Aesthetics Culture Nature Right grade 1 3 Nelson Mandela Metropolitan University language English abstract This paper discusses the basis of the theories of Locke Hobbes and Rousseau the state of nature which is used by all three of them as a methodical entity to create their social contract theories I will first introduce each philosopher and the political context he lived in as well as the different states of nature on which the philosophers based their theories on I will then compare the states with each other and point out relations and dissimilarities In my conclusion I will come back to the hypothesis that the three different states have dissimilar intentions and aim towards different governmental systems On Sovereignty

Thomas Hobbes, John Locke, 2005-09 Thomas Hobbes the royalist is above all famous for his social contract theory the appeal to the agreement that would be made among rational free and equal persons His conclusion that we should submit to the authority of an absolute and unlimited sovereign power may not have found many followers but his analysis remains unchallenged How and why do Hobbes and Locke using similar concepts of states of nature, natural law and contract come to different conclusions?

Anthony Weaver, 2024-09-09 Seminar paper from the year 1997 in the subject Philosophy Miscellaneous London Metropolitan University language English abstract The fundamental differences between the political theories of Hobbes and Locke Both Thomas Hobbes 1588 1679 in his Leviathan and Locke 1623 1704 in his Two Treatises of Government were among the very earliest historical political theorists to work out a theory of political obligation For both thinkers the theory of political obligation attempts to justify our submission to political authority on both moral and prudential grounds I will argue that the similarities between Hobbes and Locke respecting the State of Nature Natural Law and Social Contract arise because both were seeking a non theological rational legal foundation for political or state authority Second I will explain how the fundamental differences regarding the aforementioned concepts are of greater significance and explain how they come to radically different conclusions regarding the State which emerges from the state of nature The Social Contract Theorists

Christopher W. Morris, 2000-01-01 This reader introduces students of philosophy and politics to the contemporary critical literature on the classical social contract theorists Thomas Hobbes 1599 1697 John Locke 1632 1704 and Jean Jacques Rousseau 1712 1778 Twelve thoughtfully selected essays guide students through the texts familiarizing them with key elements of the theory while at the same time introducing them to current scholarly controversies A bibliography of additional work is provided The classical social contract theorists represent one of the two or three most important modern traditions in political thought Their ideas dominated political debates in Europe and North America in the 17th and 18th centuries influencing political thinkers statesmen constitution makers revolutionaries and other political actors alike Debates during the French Revolution and the early history of the American Republic were often conducted in the language of Hobbes Locke and Rousseau Later political philosophy can only be understood against this backdrop And the contemporary revival of contractarian moral and political thought represented by John Rawls A Theory of Justice 1971 or David Gauthier's Morals by Agreement 1986 needs to be appreciated in the history of this tradition

Nature and Politics Andrzej Rapaczynski, 2019-05-15 In this study of the origins of liberalism in political thought Andrzej Rapaczynski examines the political theory of Hobbes Locke and Rousseau Convinced that the Aristotelian and medieval world views no longer provided an adequate framework for the ordering of political life these three thinkers sought to reconstruct the philosophical foundations of politics The Leviathan (1651), The Two Treatises of Government (1689), The Social
