The nurse is setting up an education session with an 85-year-old patient who will be going home on anticoagulant therapy. Which strategy would reflect consideration of aging changes that may exist with this patient?

- A. Show a colorful video about anticoagulation therapy.
  - B. Present all the information in one session just before discharge.
  - C. Give the patient pamphlets about the medications to read at home.
  - D. Develop large-print handouts that reflect the verbal information presented.
- D. Develop large-print handouts that reflect the verbal information presented.

Rationale: Option D addresses altered perception in two ways. First, by using visual aids to reinforce verbal instructions, one addresses the possibility of decreased ability to hear high-frequency sounds. By developing the handouts in large print, one addresses the possibility of decreased visual acuity. Option A does not allow discussion of the information; furthermore, the text and print may be small and difficult to read and understand.

When developing the plan of care for an older adult who is hospitalized for an acute illness, the nurse should

- A. use a standardized geriatric nursing care plan.
- B. plan for likely long-term-care transfer to allow additional time for recovery.
- C. consider the preadmission functional abilities when setting patient goals.
