Archaeologies of Us and Them Charlotta Hillerdal,Anna Karlström,Carl-Gösta Ojala,2017-02-17 Archaeologies of Us and Them explores the concept of indigeneity within the field of archaeology and heritage and in particular examines the shifts in power that occur when we define the other by categorizing them as indigenous Recognizing the complex and shifting distinctions between indigenous and non indigenous pasts and presents this volume gives a nuanced analysis of the underlying definitions concepts and ethics associated with this field in order to explore Indigenous archaeology as a theoretical ethical and political concept Indigenous archaeology is an increasingly important topic discussed worldwide and as such critical analyses must be applied to debates which are often surrounded by political correctness and consensus views Drawing on an international range of global case studies this timely and sensitive collection significantly contributes to the development of archaeological critical theory The Regional Travel Guide for Queensland (Australia) , A Blue Carbon Primer Lisamarie Windham-Myers,Stephen Crooks,Tiffany G. Troxler,2018-11-16 Key features Captures the historic context and recent developments in science and policy arenas that address the potential for coastal wetlands to be considered as significant contributors to carbon sequestration Links multiple levels of science biogeochemistry geomorphology paleoclimate etc with blue carbon concepts science policy mapping operationalization economics in a single compendium Concludes with a discussion of future directions which covers integrated scientific approaches impending threats and specific gaps in current knowledge Includes 7 case studies from across the globe that demonstrate the benefits and challenges of blue carbon accounting Written by over 100 leading global blue carbon experts in science and policy Blue Carbon has emerged as a term that represents the distinctive carbon stocks and fluxes into or out of coastal wetlands such as marshes mangroves and seagrasses The Blue Carbon concept has rapidly developed in science literature and is highly relevant politically as nations and markets are developing blue carbon monitoring and management tools and policies This book is a comprehensive and current compendium of the state of the science the state of maps and mapping protocols and the state of policy incentives including economic valuation of blue carbon with additional sections on operationalizing blue carbon projects and 7 case studies with global relevance Australian National Bibliography ,1978 The Great Barrier Reef of Australia William Saville-Kent,1893 Encyclopedia of Modern Coral Reefs David Hopley,2010-11-26 Coral reefs are the largest landforms built by plants and animals Their study therefore incorporates a wide range of disciplines This encyclopedia approaches coral reefs from an earth science perspective concentrating especially on modern reefs Currently coral reefs are under high stress most prominently from climate change with changes to water temperature sea level and ocean acidification particularly damaging Modern reefs have evolved through the massive environmental changes of the Quaternary with long periods of exposure during glacially lowered sea level periods and short periods of interglacial growth. The entries in this encyclopedia condense the large amount of work carried out since Charles Darwin first attempted to understand reef evolution. Leading authorities from many countries have contributed to the entries covering areas of geology, geography and ecology, providing comprehensive access to the most up to date research on the structure, form and processes operating on Quaternary coral reefs.
