Bowen,1997-08-01     Religions in Practice John Richard Bowen,2001 No other text examines the full spectrum of religions from small scale societies to full blown world religious movements The in depth treatment of Islam Hinduism and Christianity is of particular interest to students and is easily expanded to include field projects directly related to material covered in the text As one reviewer writes In our post 9 11 era it is great to have a book whose author has done fieldwork in Indonesia and is so knowledgeable about Islam Provided by publisher     World Religions in Practice Paul Gwynne,2017-05-30 A new and expanded edition of a highly successful textbook on world religions with a comparative approach which explores how six major religions are lived and expressed through their customs rituals and everyday practices A new edition of this major textbook exploring the world s great religions through their customs rituals and everyday practices by focusing on the lived experience This comparative study is enriched and broadened with the inclusion of a sixth religion Daoism Takes a thematic comparative and practical approach each chapter explores a series of key themes including birth death ethics and worship across all six religions at each time Broadens students understanding by offering an impartial discussion of the similarities and differences between each religion Includes an increased range of student friendly features designed to allow students to engage with each religion and extend their understanding     Religion and Gender in the Developing World Tamsin Bradley,2010-12-07 Faith based development organizations have become a central part of the lives of the women of rural Rajasthan and have come to represent an important aspect of both individual and collective identities And yet religious teachings continue to be used to exclude women from public decision making forums and render them vulnerable to increasing levels of domestic violence In a unique multi disciplinary approach combining a range of subjects Tamsin Bradley provides a unique study of the role of development organizations and faith organizations in the lives of women in rural Rajasthan Faith and religion emerge as being able to afford a space within which women are able to interact with one another and create an identity for themselves However faith proves not just to be a positive sphere in which women are able to assert themselves Its ambiguity becomes clear as the author explains that religious women often find their visions of social justice and equality marginalised by the dominance of male leadership Nevertheless Bradley also look at how religious women challenge male dominance drawing on their beliefs and practices in creative and innovative ways Thus a complex picture emerges and including insights from gender studies and anthropology Bradley argues that religion can both empower and disempower local communities and the women who live within them By analysing development through the prism of gender studies Bradley highlights the complex nature of power relationships that are at the very heart of development agendas and organizations and offers an invaluable contribution to the understanding of the nexus of varied disciplines in the analysis of women and religion in Rajasthan This book will be of interest to students reseachers and policy makers involved in various fields including those of Development Studies Religion Gender Studies and Social Anthropology      Muslims as Actors Jacques Waardenburg,2012-02-13 This book deals with Islamic studies and with the question how the scholarly study of religion can contribute to the study of Islam The author advocates studying Islamic phenomena as signs and symbols interpreted and applied in diverse ways in existing traditions He stresses the role of Muslims as actors in the ongoing debate about the articulation of Islamic ways of life and construction of Islam as a religion A careful study of this debate should steer clear of political religious and ideological interests Research in this area by Muslims and non Muslim scholars alike should address the question of what Muslims have made of their Islam in specific circumstances Current political contexts have created an unhealthy climate for pursuing an open approach to Islam based on reading observing listening and reflecting Yet precisely nowadays we need to look anew at ways of Muslim thinking and acting that refer to Islam and to avoid certain schemes of interpreting Muslim realities that are no longer adequate for present day Muslim life situations Muslim recourses to Islam can be studied as human constructions of value and meaning and relations between Muslims and others can be seen in terms of human interaction without blame always falling on Islam as such      The Handbook of Language Socialization Alessandro Duranti,Elinor Ochs,Bambi B. Schieffelin,2014-01-13 Documenting how in the course of acquiring language children become speakers and members of communities The Handbook of Language Socialization is a unique reference work for an emerging and fast moving field Spans the fields of anthropology education applied linguistics and human development Includes the latest developments in second and heritage language socialization and literary and media socialization Discusses socialization across the entire life span and across institutional settings including families schools work places and churches Explores data from a multitude of cultures from around the world      Anthropological Approaches to Psychological Medicine Vieda Skultans,John Lee Cox,2000 This text brings together clinicians and researchers in psychiatry and mental health The aim is to explore what we can learn from anthropology to achieve a contextual understanding of mental illness and health in contemporary society The book contains a wide selection of ideas and works well to bridge the gap between anthropology and psychiatry      Re-imagining South Asian Religions Pashaura Singh,Michael Hawley,2012-12-07 Re imagining South Asian Religions is a collection of essays offering new ways of understanding aspects of Hindu Tibetan Buddhist Sikh Jain Theosophical and Indian Christian experiences      Cultural Approaches to Studying Religion Sarah J. Raj,2013 The religious landscape of South Asia is complex and fascinating While existing literature tends to focus on the majority religions of Hinduism and Buddhism much less attention is given to Jainism Sikhism Islam or Christianity While not nelecting the majority traditions this valuable resource also explores the important role which the minority traditions play in the religious life of the subcontinent covering popular as well as elite expressions of religious faith By examining the realities of religious life and the ways in which the traditions are practised on the ground this book provides an illuminating introduction to religion in South Asia The Learned Practice of Religion in the Modern University Donald Wiebe,2019-11-14 In these essays Donald Wiebe unveils a significant problem in the academic study of religion in colleges and universities in North America and Europe that studies almost always exhibit a religious bias To explore this issue Wiebe looks at the religious and moral agendas behind the study of religion showing that the boundaries between the objective study of religion and religious education as a tool for bettering society have become blurred As a result he argues religious studies departments have fostered an environment where religion has become a learned or scholarly practice rather than the object of academic scrutiny This book provides a critical history of the failure of 20th and 21st century scholars to follow through on the 19th century ideal of an objective scientific study of religious thought and behaviour Although emancipated from direct ecclesiastical control and to some extent from sectarian theologizing Wiebe argues that research and scholarship in the academic department of religious studies has failed to break free from religious constraints He shows that an objective scientific study of religious thought and practice is not only possible but the only appropriate approach to the study of religious phenomena
