Psychoanalysis Through the Lens of Narcissism Orna Afek, 2025-02-12 This critical historical review of psychoanalytic theory and practice reflects on the place of psychoanalysis in contemporary Western culture in light of its preoccupation with the self and associated failure to emphasize the role of close interpersonal relationships as central to the human psyche The elusive presence of the separate other in psychoanalytic theory is discussed vis vis the life stories of Freud Winnicott and Kohut The underlying narcissistic bias in the theories of these three pioneers of psychoanalysis classical Freudian drive theory Winnicott s theory of the parent infant relationship and Kohut s theory of self psychology is traced back to their narcissistic personality traits which impacted their views and perceptions and obscured the fundamental centrality of interpersonal relationships per se in the inner world of the individual with far reaching implications for psychoanalytic thought and practice With fresh insights on the subjectivity of personality theories the core features of the narcissistic personality and the implications of the narcissistic position for theory and clinical practice this book will interest psychotherapists psychoanalysts and other professionals in the field specifically those interested in personality diagnosis narcissism attachment theory and psychotherapeutic approaches and psychoanalytic theories in general Psychoanalysis and History ,1998

Death, Emotion and Childhood in Premodern Europe Katie Barclay, Kimberley Reynolds, Ciara Rawnsley, 2017-02-06 This book draws on original material and approaches from the developing fields of the history of emotions and childhood studies and brings together scholars from history literature and cultural studies to reappraise how the early modern world reacted to the deaths of children Child death was the great equaliser of the early modern period affecting people of all ages and conditions It is well recognised that the deaths of children struck at the heart of early modern families yet less known is the variety of ways that not only parents but siblings communities and even nations responded to childhood death The contributors to this volume ask what emotional responses to child death tell us about childhood and the place of children in society Placing children and their voices at the heart of this investigation they track how emotional norms values and practices shifted across the fifteenth to nineteenth centuries through different religious legal and national traditions This collection demonstrates that child death was not just a family matter but integral to how communities and societies defined themselves Chapter 5 of this book is available open access under a CC BY 4 0 license at link.springer.com

Catch Them Before They Fall Christopher Bollas, Sacha Bollas, 2013 In this exploration of a radical approach to the psychoanalytical treatment of people on the verge of mental breakdown Christopher Bollas offers a new and courageous clinical paradigm He suggests that the unconscious purpose of breakdown is to present the self to the other for transformative understanding to have its core distress met and understood directly If caught in time a breakdown can become a breakthrough It is an event imbued with the most profound personal significance but it requires deep understanding if its meaning is to be released to its transformative potential Bollas believes that hospitalization intensive medication and CBT DBT all negate this opportunity and he proposes that many of these patients should instead be offered extended intensive psychoanalysis This book will be of interest to clinicians who find that with patients on the verge of breakdown conventional psychoanalytical work is insufficient to meet the emerging crisis However Bollas's challenging proposal will provoke many questions and in the final section of the book some of these are raised by Sacha Bollas and presented in a question and answer form The Freudian Moment Christopher Bollas, 2018-05-01 The author eloquently argues for a return to our understanding of how Freudian psychoanalysis works unconscious to unconscious Failure to follow Freud's basic assumptions about psychoanalytical listening has resulted in the abandonment of searching for the logic of sequence which Freud regarded as the primary way we express unconscious thinking In two extensive interviews and follow up essays all occurring in 2006 we follow the author exploring his most recent and radical challenge to contemporary psychoanalysis The Freudian Moment the author argues realizes a phylogenetic preconception that has existed for tens of thousands of years The invention of psychoanalysis realizes this preconception and institutes a profound step forward in human relations The author's proposal that we use the image of the symphonic score to better imagine unconscious articulation opens up a new conceptual way for grasping the complexity of unconscious thought Freud's Theory of Culture Abraham Drassinower, 2003 Abraham Drassinower takes a fresh look at Freud countering his prevalent image as a man pessimistically renouncing the possibility of social political and cultural change And Death Shall Have Dominion: Interdisciplinary Perspectives on Dying, Caregivers, Death, Mourning and the Bereaved Katarzyna Małeczka, Rossanna Gibbs, 2019-07-22 This volume was first published by Inter Disciplinary Press in 2015 This collection of essays presents a variety of perspectives on death and dying by scholars from different countries The areas covered in the volume include Conceptual Cultural and Gender Approaches to Death and the Deceased Children and Death Legal Aspects of Euthanasia and Discussion on Choices at End of Life Palliative Care and Responsibilities and Challenges of Medical and Family Caregivers the Aesthetic Experience of Life's End and Modern Ways of Grieving and Commemorating the Dead Essential Interviewing and Counseling Skills Tracy A. Prout, Tracy Prout, PhD, Melanie Wadkins, PhD, 2014-03-27 Print CourseSmart Freudian Fadeout Arij Ouweneel, 2012-08-13 In Western culture the psychoanalysis that has guided popular psychology for almost a century is now on the retreat Better equipped with proven results cognitive and evolutionary psychology has driven psychoanalysis out of the spotlight In cultural and film studies however the debate between cognitive sciences and psychoanalysis remains contentious This volume explores this state of things by examining criticism of 18 films juxtaposing them with cognitive based films to reveal the flaws in the psychoanalytical concepts It pays particular attention to simulation theory the concept that narratives learned from films could work in human minds as simulations for solutions to particular problems By introducing the idea of narrative stimulation to film studies this work argues for a different method of film critique encouraging further research into this nascent field Updating Midlife Guillermo Julio Montero, Alicia Mirta

