Photographic Vision In Proust:

Photographic Vision in Proust Stephen C. Infantino,1992 Proust's Imaginary Museum Gabrielle Townsend,2008

This study of Marcel Proust's creative imagination examines an aspect of the novel that has hitherto been largely overlooked the author's dependence on secondary visual sources Gabrielle Townsend argues that reproductions play a key role in the work's complex multi-layered structure A Vision of Paris Eugène Atget,Marcel Proust,1963 Combining the work of two extraordinary artists Eugène Atget a giant of early photography and Marcel Proust the French novelist this stunning volume in 120 haunting photographs and a brilliant text taken from Remembrance of Things Past brings to life Paris at the turn of the twentieth century More than a re-creation of a particular metropolitan setting A Vision of Paris evokes a fusion of time and place a rich sensory world of people and pleasures sights sounds smells and customs that is so distinctly parisien

Publisher's description A vision of Paris Eugène Atget,1963 The Senses of Modernism Sara Danus,2019-01-24 In The Senses of Modernism Sara Danus develops a radically new theoretical and historical understanding of high modernism The author closely analyzes Thomas Mann's The Magic Mountain Marcel Proust's Remembrance of Things Past and James Joyce's Ulysses as narratives of the sweeping changes that affected high and low culture in the age of technological reproduction In her discussion of the years from 1880 to 1930 Danus proposes that the high modernist aesthetic is inseparable from a technologically mediated crisis of the senses She reveals the ways in which categories of perceiving and knowing are realigned when technological devices are capable of reproducing sense data Sparked by innovations such as chronophotography phonography radiography cinematography and technologies of speed this sudden shift in perceptual abilities had an effect on all arts of the time Danus explores how perception notably sight and hearing is staged in the three most significant modern novels in German French and British literature The Senses of Modernism connects technological change and formal innovation to transform the study of modernist aesthetics Danus questions the longstanding acceptance of a binary relationship between high and low culture and describes the complicated relationship between modernism and technology challenging the conceptual divide between a technological culture and a more properly aesthetic one

Bernard Plossu's New Mexico Bernard Plossu,Gilles Mora,1983 A remarkable collection of New Mexico images by one of today's best known French photographers Vision in Context Teresa Brennan,Martin Jay,2013-09-05 Vision and the gaze are key issues in the analysis of racism sexism and ethnocentrism In recent radical theory generally and French theory in particular vision has been seen as a means of control But this view is often unnuanced It bypasses questions such as Why is it that contemporary theories have been so critical of vision and generous towards listening in psychoanalysis and language in philosophy This collection of original essays brings together historical studies and contemporary theoretical perspectives on vision The historical papers focus in turn on Ancient Greece medieval theology the Renaissance the Enlightenment and the nineteenth century These historical studies are themselves thoroughly informed by poststructuralist theory They provide a rigorous background for several new exciting articles on vision and its bearings for feminism race sexual orientation film and art This collection is the first of its kind in juxtaposing historical and contemporary French Gay Modernism Lawrence R. Schehr, 2004 The first four decades of the twentieth century saw male homosexuality appear in French literature with increasing frequency and boldness Departing from earlier more muted presentations Andr Gide Marcel Proust Jean Cocteau Ren Crevel Francis Carco and a host of less famous writers all created overtly gay characters and gave them increasingly numerous and significant roles Far from being simply shunned or marginalized a number of these works were instead accepted as canonical Lawrence Schehr's French Gay Modernism is the only study devoted to the analyzing these representations of male homosexuality in early twentieth century French literature Schehr explains how earlier representations of homosexuality encoded rather than conspicuous served as a basis for later writers to treat homosexual behavior as sets of relationships rather than as secrets or scandals The prominence of authors such as Proust and Gide also helped other writers take up homosexual relationships in their work often by adopting the same representational strategies Schehr doesn't limit his study to high literary culture however He devotes considerable attention to popular writers whose homosexual characters encounter contempt scorn and worse and whose portrayals of homosexual couples and society were at once more open and more at risk

The Future of Text and Image Ofra Amihay, Lauren Walsh, 2012-01-17 The question of the relation between the visual and the textual in literature is at the heart of an increasing number of scholarly projects and in turn the investigation of evolving visual verbal dynamics is becoming an independent discipline This volume explores these profound literary shifts through the work of twelve talented and in some cases emerging scholars who study text and image relations in diverse forms and contexts The inter medial conjunctures investigated in this book play with and against the traditional roles of the visual and the verbal The Future of Text and Image presents explorations of the incorporation of visual elements into works of literature of visual writing modes and of the textuality and literariness of images It focuses on the special potential literature offers for the combination of these two functions Alongside examinations of major forms and genres such as memoirs novels and poetry this volume expands the discussion of text and image relations into more marginal forms for instance collage books the PostSecret collections of anonymous postcards and digital poetry In other words while exploring the destiny of text and image as an independent discipline this volume simultaneously looks at the very literal future of text and image forms in an ever changing technological reality The essays in this book will help to define the emergent practices and politics of this growing field of study and at the same time reflect the tremendous significance of the visual in today's image culture

Literature & Photography Interactions, 1840-1990 Jane Marjorie Rabb, 1995 This remarkable book traces comprehensively for the first time the give and take between these sister arts by gathering writings about photography and photographs by and of writers from England Europe and the United States over the last century and a half

