Wood,2004-01 The Philosophy of Creation George Henry Dole,2023-07-18 This groundbreaking work explores the relationship between science and theology providing a compelling argument for the existence of God Dole s insightful analysis of the creation narrative offers a refreshing perspective on the ongoing debate between creationists and evolutionists This work has been selected by scholars as being culturally important and is part of the knowledge base of civilization as we know it This work is in the public domain in the United States of America and possibly other nations Within the United States you may freely copy and distribute this work as no entity individual or corporate has a copyright on the body of the work Scholars believe and we concur that this work is important enough to be preserved reproduced and made generally available to the public We appreciate your support of the preservation process and thank you for being an important part of keeping this knowledge alive and relevant The Philosophy of Creation Thomas Paine (Spirit),Horace G. Wood,1854 The Philosophy of Creation Horace Gay Wood,Horace G. Wood,1864 The Future of Creation Order Gerrit Glas,Jeroen de Ridder,2018-01-12 This work provides an overview of attempts to assess the current condition of the concept of creation order within reformational philosophy compared to other perspectives Focusing on the natural and life sciences and theology this first volume of two examines the arguments for and against the beauty coherence and order shown in the natural world being related to the will or nature of a Creator It examines the decay of a Deist universe and the idea of the pre givenness of norms laws and structures as challenged by evolutionary theory and social philosophy It describes the different responses to the collapse of order that given by Christian philosophy scholars who still argue for the idea of a pre given world order and that of other scholars who see this idea of stable creation order and or natural law as redundant and in need of a thorough rethinking It studies the particular role that reformational philosophy has played in the discussion It shows how ever since its inception almost a century ago the concepts of order and law principle structure have been at the heart of this philosophy and that one way to characterise this tradition is as a philosophy of creation order Reformational philosophers have maintained the notion of law as holding for reality This book discusses the questions that have arisen about the nature of such law is it a religious or philosophical concept does law just mean orderliness How does it relate to laws of nature Have they always existed or do they emerge during the process of evolution Philosophy of Creation Thomas Paine,2017-11-14 Excerpt from Philosophy of Creation Unfolding the Laws of the Progressive Development of Nature and Embracing the Philosophy of Man Spirit and the Spirit World Astronomers tell you that the sun moon and stars are worlds composed of elements like those Of earth some of equal others of greater magnitude than earth and moreover that while the earth is lighted for I can confidently assure you that many very many of them are so remotely located from the earth that it is neither favored nor benefited by their light Were they created without an aim with out an object I answer no God never created

Knowing Creation Zondervan,2018-05-08 It is hard to think of an area of Christian theology that provides more scope for interdisciplinary conversation than the doctrine of creation This doctrine not only invites reflection on an intellectual concept it calls for contemplation of the endlessly complex dynamic and fascinating world that human being inhabit But the possibilities for wide ranging discussion are such that scholars sometimes end up talking past one another Productive conversation requires mutual understanding of insights across disciplinary boundaries Knowing Creation offers an essential resource for helping scholars from a range of fields to appreciate one another's concerns and perspectives In so doing it offers an important step forward in establishing a mutually enriching dialogue that addresses amongst others the following key questions Who is the God who creates Why does God create What is creation What does it mean to recognize that a theology of creation speaks of a natural world that is subject to the observation of the natural sciences What does it mean to talk about both a natural order and a created order What are the major tensions that have arisen between the natural sciences and Christian thinking historically and why How can we move beyond such tensions to a positive and constructive conversation while also avoiding facile notions such as a god of the gaps Is it feasible for a natural scientist to maintain a belief in God's continuing creative activity In what ways might a naturalistic understanding of the natural world be said to be limited How can biblical studies theology philosophy history and science talk better together about these questions At a time when the doctrine of creation and even a mention of creation has been disparaged due to its supposed associations with anti scientific dogma and theological offerings sometimes risk appearing a little more than reactionary exercises in naive apologetics ill informed by science or distinctly wary of engagement with it it is more important than ever to offer a cross disciplinary resource that can voice a positive account of a Christian theology of creation and do so as a genuinely broad ranging conversation about science and faith Contributors to Knowing Creation include Marilyn McCord Adams Denis Alexander Susan Eastman C Stephen Evans Peter van Inwagen Christoph Schwobel John H Walton Francis Watson and more X

