of the social aspects of European integration For each field they sketch out the main problems provide a survey on the relevant literature and point to areas wherein more research is needed The science and research policy of the European Union is examined critically both in terms of relevant social issues and in terms of its organizational efficacy Implementing European Union Education and Training Policy D. Phillips, H. Ertl, 2007-05-08 The papers which make up this volume have for the most part emerged from the work of a team of young researchers based for varying periods at the Department of Educational Studies of the University of Oxford as part of an international network funded by the European Union The network known as PRESTiGE Problems of Educational Standardisation and Transition in a Global Environment involves teams at six European universities each of which can only employ young researchers from Member States other than that in which it is situated The Oxford part of PRESTiGE has been concerned with the interpretation transmission and implementation of European Union education and training policy in four Member States France Germany Sweden and the United Kingdom As the leader of the Oxford team I had the good fortune to work with young researchers from Denmark Germany Greece Sweden and Portugal Their work is included here So too are contributions from Jake Murdoch a member of the Dijon team based at the Universit de Bourgogne and Professor Ant nio N voa the leader of the Lisbon team Together the papers which we have allowed to overlap to some extent so that each one can be read independently represent a genuinely international collaborative effort to understand the intentions and the effects of EU education and training policy and we hope that they will contribute to further discussion of the important issues that those with an interest in European co operation and development will wish to pursue

Restructuring of the Economic Elites after State Socialism Jochen Tholen, David Lane, Gyorgy Lengyel, 2012-02-24 The collapse of the former socialist states has led to the transformation of their political economic and social systems as well as a major change in international orientations In this context new economic and political elites of the former state socialist societies have emerged How they have emerged from state socialism is a major component of this book which has two major themes First we consider the recruitment patterns of the new elites among others the extent to which the new leaderships have been reconstituted from the former cadres of state socialism Second we outline the consequences of transformation on the institutions particularly the formation of markets and privatisation in the context of the dynamic of the enlargement of the European Union and the entry of the new states into the world system This collection of papers is based mostly on two conferences out of six serial conferences under the general responsibility of David Lane Cambridge University The first conference was held in Budapest on 4 5 September 2004 at Corvinus University of Budapest Institute of Sociology and Social Policy Centre for Empirical Social Research and organized by Gy rgy Lengyel the second on 13 14 May 2005 at University of Bremen Institute of

Committee on Science and Technology (2007). Subcommittee on Research and Science Education, 2007 World Social Science Report 2013 Changing Global Environments International Social Science Council, United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization, 2013-11-15 This book represents a comprehensive overview of the field gathering the thoughts and expertise of hundreds of social scientists from around the world This edition focuses on the transformative role of the social sciences in confronting climate and broader processes of environmental change The European Union's Contribution to International Peace and Security, 2023-05-25 The Treaty of Lisbon has significantly enhanced the EU's institutional framework and the instruments at its disposal in foreign policy and external relations notably through the creation of the function of the High Representative supported by the European External Action Service Contributing to the maintenance of international peace and security is one of the core objectives of the EU's external action This volume with contributions from legal experts on EU foreign policy and external relations illustrates the manifold legal issues arising in EU external action and in its efforts to achieve this essential objective European Societies Mau, Steffen, Verwiebe, Roland, 2010-10-08 This title looks at the European model in historical perspective commonalities and intra European exchange and characteristics of the European social structure Euroscepticism, 2016-08-29 The accelerated pace of European integration since the early 1990s has been accompanied by the emergence of increasingly prominent and multiform oppositions to the process The term Euroscepticism has appeared with growing frequency in a range of political media and academic discourses Yet the label is applied to a wide range of different and occasionally contradictory phenomena Although originally associated with an English exceptionalism relative to a Continental project of political and economic integration the term Euroscepticism is now also identified with a more general questioning of European Union institutions and policies which finds diverse expressions across the entire continent This volume of European Studies brings together an interdisciplinary team of contributors to provide one of the first major multinational surveys of the growth of these Eurosceptic tendencies Individual chapters provide detailed examinations of developments in France Germany the Netherlands the United Kingdom Ireland Sweden Austria the Czech Republic Poland and Switzerland Overall the volume draws a distinctive portrait of contemporary Euroscepticism situating the phenomenon not only relative to the progress of European integration but also in relation to broader questions concerned with the evolution of party politics and the reshaping of national identities World Social Science Report 2013 UNESCO, ISSC, 2013-11-15 Produced by the International Social Science Council ISSC and UNESCO and published by the OECD the 2013 World Social Science Report represents a comprehensive overview of the field gathering the thoughts and expertise of hundreds of social scientists from around the world This edition focuses on the transformative role of the social sciences in confronting climate and broader processes of environmental change and in addressing priority problems from energy and water biodiversity and land use to urbanisation migration and education The report includes 100 articles written by 150 authors from 41 countries all over the world Authors represent some 24 disciplines mainly in the social sciences The contributions highlight the central importance of social science knowledge for environmental change research as a means of understanding changing environments in terms of social processes and as framework for finding concrete solutions towards sustainability

