Maki,2003-11-06 This state of the art textbook illustrates paradigms for professional practice provides an overview of current knowledge and future trends in rehabilitation counseling and aims to stimulate thinking that will lead to new research initiatives Both settings private and public as well as services are addressed including placement advocacy and case management The text also contains elements of practice including cutting edge uses of technology and supervision both clinical and managerial The appendices include useful source materials such as Rehabilitation Acronyms and the Code of Professional Ethics for Certified Rehabilitation Counselors Readings in Vocational Rehabilitation Counseling Robert M. Davis,1971 Principles and Practices of Case Management in Rehabilitation Counseling E. Davis Martin,2007 This second edition is a major revision and update of Rehabilitation and Disability Psychosocial Case Studies The role and function of the rehabilitation counselor is described relative to the principles and practices of case management in the vocational rehabilitation process The first chapter describes landmark legislation that has ensured the human and civil rights of persons with disabilities The author relates changes to those of the consumerism movement as persons with disabilities move from passive recipients of services to active participants capable of steering their own future choosing their jobs and environments Assessment as a best practice has expanded from being agency oriented to being person oriented In addition to the use of best practices the author advocates the use of best values to serve as the decision making foundation for the application of best practices Values can be the standards that guide the entire rehabilitation service delivery process including the formulation of objectives the search for alternatives and the choices among them The goal is for the client to realize the American Dream The first two parts of the text provide a person based philosophy and a substantial knowledge base in case management and the thirteen case studies in the third part allow the reader to investigate the use of best practices and best values in case management An outstanding group of contributors was selected to author various chapters Their collective achievements have included agency executive leadership university professorships and consultative activities at the state national and international levels Each contributor as well has made significant scholarly contributions to the rehabilitation literature While the text was developed primarily for use in graduate rehabilitation counseling programs it has great utility for related academic programs in allied health psychology social sciences and special education The text also has practical value for in service and short term training anywhere that the vocational rehabilitation process can be facilitated from a client centered perspective Readings in Rehabilitation Administration T.F. Riggart,J.R. Lorenz,1985-01-01

Readings in Rehabilitation Administration fills the gap in the training of human service administrators and managers. The selections reflect the growing needs, trends, and new requirements that directly affect the human services at both the national and local levels. This text meets the needs of those innovative educators who are responsive to the needs of students in the human resource field and the disabled. While practitioners are well trained in their field, many have little or no education or training for the management roles they assume. Readings in Rehabilitation Administration provides for the first time a curriculum content to prepare new administrators. The articles included cover a wide range of not only current trends but classic topics which have passed the test of time. An extensive bibliography categorizes rehabilitation administration management articles published during the past decade.

The Professional Practice of Rehabilitation Counseling Michael Hartley, Vilija M. Tarvydas, 2022-09-28. The most current book available on rehabilitation counseling. This textbook is a comprehensive introduction to rehabilitation counseling encompassing its history, values, knowledge, skills, and links to the disability community. Underscoring disability as a common part of the human experience, it highlights the knowledge and competencies all rehabilitation counselors need to provide ethical and effective services. To reflect emerging trends, 13 chapters are either completely rewritten or significantly revised. This text offers a stronger focus on psychiatric rehabilitation and mental health counseling practiced by clinical rehabilitation counselors and incorporates new research and knowledge from breakthroughs in neuroscience and psychopharmacology, innovations in digital communication and technology, and shifts in the economy. The book examines the broad-ranging practice of rehabilitation counseling as an evolving amalgamation of CORE and CACREP and delves into the impact of current societal changes: COVID-19, the economic downturn, issues of diversity, equity, and inclusion. It provides an enhanced focus on the demand for clinical and mental health counseling from a rehabilitation perspective and introduces specialized competencies to foster the development of strong advanced skill sets. The text also focuses on the importance of having persons with disabilities participate in their own rehabilitation and as an important component of the development of the field itself. The text is supported by rich ancillaries for educators, including Instructor's Manual, PowerPoints, and Test Bank. New to the Third Edition: New chapter authors are high-caliber experts with unique voices and perspectives who have partnered with senior scholars from previous editions. This new edition is significantly updated to reflect emerging trends that are impacting the professional practice of rehabilitation counseling. Updated chapter on technology in rehabilitation counseling includes distance education, assistive technology, and telemental health. New chapter on Counseling and Mental Health Key Features: Conceptualizes rehabilitation counseling and its complementary relationship to counseling. Each chapter addresses CACREP standards and includes learning objectives, reflection activities, and content review questions. Extensively addresses both aspects of CACREP specialty identity: traditional rehabilitation counseling and clinical rehabilitation counseling. Includes Appendices with a guide to key acronyms and scope of practice. Case conceptualizations focus on the delivery of services.
