Photojournalism The Womans Perspective:

Women and Photography in Apartheid South Africa Marie Meyerding, 2025-04-29 Tracing the lives and works of five women in four case studies author Marie Meyerding examines the representation of women in the field of photography in South Africa in the second half of the twentieth century All of them are critically understudied with no existing scholarship dedicated exclusively to their photographic contributions Focusing on the representation of women on two different levels as agents behind the camera and as subjects in photographs it showcases women photographers portraying their female contemporaries and analyses to what extent they adhered to or subverted common forms of gender representation In recuperating their forgotten archives the book argues that none of these women are marginal figures but rather that each of them played a leading role in the field of photography in their own time The book will be of interest to scholars working in art history history of photography gender studies intersectionality and African studies The Multimedia Encyclopedia of Women in Today's World Mary Zeiss Stange, Carol K. Oyster, Jane E. Sloan, 2013-01-09 This e only volume expands and updates the original 4 volume Encyclopedia of Women in Today s World 2011 offering a wide range of new entries and new multimedia content The entries reflect such developments as the Arab Spring that brought women s issues in the Islamic world into sharp relief the domination of female athletes among medal winners at the London 2012 Olympics nine more women joining the ranks of democratically elected heads of state and much more The 475 articles in this e only update accompanied by photos and video clips supplement the themes established in the original edition providing a vibrant collection of entries dealing with contemporary women s issues around the world Editing and Design: Pictures on a page; photo-journalism, graphics and picture editing Harold Evans, 1978 Women Photograph: What We See Daniella Zalcman, Sara Ickow, 2023-03-07 In What We See open your eyes to a new world view with 100 women photojournalists stories from behind the lens Critical Issues in Photojournalism Adrian Hadland, 2025-05-12 Drawing on original research and industry experience this book studies the historical debates and controversies underpinning photojournalism and those practising it today Beginning with the origins of photography and the close knit relationship between journalism and the image this book goes on to consider the theories that have sought to unpick photography and photojournalism and how these translate to contemporary practice Hadland examines the present and potential roles of photojournalism in society and reflects on how technological advances such as Artificial Intelligence may impact the profession Ethical considerations and certain immeasurable dimensions of photography including concepts of power truth and meaning are brought into question alongside ongoing issues of exclusion and homogeneity amongst professional photojournalists Critical Issues in Photojournalism is an ideal primer for students seeking a solid historical ethical and reflective understanding of the discipline Women Made Visible Gabriela Aceves Sepúlveda, 2019-04-01 2020 Canadian Association for Latin American and Caribbean Studies CALACS Book Prize In post 1968 Mexico a group of artists and feminist activists began to question how feminine bodies were visually constructed and politicized across media. Participation of women was increasing in the public sphere and the exclusive emphasis on written culture was giving way to audio visual communications. Motivated by a desire for self representation both visually and in politics female artists and activists transformed existing regimes of media and visibility. Women Made Visible by Gabriela Aceves Sep lveda uses a transnational and interdisciplinary lens to analyze the fundamental and overlooked role played by artists and feminist activists in changing the ways female bodies were viewed and appropriated. Through their concern for self representation both visually and in formal politics these women played a crucial role in transforming existing regimes of media and visibility increasingly important intellectual spheres of action. Foregrounding the work of female artists and their performative and visual rather than written interventions in urban space in Mexico City Aceves Sep lveda demonstrates that these women feminized Mexico's mediascapes and shaped the debates over the female body gender difference and sexual violence during the last decades of the twentieth century. Weaving together the practices of activists filmmakers visual artists videographers and photographers Women Made Visible questions the disciplinary boundaries that have historically undermined the practices of female artists and activists and locates the development of Mexican second wave feminism as a meaningful actor in the contested political spaces of the era both in Mexico City and internationally.

"Women, Workers, and Race in LIFE Magazine " Dolores Flamiano, 2017-07-05

The tension between social reform photography and photojournalism is examined through this study of the life and work of German girl Ansel Mieth 1909-1998 who made an unlikely journey from migrant farm worker to LIFE photographer. She was the second woman in that role after Margaret Bourke White. Unlike her colleagues Mieth was a working class reformer with a deep disdain for LIFE's conservatism and commercialism. In fact her work often subverted LIFE's typical representations of women workers and minorities. Some of her most compelling photo essays used skillful visual storytelling to offer fresh views on controversial topics birth control vivisection labor unions and Japanese American internment during the Second World War. Her dual role as reformer and photojournalist made her a desirable commodity at LIFE in the late 1930s and early 40s but this role became untenable in Cold War America when her career was cut short. Today Mieth's life and photographs stand as compelling reminders of the vital yet overlooked role of immigrant women in twentieth century photojournalism.

Women Workers and Race in LIFE Magazine draws upon a rich array of primary sources including Mieth's unpublished memoir oral histories and labor archives. The book seeks to unravel and understand the multi layered often contested stories of the photographer's life and work. It will be of interest to scholars of photography history women's studies visual culture and media history.