The Art of the Text Susan R

Harrow,2013-09-15 The Art of the Text contributes to the fast developing dialogue between textual studies and visual culture studies It focuses on the processes through which writers think and readers respond visually and in essays by researchers in literature screen and visual studies the volume explores the viscosity of the literary and non literary text with a sustained focus on French material of the later nineteenth and twentieth centuries Visuality is appraised here not as a state but as a set of processes of adaptation resistance negotiation and transformation By reading visually the contributors here reactivate the visual textual relations of canonical texts from Romanticism to Naturalism Surrealism to high Modernism from film to fan literature television to picture language

Proust's Cup of Tea Emily Eells,2017-03-02 Proust s Cup of Tea analyzes Proust s reading of various Victorian authors and shows how they contributed to A la recherche du temps perdu This book proves that British literature and art played a fundamental role in Proust s writing process by citing from the manuscript versions of his novel as well as from his correspondence essays and the lengthy critical apparatus accompanying his translations of Ruskin Eells reflects here on why Proust was attracted to Victorian culture and how he incorporated it into his novel The works of the British novelists he was most interested in Thomas Hardy and George Eliot address questions of gender which Proust develops in his own work He builds Sodome et Gomorrhe I the section of his novel focusing on homosexuality on a series of explicit citations and guarded allusions to Shakespeare Darwin Walter Scott Oscar Wilde and Robert Louis Stevenson Eells explores how Proust followed in the pioneering footsteps of those British writers who had ventured beyond the boundaries of conventional sexuality though he took pains to erase their traces in the definitive version of his work This study also highlights how Proust made his fictitious painter Elstir into a master of ambiguity by modeling his art on Turner the Pre Raphaelites and Whistler Eells shows that Proust drew on Victorian culture in his depiction of sexual ambiguity arguing that he confounded eroticism and aestheticism in the way he inextricably linked the man woman figure with British art and literature As Proust aestheticized male and female homosexuality using references to British art and letters Eells coins the term Anglosexuality to refer to his characters of the third sex She defines Anglosexuality as an intersexuality represented through intertextuality as an artistic sensitivity an aesthetic stance and a new way of seeing Proust s Cup of Tea thus demonstrates that Victorian culture and homoeroticism form one of the cornerstones of Proust s monumental work

Proust Writing Photography Aine Larkin, 2017-07-05 The importance of vision and visual arts such as painting theatre and sculpture in Marcel Proust's A la recherche du temps perdu has long been affirmed another significant system of visual representation in the novel is photography Proust appropriated photography as a practice with its own distinctive characteristics which could inform his writing about the processes of perception and memory Through close textual analysis of scenes where photography is experienced or observed as a practice and scenes where photography is written into the body of the text Aine Larkin offers an invigorating new study that sheds genuinely new light on the presence of photographic motifs in Proust's novel and the subtlety of Proust's engagement with this modern imaging system in his work

Downcast Eyes Martin Jay, 1993-10 Long considered the noblest of the senses vision has increasingly come under critical scrutiny by a wide range of thinkers who question its dominance in Western culture These critics of vision especially prominent in twentieth century France have challenged its allegedly superior capacity to provide access to the world They have also criticized its supposed complicity with political and social oppression through the promulgation of spectacle and surveillance Martin Jay turns to this discourse surrounding vision and explores its often contradictory implications in the work of such influential figures as Jean Paul Sartre Maurice Merleau Ponty Michel Foucault Jacques Lacan Louis Althusser Guy Debord Luce Irigaray Emmanuel Levinas and Jacques Derrida Jay begins with a discussion of the theory of vision from Plato to Descartes then considers its role in the French Enlightenment before turning to its status in the culture of modernity From consideration of French Impressionism to analysis of Georges Bataille and the Surrealists Roland Barthes's writings on photography and the film theory of Christian Metz Jay provides lucid and fair minded accounts of thinkers and ideas widely known for their difficulty His book examines the myriad links between the interrogation of vision and the pervasive antihumanist antimodernist and counter enlightenment tenor of much recent French thought Refusing however to defend the dominant visual order he calls instead for a plurality of scopic regimes Certain to generate controversy and discussion throughout the humanities and social sciences Downcast Eyes will consolidate Jay's reputation as one of today's premier cultural and intellectual historians

Truth in Photography Michael Naas, 2019-08-06 From the very invention of photography in the early part of the nineteenth century right up through the most recent developments in photography through digital technology theorists have never stopped asking whether there is in fact any truth at all in photography The essays collected in this volume consider this and related questions for example the relationship between photography and representation history time narrative memory mourning and so on through the works of Walter Benjamin Helene Cixous and Jacques Derrida among others The volume opens with a previously untranslated essay by Derrida on photography entitled precisely Aletheia Truth and it concludes with Melville's Couvade an original work of fiction on the theme of photography by David Farrell Krell

'Light that Dances in the Mind' Graham Smith, 2007 This book is concerned with the presence of familiar objects in unfamiliar places It examines the literary practice of inserting imaginary photographs of art architecture and people into novels and short stories These photographs are fictive objects although some especially those of art and architecture have equivalents in real life The book examines the presence of invented photographs in the writings of six authors who made extensive use of this practice The first part of the book concentrates on E M Forster while also including some discussion of imaginary photographs in Sinclair Lewis's novel Main Street The second part of the book analyses the uses of photographs in the writings of Forster's near contemporaries with separate chapters being devoted to Henry James Marcel Proust James Joyce and Virginia Woolf An epilogue touches on Christopher Isherwood a member of the next generation of British writers The book focuses upon largely unexplored areas in the writings of these authors what Virginia Woolf in Modern Fiction styled unexpected places