Ciancio de Montero, Liliana Singman de Vogelfanger, 2018-05-08 Midlife is a concept used everywhere and from many different vertexes though mostly imprecisely even within the psychoanalytic paradigm This book tries to settle its proper meaning through the challenge of laying the foundations for the development of a true psychoanalytic metapsychology for midlife something that the editors believe in psychoanalysis was lacking From this viewpoint they invited fourteen renowned psychoanalysts to share their ideas about the issue The outcome of that work is Updating Midlife Psychoanalytic Perspectives which in addition to the various contributions includes an introductory paper by the editors This book is a true step forward in the development of a specific metapsychology for midlife

The Vitality of Objects Joseph Scalia, 2002 Influential and potent essays enhance today's discourse on the nature of self

Infiltrating Culture Mireille Rosello, 1996 Mireille Rosello's analysis explodes the notion of binary oppositions the insider outsider black white straight queer rich poor solid fluid The infiltrator she argues is an ambivalent figure one who penetrates a closed territory only to expose the fantasy upon which power relations are founded

Mimetic Desire Jeffrey Adams, Eric Williams, 1995 Reconsideration of the phenomenon of narcissism in the works of a number of important German writers This important collection of essays opens new psychological perspectives on writers such as Tieck Goethe Freud Thomas Mann Heidegger and Thomas Bernhard

Psychological approaches to literature have grown rapidly in the last few decades new developments in literary psychoanalysis mirroring the reassessment of Freud in the psychoanalytic community particularly important revisions have come both from the Lacanian school and from the field of object relations and self psychology The latter studies narcissism not only as a pathological condition but as a healthy and universal aspect of all psychological reality Theorists such as Heinz Kohut have also suggested that the transformations of narcissism can be healthy and may contribute to the development of wisdom humour and creativity The articles in this volume consider the phenomenon of narcissism across a wide range of works several reflecting the current re-evaluations of narcissism as a counter challenge to Freudian thought and attitudes

Elaborate Selves E Mark Stern, 2013-12-16 In this fascinating volume Anthony Molino interviews some of today's foremost thinkers in psychoanalysis and psychotherapy Organized around the fertile and controversial concept of multiplicity Elaborate Selves explores the life work and thought of a diverse group of therapists who have played key roles in furthering postmodern perspectives on self experience Through five engaging conversations readers discover how discontinuities in self experience reflect phenomena that are both fundamental to formations of human identity and central to an understanding of contemporary relationships Throughout the strands of these interviews theory and practice come alive in a multivocal exploration at the intersections of culture and history ideology and instinct biology and fantasy nostalgia and hope and ultimately of trauma and treatment Elaborate Selves explores the postmodern concern with the notion of a multiple or fragmented self In this context the stories lives and selves of the very therapists interviewed are seen to reflect predicaments and tensions of the culture at large Each interview explores a therapist's unique contribution to the field while making connections between efforts and theories that at a first glance appear remarkably diverse Among these are the constructivism of Jungian Buddhist and feminist Polly Young Eisendrath the inspired object relations theorizing of Christopher Bollas and the mystic sensibilities of Michael Eigen Readers will find that the depth and complexities of the following issues are rendered in a language that is at once both compelling and accessible contemporary theories of the self and implications for clinical practice psychoanalysis and postmodernism psychoanalysis and spirituality myth and ritual as a basis for self knowledge and group psychotherapy A fundamental text for clinicians and students of all schools of psychoanalysis contemporary social theory philosophy and religious thought Elaborate Selves is a major contribution to the ever growing genre of the interview Indeed the interviews collected in this unique volume offer more than an exciting exploration of a singular group of life experiences They probe beyond the biographical to illustrate connections between personal and intellectual history and between life experience culture and the production of knowledge in an increasingly complex world

Sex, Death, and the Superego Ronald Britton, 2020-09-22 This second edition of Ronald Britton's personal reappraisal of psychoanalytic theories is based on further clinical experience further study of current neuroscience and continued reflection on the relationship of brain and mind selfhood and self awareness belief and knowledge and certainty and uncertainty Divided into three parts Hysteria The ego and superego and Narcissism this new edition adds content on brain mind and self the death instinct and a discussion on the biological psychological and sociological basis of gender It suggests that our increasing knowledge necessarily produces a dissolution of our coherent concepts of mind and brain and that during this phase of creative dissolution we need to reassess what we know and what we don't know Fundamental to the book is the notion that human beings have to live with probability but that we long for certainty and create it for ourselves This book will be of great interest to psychoanalysts in clinical practice and academia as well as other mental health professionals and those with an interest in psychoanalytic theory

Empire Islands Rebecca Weaver-Hightower, Through a detailed unpacking of the castaway genre's appeal in English literature Empire Islands forwards our understanding of the sociopsychology of British Empire Rebecca Weaver Hightower argues convincingly that by helping generations of readers to make sense of and perhaps feel better about imperial aggression the castaway story in effect enabled the expansion and maintenance of European empire Empire Islands asks why so many colonial authors chose islands as the setting for their stories of imperial adventure and why so many postcolonial writers write back to those island castaway narratives Drawing on insightful readings of works from Thomas More's Utopia to Caribbean novels like George Lamming's Water with Berries from canonical works such as Robinson Crusoe and The Tempest to the lesser known A Narrative of the Life and Astonishing Adventures of John Daniel by Ralph Morris Weaver Hightower examines themes of cannibalism piracy monstrosity imperial aggression and the concept of going native Ending with analysis of contemporary film and the role of the United States in global neoimperialism Weaver Hightower exposes how island narratives continue not only to describe but to justify colonialism Rebecca Weaver Hightower is assistant professor of English and postcolonial studies at the University of North Dakota
