Approaches to Teaching Dostoevsky's Crime and Punishment Michael R. Katz,Alexander Burry,2022-04-05 Offers techniques for teaching Dostoevsky s Crime and Punishment in undergraduate graduate and high school classrooms Topics include ethics gender money Orthodox Christianity psychoanalysis social justice teaching in prison and the use of digital media and film adaptations Studies in Trans-disciplinary Method Michael J. Shapiro,2013 This groundbreaking and innovative text addresses the deep ontological and epistemological commitments that underpin conventional positivist methods and then demonstrates how method can be understood in much broader and more interesting ways Drawing on a broad range of philosophical and methodological theory as well as a wide variety of artistic sources from fine art to cinema and from literature to the blues leading contemporary thinker Michael Shapiro shows the reader how a more open understanding of the concept of method is rewarding and enlightening His notion of writing as method is enacted throughout the text and offers a stimulating alternative for students to positivist social science methods This is essential reading for all students and faculty with an interest in post positivist methods Discourse in Psychoanalysis and Literature (Routledge Revivals) Shlomith Rimmon-Kenan,2014-11-13 The essays in this collection first published in 1987 represent a collective attempt to listen with the third ear to the underhand ways the unspoken has of speaking and to speak of these ways By focusing on discourse the volume is distinguished from traditional literature by its emphasis on rhetorical structures and textual strategies and the investment of these structures with desire power and other aspects of subjectivity rather than the personality of the artist or the creative process However in this book the human dimension is not lost By claiming that the structures in question are not merely linguistic semiotic or narratological although they are all of these the human dimension is returned not in the raw as in traditional approaches but through the traces it leaves in the text as activated by its reading This book is ideal for students of literature and psychoanalytical theory The Year's Work in English Studies English Association,1929

African American Nationalist Literature of the 1960s Sandra Hollin Flowers, 2019-09-25 Bringing together political theory and literary works this study recreates the political climate which made the 1960s an unforgettable era for young black Americans A chapter on The Many Shades of Black Nationalism for instance explains why black nationalism is known by more than a dozen different names how events in Africa influenced black nationalism in America why Malcolm X's death had a greater impact on nationalism than did his life and how the United States government unwittingly became nationalism's ally Another chapter explores the bitter feud between the dominant factions of the 1960s cultural and revolutionary nationalists This feud erupted in both verbal and armed warfare and generated an abundance of political theory and literary works much of which is out of circulation but is examined in the study Nationalist poetry theater and fiction are each treated in separate chapters which exemplify the aesthetic and political concerns of this memorable period in American history and letters Aside from its unique combination of artistic and political works what makes this book important is the current revival of nationalist sentiment in African American life and arts Though this revival is closely identified with the nationalism of the 1960s it lacks the focus of that period This study explains what gave the nationalism of the 1960s its focus how that focus was expressed in art forms and why 1960s nationalism continues to influence the African American identity and will probably do so well into the twenty-first century

DESIGNING FUTURE STABILIZATION EFFORTS

Stephan De Spiegeire, Peter Wijninga, Tim Sweijts, As the NATO combat mission in Afghanistan draws to an end the West is starting to take a hard look back at two decades of global stabilization efforts The lessons learned literature on these efforts is exploding One of the dominant themes in this literature is the need to embed the specifically military toolkit into a much more comprehensive integrated approach towards planning and executing In this forward looking report HCSS goes a step further by focusing not on the operational but on the strategic level of decision making Today this strategic layer is driven much more by domestic and international politicking than by creative strategic thinking This report advocates a new approach to strategic decision making which we label strategic design It summarizes and borrows some key insights from the design thinking literature in the business and public management literature and applies those to the security challenges surrounding stabilization efforts The report then illustrates this approach by developing and evaluating a few design sketches for new capability elements that even a small force provider like The Netherlands could start developing The report might be of interest to strategic planners and decision makers on both the military and civilians side
