Intuition Elijah Chudnoff, 2013-12-05 We know about our immediate environment about the people animals and things around us by having sensory perceptions According to a tradition that traces back to Plato we know about abstract reality about mathematics morality and metaphysics by having intuitions which can be thought of as intellectual perceptions The rough idea behind the analogy is this while sensory perceptions are experiences that purport to and sometimes do reveal how matters stand in concrete reality by making us aware of that reality through the senses intuitions are experiences that purport to and sometimes do reveal how matters stand in abstract reality by making us aware of that reality through the intellect In this book Elijah Chudnoff elaborates and defends such a view of intuition He focuses on the experience of having an intuition on the justification for beliefs that derives from intuition and on the contact with abstract reality via intuition In the course of developing a systematic account of the phenomenology epistemology and metaphysics of intuition on which it counts as a form of intellectual perception Chudnoff also takes up related issues such as the a priori perceptual justification and knowledge concepts and understanding inference mental action and skeptical challenges to intuition

Frank Ramsey and the Realistic Spirit Steven Methven, 2015-09-15 This book attempts to explicate and expand upon Frank Ramsey's notion of the realistic spirit In so doing it provides a systematic reading of his work and demonstrates the extent of Ramsey's genius as evinced by both his responses to the Tractatus Logico Philosophicus and the impact he had on Wittgenstein's later philosophical insights

The Subject of Experience Galen Strawson, 2017-01-19 The Subject of Experience is about the self the person It takes the form of a series of essays which draw on literature and psychology as well as philosophy Galen Strawson discusses the phenomenology or experience of having or being a self What is the character of self experience and the fundamental metaphysics of the self Does the self exist If so what is its nature How long do selves last he develops an approach to the metaphysical questions out of the results of the phenomenological investigation He argues that it is legitimate to say that there is such a thing as the self as distinct from the human being At the same time he raises doubts about how long selves can be supposed to last insofar as they are distinct from human beings He also raises a doubt about whether a self or indeed a human being can really be said to lose anything in dying He criticizes the popular notion of the narrative self and considers the differences between Endurers or Diachronic people who feel that they are the same person when they consider their past and future and Transients or Episodic people who do not feel this He considers the first person pronoun I and a number of puzzles raised by the phenomena of self reference and self knowledge He examines Locke's Hume's and Kant's accounts of the mind and personal identity and argues that Locke and Hume have been badly misunderstood

The Powers Metaphysic Neil E. Williams, 2019 Neil E Williams develops a systematic metaphysics centred on the idea of powers as a rival to neo Humeanism the dominant systematic metaphysics in philosophy today Williams takes powers to be inherently causal properties and uses them as the foundation of his explanations of causation persistence laws and modality

The Routledge Handbook of Metaphysical Grounding Michael Raven, 2020-05-04 Some of philosophy's biggest questions both historically and today are in virtue of questions In virtue of what is an action right or wrong In virtue of what am I the same person my mother bore In virtue of what is an artwork beautiful Philosophers attempt to answer many of these types of in virtue of questions but philosophers are also increasingly focusing on what an in virtue of question is in the first place Many assume at least as a working hypothesis that in virtue of questions involve a distinctively metaphysical kind of determinative explanation called ground This Handbook surveys the state of the art on ground as well as its connections and applications to other topics The central issues of ground are discussed in 37 chapters all written exclusively for this volume by a wide range of leading experts The chapters are organized into the following sections I History II Explanation and Determination III Logic and Structure IV Connections V Applications Introductions at the start of each section provide an overview of the section s contents and a list of Related Topics at the end of each chapter points readers to other germane areas throughout the volume The resulting volume is accessible enough for advanced students and informative enough for researchers It is essential reading for anyone hoping to get clearer on what the biggest questions of philosophy are really asking

Explaining the Mental Michael Beaney, Carlo Penco, 2009-03-26 The aim of this collection of papers is to present different philosophical perspectives on the mental exploring questions about how to define explain and understand the various kinds of mental acts and processes and exhibiting in particular the contrast between naturalistic and non naturalistic approaches There is a long tradition in philosophy of clarifying concepts such as those of thinking knowing and believing The task of clarifying these concepts has become ever more important with the major developments that have taken place over the last century in the human and cognitive sciences most notably psychology sociology linguistics neurophysiology AI and cognitive science itself In all these sciences there is a need to delineate the domain of the mental and to elucidate the key concepts and underlying assumptions This need is widely recognized but approaches and answers vary significantly Some stress the representational features involved in most of our mental processes others the inferential dimension some stress the necessity of using empirical data others the need to refine ideas before pursuing and drawing on empirical research The papers collected in this volume are grouped into four parts on language and thought on knowledge belief and action on intentionality and on naturalism The volume will be welcomed by all those engaged and interested in debates about the mental in philosophy and the human and cognitive sciences

