Socio-Anthropological Approaches to Religion David W. Kim, Duncan Wright, 2024-02-14 Socio Anthropological Approaches to Religion Environmental Hope interprets the fundamental functions of spirituality through the theories and practices of hope and understanding the futuristic aspiration of new religious movements The book portrays a neutral notion of hope that can be either religious or humanistic in the face of the suffering or despair of present reality The concept of hope or hopelessness is demonstrated in each chapter under the global circumstance of health risk Part One represents the various theories of hope in Christian history ecology and climate the Sabbath and surveillance and the triune God The insecure situation that creates the expectation of hope is demonstrated in Part Two where the case studies of terrorist attacks immigration volunteering behavior religious education and medieval Islamic tradition indicate social unbalance The last section illustrates the cultural anthropology of hope through the activities of different native new religious movements including the Moonies Unification movement Yoruba Nigerian indigenous spirituality and Cosmovisions of Sepik New Guinea This book examines hope as a crucial element of human s internal healing beyond medical technology Magic in the Ancient Eastern Mediterranean Nina Nikki, Kirsi M.J. Valkama, 2020-12-14 Magic in the Ancient Eastern Mediterranean Cognitive Historical and Material Perspectives brings together articles with the shared conviction that the category of magic remains useful in religious studies and provides new insights to biblical and related texts and artifacts Historically magic has been considered in both scholarly and popular discourse to be questionable obscure and potentially subversive 19th century scholars of religion viewed magical beliefs and practices as primitive and inferior compared to Judeo Christian forms of worship which were considered true religion More recently the category has been defended especially by scholars of the cognitive science of religion who find it useful for delineating a set of beliefs and practices fundamental to all forms of religion The volume joins current scholarship in refraining from using the concept as an othering device and in arguing that it can still serve as a helpful analytical tool In addition to analyzing the discourse on magic in both ancient literature and modern scholarship the articles provide individual examples of how literary and material culture attest to the existence of magical beliefs and practices in sources from the Ancient Near East to the Byzantine Period The book is divided into three parts The contributions in the first part approach magic from the theoretical perspective of cognitive studies ritual studies and cultural evolution while the rest of the book focuses on how magic and magicians are understood in ancient sources The second part discusses a specific set of textual material dealing with blessings and curses The third part of the volume discusses the world of various destructive celestial beings from which one and one s loved ones had to be defended as well as the multitude of protective beings such as angels Resources for the Teaching of Anthropology David G. emerged victorious from the civil war of AD 193 he was not part of the traditional political elite but instead a military commander from Africa with a Syrian princess as his wife To garner popular support and to legitimise his power Severus conducted an intensive propaganda campaign This is the first monograph to examine the Secular Games ludi saeculares the magnificent festival which celebrated Septimius Severus as a bringer of peace and prosperity and which also symbolised a new imperial ideology based on autocracy rather than the Antonine ideal of co operation between ruler and Senate The Concepts of the Divine in the Greek Magical Papyri Eleni Pachoumi, 2017-05-05 Eleni Pachoumi looks at the concepts of the divine in the Greek magical papyri by way of a careful and detailed analysis of ritual practices and spells Her aim is to uncover the underlying religious philosophical and mystical parallelisms and influences on the Greek magical papyri She starts by examining the religious and philosophical concept of the personal daimon and the union of the individual with his personal daimon through the magico theurgic ritual of systasis She then goes on to analyze the religious concept of paredros as the divine assistant and the various relationships between paredros the divine and the individual To round off she studies the concept of the divine through the manifold religious and philosophical assimilations mainly between Greek Egyptian Hellenized gods and divine abstract concepts of Jewish origins The Potencies of God(s) Edward Allen Beach, 1994-10-11 This book explores the metaphysical epistemological and hermeneutical theories of Schelling's final system concerning the nature and meaning of religious mythology This perspective is not surprising since Schelling regarded religion not science or philosophy as embodying the most complete manifestation of truth Beach examines Schelling's novel attempt to account for the changing historical forms of religion in terms of a complex theory of dynamic spiritual powers or potencies He shows that these are not mere representations ideas or projected feelings created by ancient myth makers for the benefit of a credulous populace Instead Beach demonstrates that these potencies should be seen as animate powers inhabiting the unconscious strata of a people's collective mind Annual Review of the Sociology of Religion.
