Esoteric Transfers and Constructions Mark Sedgwick, Francesco Piraino, 2021-02-27 Similarities between esoteric and mystical currents in different religious traditions have long interested scholars This book takes a new look at the relationship between such currents It advances a discussion that started with the search for religious essences archetypes and universals from William James to Erans The universal categories that resulted from that search were later criticized as essentialist constructions and questioned by deconstructionists An alternative explanation was advanced by diffusionists that there were transfers between different traditions This book presents empirical case studies of such constructions and of transfers between Judaism Christianity and Islam in the premodern period and Judaism Christianity and Western esotericism in the modern period It shows that there were indeed transfers that can be clearly documented and that there were also indeed constructions often very imaginative It also shows that there were many cases that were neither transfers nor constructions but a mixture of the two

Guide to the Study of Ancient Magic David Frankfurter,2019-03-19 In the midst of academic debates about the utility of the term magic and the cultural meaning of ancient words like mageia or khesheph this Guide to the Study of Ancient Magic seeks to advance the discussion by separating out three topics essential to the very idea of magic The three major sections of this volume address 1 indigenous terminologies for ambiguous or illicit ritual in antiquity 2 the ancient texts manuals and artifacts commonly designated magical or used to represent ancient magic and 3 a series of contexts from the written word to materiality itself to which the term magic might usefully pertain The individual essays in this volume cover most of Mediterranean and Near Eastern antiquity with essays by both established and emergent scholars of ancient religions In a burgeoning field of magic studies trying both to preserve and to justify critically the category itself this volume brings new clarity and provocative insights This will be an indispensable resource to all interested in magic in the Bible and the Ancient Near East ancient Greece and Rome Early Christianity and Judaism Egypt through the Christian period and also comparative and critical theory Contributors are Magali Bailliot Gideon Bohak V ronique Dasen Albert de Jong Jacco Dieleman Esther Eidinow David Frankfurter Fritz Graf Yuval Harari Naomi Janowitz Sarah Iles Johnston Roy D Kotansky Arpad M Nagy Daniel Schwemer Joseph E Sanzo Jacques van der Vliet Andrew Wilburn      Magic and Ritual in the Ancient World Paul Allan Mirecki,Marvin W. Meyer,2002 This volume contains a series of provocative essays that explore expressions of magic and ritual power in the ancient world The strength of the present volume lies in the breadth of scholarly approaches represented The book begins with several papyrological studies presenting important new texts in Greek and Coptic continuing with essays focussing on taxonomy and definition The concluding essays apply contemporary theories to analyses of specific test cases in a broad variety of ancient Mediterranean cultures Paul Mirecki Th D 1986 in Religious Studies Harvard Divinity School is Associate Professor of Religious Studies at the University of Kansas Marvin Meyer Ph D 1979 in Religion Claremont Graduate School is Professor of Religion at Chapman University Orange California and Director of the Coptic Magical Texts Project of the Institute for Antiquity and Christianity      Naming the Witch Kimberly B. Stratton,2022-05-03 Kimberly B Stratton investigates the cultural and ideological motivations behind early imaginings of the magician the sorceress and the witch in the ancient world Accusations of magic could carry the death penalty or at the very least marginalize the person or group they targeted But Stratton moves beyond the popular view of these accusations as mere slander In her view representations and accusations of sorcery mirror the complex struggle of ancient societies to define authority legitimacy and Otherness Stratton argues that the concept magic first emerged as a discourse in ancient Athens where it operated part and parcel of the struggle to define Greek identity in opposition to the uncivilized barbarian following the Persian Wars The idea of magic then spread throughout the Hellenized world and Rome reflecting and adapting to political forces values and social concerns in each society Stratton considers the portrayal of witches and magicians in the literature of four related periods and cultures classical Athens early imperial Rome pre Constantine Christianity and rabbinic Judaism She compares patterns in their representations of magic and analyzes the relationship between these stereotypes and the social factors that shaped them Stratton s comparative approach illuminates the degree to which magic was and still is a cultural construct that depended upon and reflected particular social contexts Unlike most previous studies of magic which treated the classical world separately from antique Judaism Naming the Witch highlights the degree to which these ancient cultures shared ideas about power and legitimate authority even while constructing and deploying those ideas in different ways The book also interrogates the common association of women with magic denaturalizing the gendered stereotype in the process Drawing on Michel Foucault s notion of discourse as well as the work of other contemporary theorists such as Homi K Bhabha and Bruce Lincoln Stratton s bewitching study presents a more nuanced ideologically sensitive approach to understanding the witch in Western history