The Philosophy of Creation the System of Philosophy, From the Standpoint of the Christian and of the Word (Classic Reprint) George Henry Dole,2016-06-15 Excerpt from The Philosophy of Creation the System of Philosophy From the Standpoint of the Christian and of the Word IF it is thought that religion is dogmatic and for want of reason is unscientific yet it is equally true that science in attempting to explain natural phenomena apart from God is equally irreligious Religionists have argued that we must have faith to believe because we do not know while Scientists have asserted that we must know in order to believe The two are not in agreement About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works Deleuze, Philosophy and the Creation of Concepts Axel Cherniavsky,2024-11-30

One feature of Gilles Deleuze s philosophy is its effort to establish connections with other disciplines and to appeal to non philosophers However Deleuze never establishes these connections without a constant and unconditional reaffirmation of the uniqueness of philosophy How does he conceive of philosophy What are its elements What are its methods How is philosophy connected to other fields of knowledge and other activities Axel Cherniavsky provides an answer to these questions by analysing the definition of philosophy Deleuze gives throughout his entire oeuvre creation of concepts Through this analysis you will discover a reconstruction of a creative methodology a detailed theory of the philosophical concept a reflection on interdisciplinarity and altogether one of the most precise and systematic conceptions that philosophy has ever given of itself

The Philosophy of Creation Thomas Paine (Spirit),Horace G. Wood,H. A. Burbank,1872 Studies in the Philosophy of Creation Newton Phelps Stallknecht,2000 This contains a clearly stated vision of the purpose of philosophy a vision which Stallknecht maintained and deepened throughout a lifetime of reflection The sense in which creation can be seen as one of if not the fundamental questions of philosophy emerges from the historical background of ancient and modern philosophy Bergson serves as the primary focus as far as sustained analysis of creation but other contemporaries are discussed and there is a substantial and precise treatment of Alfred North Whitehead s philosophy of organism It also discusses the function of creativity in the worlds of literature Creation Out of Nothing Paul Copan,William Lane Craig,2004-06 Addresses the biblical philosophical and scientific bases for the doctrine of creation out of nothing while countering contemporary trends that are assailing this doctrine PHILOSOPHY OF CREATION THE SYS George Henry Dole,2016-08-29 This work has

A Survey of the Wisdom of God in the Creation, Or, A Compendium of Natural Philosophy John Wesley,1784 Aquinas and the Metaphysics of Creation Gaven Kerr OP,2019-07-01 In this book Gaven Kerr expands on the brief treatment of creation offered in his 2015 volume Aquinas s Way to God The Proof in De Ente et Essentia Aquinas does not offer one cohesive treatment on the issue of creation Kerr synthesizes discussions from across his works in order to present a unified Thomistic metaphysics of creation Kerr argues that Aquinas s metaphysics of creation wherein God is conceived as the absolute source of all that exists is the backbone of his philosophical theology Throughout his writings the framework of the absolute dependence of creatures on God and of the independence of God as existence itself is ever present Without understanding this aspect of Aquinas s philosophical thought Kerr suggests it is impossible to understand his philosophy of God When it comes to metaphysics Thomas is committed to thinking through the issues involved therein on the basis of natural reason Aquinas and the Metaphysics of Creation demonstrates Aquinas s belief that we must arrive at an affirmation of the existence of God on the basis of a wider metaphysical view as to the constitution of reality a view that does not presuppose divine truths but can indeed establish them The Future of Creation Order Govert J.
