Reading With A Difference Gender Race And Cultural Identity A Criticism:

Reading with a Difference Arthur F. Marotti, 1993 Reading with a Difference is a collection of eighteen essays that examines how issues of gender race and cultural identity inform texts from the seventeenth century to the present Together the contributions document recent significant shifts occurring in the theoretical approach to the texts they study and illustrate how shifts in each of these categories affect how the others are viewed The first section of this anthology explores the notion that identity particularly gender identity is a cultural construct The essays in the second section consider ways in which race and gender intersect with cultural identity and how encounters between different cultures challenge any identity constructed in isolation First published in the journal Criticism these essays offer no blueprint for reading Instead they encourage a rereading of canonical texts and a questioning of how these texts face matters of gender race and cultural identity how they respond to the differences and the incongruities within the cultures from which they arise and to which they speak BOOK JACKET Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America Inc All Rights Reserved

Conversion and Reform in the British Novel in the 1790s A. Markley, 2008-12-22 Conversion and Reform analyzes the work of those British reformists writing in the 1790s who reshaped the conventions of fiction to reposition the novel as a progressive political tool Includes new readings of key figures such as Mary Wollstonecraft and Thomas Holcroft The Undercut

Reader Nina Danino, Michael Mazière, 2003 A collection of writings and visual works from the UK magazine Undercut together with newly commissioned articles by leading critics in the field Critical Realism, Feminism, and Gender: A Reader Michiel van Ingen, Steph Grohmann, Lena Gunnarsson, 2020-05-10 In assessing the current state of feminism and gender studies whether on a theoretical or a practical level it has become increasingly challenging to avoid the conclusion that these fields are in a state of disarray Indeed feminist and gender studies discussions are beset with persistent splits and disagreements This reader suggests that returning to and placing centre stage the role of philosophy especially critical realist philosophy of science is invaluable for efforts that seek to overcome or mitigate the uncertainty and acrimony that have resulted from this situation In particular it claims that the dialectical logic that runs through critical realist philosophy is ideally suited to advancing feminist and gender studies discussions about broad ontological and epistemological questions and considerations intersectionality and methodology methods and empirical research By bringing together four new and eight existing writings this reader provides both a focal point for renewed discussions about the potential and actual contributions of critical realist philosophy to feminism and gender studies and a timely contribution to these discussions

The People, Place, and Space Reader Jen Jack Gieseke, William Mangold, Cindi Katz, Setha Low, Susan Saegert, 2014-04-16 The People Place and Space Reader brings together the writings of scholars designers and activists from a variety of fields to make sense of the makings and meanings of the world we inhabit They help us to understand the relationships between people and the environment at all scales and to consider the active roles individuals groups and social structures play in creating the environments in which people live work and play These readings highlight the ways in which space and place are produced through large and small scale social political and economic practices and offer new ways to think about how people engage the environment in multiple and diverse ways Providing an essential resource for students of urban studies geography sociology and many other areas this book brings together important but till now widely dispersed writings across many inter related disciplines Introductions from the editors precede each section introducing the texts demonstrating their significance and outlining the key issues surrounding the topic A companion website PeoplePlaceSpace.org extends the work even further by providing an on going series of additional reading lists that cover issues ranging from food security to foreclosure psychiatric spaces to the environments of predator animals Feminist Bookstore News

Feminism and Territoriality Susanne Hagemann,2005 Film Theory Goes to the Movies Jim Collins,Ava Preacher

Collins, Hilary Radner, 2012-10-02 Film Theory Goes to the Movies fills the gap in film theory literature which has failed to analyze high grossing blockbusters. The contributors in this volume however discuss such popular films as The Silence of the Lambs, Dances With Wolves, Terminator II, Pretty Woman, Truth or Dare, Mystery Train and JungleFever. They employ a variety of critical approaches from industry analysis to reception study to close readings informed by feminist deconstructive and postmodernist theory as well as recent developments in African American and gay and lesbian criticism. An important introduction to contemporary Hollywood, this anthology will be of interest to those involved in the fields of film theory, literary theory, popular culture and women's studies.

Reader in Qualitative Methods in Migration Research Ibrahim

Sirkeci, Carla DeTona, Theodoros Iosifides, Annalisa Frisina, 2019-02-28 This edited collection published in Migration Letters were selected to reflect on methodological challenges faced by researchers and students when conducting qualitative studies on migration. Beginning with papers focusing on broader discussions of methodological issues and some options available to researchers, the latter half of the book explores the narrative methodology in depth with references to several cases. The chapters included in this book were originally published in regular issues and two special issues of Migration Letters journal from 2009 onwards. We have regrouped and ordered these studies to enhance the flow and transition in the book. The first six chapters look into more general issues and debates in migration research methodologies while chapters seven to ten offer cases studies on alternative qualitative methodologies and then the final six chapters focus on narratives and challenges of the narrative methodology applied in migration studies.

Indigenous Women's Writing and the Cultural Study of Law

Cheryl Suzack, 2017-05-08 In Indigenous Women's Writing and the Cultural Study of Law Cheryl Suzack explores Indigenous women's writing in the post civil rights period through close reading analysis of major texts by Leslie Marmon Silko, Beatrice Culleton Mosionier, Louise Erdrich and Winona LaDuke. Working within a transnational framework that compares multiple tribal national contexts and U.S./Canadian settler colonialism, Suzack sheds light on how these Indigenous writers use storytelling to engage in social justice activism by contesting discriminatory tribal membership codes, critiquing the dispossession of Indigenous women from their children, challenging dehumanizing blood quantum codes and protesting colonial forms of land dispossession. Each chapter in this volume aligns a court case with a literary text to show how literature contributes to self-determination struggles. Situated at the intersections of critical race, Indigenous feminist and social justice theories, Indigenous Women's Writing and the Cultural Study of Law crafts an Indigenous feminist literary model in order to demonstrate how Indigenous women respond to the narrow vision of law by recuperating other relationships to themselves, the land, the community and the settler nation.

The Routledge Reader in Politics and Performance Jane de Gay, Lizbeth Goodman, 2002-01-31 The Routledge Reader in Politics and Performance brings together for the first time a comprehensive collection of extracts from key writings on politics, ideology and performance.
