

The background of the entire image is a dark, textured surface, possibly a wall or a piece of fabric, with a mottled appearance of dark brown, black, and grey. Overlaid on this is a large, semi-transparent face of a woman with long, wavy blonde hair. The face is centered in the upper half of the image. The lighting on the face is a warm, orange-yellow glow, which also appears as a large, soft, circular light source behind the face, creating a halo effect. The overall mood is somber and intense.

A Therapist's Manual for Cognitive Behavior Therapy in Groups L.I. Sank, C.S. Shaffer, 2012-12-06 One of the great advantages of rational emotive therapy RET and cognitive behavior therapy CBT is that they frequently employ psycho educational methods including bibliotherapy workshops lectures courses recordings and films I created RET at the beginning of 1955 after I had abandoned the practice of psychoanalysis because I found it to be highly inefficient and philosophically superficial Being almost addicted to one to one therapy as a result of my analytic training and experience I at first did RET only with individual clients and found this pioneering form of CBT considerably more effective than the other therapies with which I had experimented By 1957 however I realized that RET could be taught to large numbers of persons through self help books and articles and that RET oriented writings could not only prove valuable to the general public but that they could also be successfully employed to hasten and intensify the therapy of my individual clients I therefore wrote a number of RET self help books especially How to Live with a Neurotic 1957 Sex without Guilt 1958 A New Guide to Rational Living with Robert A Harper original edition 1961 and A Guide to Successful Marriage with Robert A Harper 1961

AGING ISSUES AND POLICIES Yushi (Boni) Li, 2013-06-01 Aging society is an urgent global issue that challenges almost all human societies in the world. When nations evolve into aging societies, they must establish and implement policies and approaches to meet the needs of the elderly population, such as elderly services, long-term care, health care policies, institutional facilities, illness and healing processes, financial support, and retirement life and leisure. The fundamental purpose of this book is to help students and readers develop their knowledge on worldwide elderly issues. To accomplish this goal, the text incorporates 18 chapters from different countries with a variety of aging topics, which are divided into continents including Africa, Asia, Europe, North and South America, and the Oceanic Islands. Specific chapters from the following countries/regions are included: Sub-Saharan Africa, South Africa, China, Japan, Israel, Singapore, Thailand, Austria, United Kingdom, Estonia, Portugal, Spain, Sweden, United States, Australia, New Zealand, Argentina, and Uruguay. By sharing these regions and nations' elderly issues and their particular solutions to the challenges, it provides readers with global views on current aging processes, policies, and strategies. The book effectively helps readers understand that the increase of the elderly population is a major development of the 21st century. The text further helps comprehend the importance of improving the elderly population's overall quality of life, as well as valuing the contribution they can make to their communities and society. The reader will gain insights about why global elderly issues are critical and how the lives of elderly have been impacted and influenced by different policies, societies, and cultures in which they live. The book is designed as a college text for study of aging issues with a global perspective. Also, any readers interested in topics of the elderly will find the book to be a most beneficial resource.

Film and the Chinese Medical Humanities Vivienne Lo, Chris Berry, Guo Liping, 2019-12-06 Film and the Chinese Medical Humanities is the first book to reflect on the power of film in representing medical and health discourse in China in both the past and the present, as well as in shaping its future. Drawing on both feature and documentary films from mainland China, the chapters each engage with the field of medicine through the visual arts. They cover themes such as the history of doctors and their concepts of disease and therapies, understanding the patient experience of illness and death, and establishing empathy and compassion in medical practice, as well as the HIV/AIDS epidemic during the 1980s and 90s, and changing attitudes towards disability. Inherently interdisciplinary in nature, the contributors therefore provide different perspectives from the fields of history, psychiatry, film studies, anthropology, linguistics, public health, and occupational therapy, as they relate to China and people who identify as Chinese. Their combined approaches are united by a passion for improving the cross-cultural understanding of the body and ultimately healthcare itself. A key resource for educators in the Medical Humanities, this book will be useful to students and scholars of Chinese Studies and Film Studies, as well as global health, medical anthropology, and medical history.