Lewis Helen Beebe, A. R. J. Fisher, 2022 This volume offers philosophical perspectives on the work of David K Lewis one of the most important analytic philosophers of the twentieth century Leading philosophers of today discuss his contributions to metaphysics epistemology semantics and ethics Aristotle and Tragic Temporality Sean D. Kirkland, 2025 Aristotle and Tragic Temporality treats a theme that has drawn scholarly attention for millennia Aristotle on time and our experience of it It does so however in a wholly unprecedented way grounding its interpretation in his Poetics and Ethics rather than the natural philosophy of the Physics Sean D Kirkland first takes up Aristotle s discussion of our tragic temporal situatedness our having to act think and live always between a determining past we can never fully master and a projected future we can never fully anticipate It is this condition that comes powerfully to light for Aristotle on stage in the performance of a tragic drama The familiar Aristotelian virtue ethics then becomes something radically new in the transforming light of the Poetics temporality an outline of how humans can inhabit that irremediably tragic condition never overcoming or suspending it and arrive nonetheless at something like happiness and excellence Worldviews, Science and Us Robrecht Vanderbeeken, Bart D'Hooghe, 2010 This volume brings together the lectures presented at the 5th Metaphysics of Science Workshop held from June 2 to 3 2005 in Ghent Belgium The aim of this volume is twofold First it fields a selection of ongoing discussions on a central topic in contemporary analytical metaphysics Authors were asked to encapsulate their lecture topic into a précis highlighting the contesting views accentuating the pro and contra of the main arguments and shedding light on the origin the evolution and the eventual offspring of a respective discussion Second this volume addresses the methodological question by examining what can be learned if we compare these discussions from a methodological perspective What are the red herrings and shortcomings Is an integrated methodology possible Does each discussion finally await a pluralism of plausible positions or will an overall convincing account be expected And finally can analytical metaphysics methodologically assert and investigate their basic assumptions if not from a common sense stance Time and Ethics H. L. Dyke, 2013-03-09 There is a pressing need for an investigation into how time and ethics impact on each other This book leads the way in addressing that need The essays in this collection raise and investigate some of the key issues that arise at the intersection between these two areas of philosophy It is for undergraduates postgraduates and professional philosophers Virtue

Epistemology Naturalized Abrol Fairweather, 2014-05-27 This book presents four bridges connecting work in virtue epistemology and work in philosophy of science broadly construed that may serve as catalysts for the further development of naturalized virtue epistemology These bridges are empirically informed theories of epistemic virtue virtue theoretic solutions to under determination epistemic virtues in the history of science and the value of understanding Virtue epistemology has opened many new areas of inquiry in contemporary epistemology including epistemic agency the role of motivations and emotions in epistemology the nature of abilities skills and competences wisdom and curiosity Value driven epistemic inquiry has become quite complex and there is a need for a responsible and rigorous process of constructing naturalized theories of epistemic virtue This volume makes the involvement of the sciences more explicit and looks at the empirical aspect of virtue epistemology Concerns about virtue epistemology are considered in the essays contained here including the question can any virtue epistemology meet both the normativity constraint and the empirical constraint The volume suggests that these worries should not be seen as impediments but rather as useful constraints and desiderata to guide the construction of naturalized theories of epistemic virtue Mind Ascribed Bruno Mölder, 2010 This book provides a thoroughly worked out and systematic presentation of an interpretivist position in the philosophy of mind of the view that having mental properties is a matter of interpretation Bruno Molder elaborates and defends a particular version of interpretivism the ascription theory which explicates the possession of mental states with contents in terms of their canonical ascribability and shows how it can withstand various philosophical challenges Apart from a defence of the ascription theory from the objections commonly directed against interpretivism the book provides a critical analysis of major alternative accounts of mental state possession as well as the interpretivist ideas originating from Donald Davidson and Daniel Dennett The viability of the approach is demonstrated by showing how one can treat mental causation as well as the faculties closely connected with consciousness perception and the awareness of one's own mental states in the interpretivist framework Series A Towards Non-being Graham Priest, 2016 Graham Priest presents an account of the semantics of intentional language which proceeds in terms of objects that may be either existent or non-existent at worlds that may be either possible or impossible This updated second edition includes ten new chapters which develop the ideas of the first edition explore new areas and reply to critics

Humean Laws for Human Agents Michael Townsen Hicks, Siegfried Jaag, Christian Loew, 2023-05-17 Humean Laws for Human Agents presents cutting edge research by leading experts on the Humean account of laws chance possibility and necessity A central question in metaphysics and philosophy of science is What are laws of nature Humeans hold that laws are not sui generis metaphysical entities but merely particularly effective summaries of what actually happens The most discussed recent work on Humeanism emphasizes the laws usefulness for limited agents and uses pragmatic considerations to address fundamental and long standing problems The current volume develops and critically examines pragmatic Humean accounts with innovative new work on the epistemology of laws and chance the problem of induction counterfactuals special science laws and a Humean account of essence Taken together the papers provide a roadmap for developing pragmatic Humeanism and connate views setting the agenda for future research Acquaintance Jonathan Knowles, Thomas Raleigh, 2019 This volume showcases fourteen essays written by leading experts on the notion of acquaintance which span philosophy of mind epistemology and philosophy of language Together they present the main issues and debates that surround the concept and explore such related topics as phenomenal consciousness perceptual experience and reference