Inclusions and Exclusions in European Societies Martin Kohli, Alison Woodward, 2004-01-14 European social development over the last century has been characterized by an increasing inclusiveness of people into the ever larger collectives of the nation state the European Union and categories of welfare entitlement Yet recent empirical data suggests that income gaps are growing and that within the physical borders of Europe there is a greater cultural and ethnic heterogeneity than ever before Effectively many of the processes of inclusion are accompanied by exclusion and the creation of new borders identities and rights Inclusions and Exclusions in European Societies features eminent contributors from across Europe addressing the problems of inclusion and exclusion as they affect European societies today Amongst the topics addressed are to what extent classical theory provides useful ways of reframing European societies which inequalities in work and welfare persist today and in what ways they have been transformed in processes of European integration how considerations of new identities and the pressure of globalisation affect the forms of inclusion and exclusion in Europe This book constitutes a unique stock taking of many of the central issues in European social integration or disintegration today

Cosmopolitan Europe Ulrich Beck, Edgar Grande, 2014-11-05 Europe is Europe's last remaining realistic political utopia But Europe remains to be understood and conceptualized This historically unique form of international community cannot be explained in terms of the traditional concepts of politics and the state which remain trapped in the straightjacket of methodological nationalism Thus if we are to understand cosmopolitan Europe we must radically rethink the conventional categories of social and political analysis Just as the Peace of Westphalia brought the religious civil wars of the seventeenth century to an end through the separation of church and state so too the separation of state and nation represents the appropriate response to the horrors of the twentieth century And just as the secular state makes the exercise of different religions possible so too cosmopolitan Europe must guarantee the coexistence of different ethnic religious and political forms of life across national borders based on the principle of cosmopolitan tolerance The task the authors have set themselves in this book is nothing less than to rethink Europe as an idea and a reality It represents an attempt to understand the process of Europeanization in light of the theory of reflexive modernization and thereby to redefine it at both the theoretical and the political level This book completes Ulrich Beck's trilogy on cosmopolitan realism the volumes of which complement each other and can be read independently It is essential reading for anyone interested in the key social and political developments of our time

International Social Science Journal, 2009 Crossing Borders, Shifting Boundaries Franz Höllinger, Markus Hadler, 2012-03 This book investigates the impact of social phenomena such as recently created nation states emerging international confederations cross national migration and contemporary global forces on ethnic and national identities in Europe and beyond The articles in this volume are written by leading international scholars based on a variety of theoretical and empirical approaches and offer a multifaceted discussion of the challenging issue of collective identities

Frameworks of the European Union's Policy Process Nikolaos Zahariadis, 2017-07-05 The book advances the state of the European Union's policy theory by taking stock of seven promising frameworks of the policy process systematically comparing their limitations and strengths and offering a strategy to develop robust research agendas Frameworks may constitute competing policy explanations depending on assumptions they make about EU institutional and issue complexity The frameworks include detailed analyses of multi level governance advocacy coalitions punctuated equilibrium multiple streams policy learning normative power Europe and constructivism Besides generating a fertile dialogue that transcends the narrow confines of EU policy contributions highlight the value of intellectual pluralism and the need for clear and rigorous explanations of the policy process This book was published as a special issue of the Journal of European Public Policy

The Political Implications of Scientific Knowledge. EU Funded Policy Research and Immigration Policies in Italy Marco Boschele, 2020-03-09 The work endeavours to assess the impact of EU funded research on both social science policy research and the policy making process at national level Attempts in the past to include the social sciences in the decision making process have raised questions about the validity of scientific knowledge in terms of its objectivity and in terms of its legitimizing element The starting point of this investigation therefore is the relationship between research and policy making Subsequently it considers the development of social science research in the field of immigration At EU level it analyses the changes in the dynamics of migration and how the EU research Framework Programmes have responded At national level it seeks to place the concept of citizenship and nationality law within the tradition of the social sciences in Italy and to understand how social science research has contributed to the development of policies The investigation also analyses the research policy approach at institutional level in Italy and the involvement of Italian universities and organizations in the FP6 and FP7 to determine if there takes place an internationalization Europeanization of social science research on immigration and or the construction of a non national discourse There is a formation of a discourse in the field of immigration research which follows the Commission directives but due to the Italian policy making process closed to academic and experts influence this discourse does not permeate the process of immigration policies making
