Nickerson, 1978 Readings in the Psychology of Gender Anne E. Hunter, Carie Forden, 2002 Though most research in the psychology of gender highlights the differences between females and males this supplementary collection of readings also investigates how they are alike With the aim of providing an accurate picture of gender the authors have culled readings that not only explore commonalties between females and males but also probe the unique ways that people of different races ethnicities social classes and sexual orientations experience gender The result is a model that views gender in terms of thinking feeling and behaving as the result of a complex interplay among biological psychological social and cultural processes Treating Women's Fear of Failure Ellen Cole, Esther D Rothblum, 2014-04-04 This new book looks at an important issue the emotional impact of success upon women at a time when opportunities are more available to them than ever before Using research clinical experience and personal anecdotes the contributors examine the timely issues of women and worry women s sense of their own entitlement fear of success and fear of failure and women s impostor feelings The dilemma that feminist therapists frequently experience of encouraging women clients often superbly qualified in their fields to take a risk that might involve rejection or failure is highlighted here Therapists will recognize the often expressed fears of academic and intellectual failure as well as the fears of various interpersonal failures that result from a combination of women s opportunities in society as well as socialization National Library of Medicine Current Catalog National Library of Medicine (U.S.), 1972 First multi year cumulation covers six years 1965 70 IT'S ABOUT THE JOURNEY Evelyn Joyce Owens, 2011-12-30 As a young woman in my twenties with children to whom I wanted to leave something of myself I determined that one of the most meaningful legacies I could give them was an honest perspective of my life as I saw it In keeping with this policy every ten years I took an honest no holds barred review of my life as I saw it within the time frame of that period in time My logic was that I could never recapture fully the past once it was in the past and therefore I determined that the truth would be most evident in the present tense of the time I hesitated to share such deeply personal glimpses of my life with anyone but my children However in the larger sense I reasoned that my story was a story of life itself It is a story about the family of man If one other person can see something of themselves in some part of my story and gain hope from it I will be well satisfied and fulfilled Now through my life experiences and personal and professional growth I am aware that my story may well be the story of anyone who has struggled to overcome adversity and experienced the joy of self discovery Things are not always what they appear to be Within every seeming failure is the kernel of truth of hope and victory Life itself is truly about the journey Reading on Readings in Ethics Louis F.

Groarke, Paul V. Groarke, Paolo C. Biondi, 2021-04-21 Readings in Ethics offers a vast collection of carefully edited readings arranged chronologically across five historical periods. The selections cover many major Western and non-Western schools of thought including Daoism, virtue ethics, Buddhism, natural law, deontology, utilitarianism, contractarianism, liberalism, Marxism, feminism, and communitarianism. In addition to texts from canonical philosophers such as Plato, Mill, Wollstonecraft, and Rawls, the volume draws from other sources of wisdom: stories, fables, proverbs, medieval mystical treatises, literature, and poetry. The editors have also written substantial introductions, annotations, discussion questions, and suggestions for further reading, making for a thorough guided tour of our ethical past and present.

Reading from the Underside of Selfhood Lisa E. Dahill, 2009-01-01 Dietrich Bonhoeffer's example of self-sacrificing discipleship has for over fifty years inspired Christians around the world in both their resistance to evil and their devotion to Jesus Christ. Yet for some readers, particularly those who suffer trauma, abuse, and other forms of violence, Bonhoeffer's insistence on self-sacrifice on becoming a person for others may prove more harmful than liberating. For those already socialized into self-abnegation, uncritical applications of Bonhoeffer's teachings may reinforce submission rather than resistance to evil. This study explores Bonhoeffer's understandings of selfhood and spiritual formation both in his own experience and writings and in light of the role of gender in psycho-spiritual development. The central constructive chapter creates a mediated conversation between Bonhoeffer and these feminist psychologists on the spiritual formation of survivors of trauma and abuse, including not only dimensions of his thinking to be critiqued from this perspective but also important resources he contributes toward a truly liberating Christian spirituality for those on the underside of selfhood. The book concludes with suggestions regarding the broader relevance of this study and implications for ministry. The insights for spiritual formation developed here provide powerful proof of Bonhoeffer's continuing and concretely contextualized relevance for readers across the full spectrum of human selfhood.
