Racism Albert J. Wheeler, 2005 Of all mankind's vices racism is one of the most pervasive and stubborn Success in overcoming racism has been achieved from time to time but victories have been limited thus far because mankind has focused on personal economic gain or power grabs ignoring generosity of the soul This bibliography brings together the literature

Racism in the United States Meyer Weinberg, 1990-05-21 This volume represents the most comprehensive book length bibliography on the subject of racism available in the United States Compiler Meyer Weinberg has surveyed a wide ranging group of material and classified it under 87 subject headings drawing on articles books congressional hearings and reports theses and dissertations research reports and investigative journalism Historical references cover the long history of racism while the heightened awareness and activity of the recent past is also addressed in detail In addition to works that fit the narrow definition of racism as a mode of oppression or group denial of rights based on color Weinberg includes references dealing with sexism antisemitism economic exploitation and similar forms of dehumanization References are grouped under a series of subject headings that include Civil Rights Desegregation Housing Socialism and Racism Unemployment and Violence against Minorities Items which do not have self explanatory titles are annotated and virtually every section is thoroughly cross referenced Also included is one section of carefully selected references on racism in countries other than the United States Unlike the remainder of the book this section is not comprehensive but rather provides an opportunity to view racism comparatively The volume concludes with an author index This work will be a significant addition to both academic and public libraries as well as an important resource for courses in racism sociology and black history

The Harvard Guide to African-American History Evelyn Brooks Higginbotham, 2001 This massive guide sponsored by the W E B Du Bois Institute for Afro American Research at Harvard University and compiled by renowned experts offers a compendium of information and interpretation on over 500 years of black experience in America

A People's History of the United States Howard Zinn, 2012-11 The Abridged Teaching Edition of A People's History of the United States has made Howard Zinn's original text available specifically for classroom use With exercises and teaching materials to accompany each chapter this edition spans American Beginnings Reconstruction the Civil War and through to the present with new chapters on the Clinton Presidency the 2000 elections and the War on Terrorism

Racial Fault Lines Tomás Almaguer, 1994 An excellent summary and interpretation of race relations in nineteenth century California Empirically rich and theoretically sophisticated it is the last and best word on the historical origins of the racial hierarchy that contemporary multiculturalists are struggling to overcome George Fredrickson Stanford University Sometime soon in the 21st century all of California's peoples will belong to minorities and Almaguer's pathbreaking comparative history is indispensable for understanding how and why this society became so racially diverse. His study expands the borders of multicultural scholarship. Ronald Takaki, University of California Berkeley. Evocatively written and theoretically compelling, Racial Fault Lines represents a benchmark in the writing of U.S. history. Almaguer blends sociological paradigms with rich historical narratives in his perspicacious examination of racial and class formation among nineteenth-century Californians. Mel

Mixed Race Cinemas Zélie Asava, 2017-09-07 Using critical race theory and film studies to explore the interconnectedness between cinema and society, Zélie Asava traces the history of mixed race representations in American and French filmmaking from early and silent cinema to the present day. Mixed Race Cinemas covers over a hundred years of filmmaking to chart the development of black-white mixed representations onscreen. With the 21st century being labelled the Mulatto Millennium, mixed bodies are more prevalent than ever in the public sphere, yet all too often they continue to be positioned as exotic, strange, and otherworldly according to tragic mulatto tropes. This book evaluates the potential for moving beyond fixed racial binaries both onscreen and off by exploring actors and characters who embody the in-between. Through analyses of over 40 movies and case studies of key films from the 1910s on, Mixed Race Cinemas illuminates landmark shifts in local and global cinema, exploring discourses of subjectivity, race, gender, sexuality, and class. In doing so, it reveals the similarities and contrasts between American and French cinema in relation to recognising, visualising, and constructing mixedness. Mixed Race Cinemas contextualizes and critiques raced and post-race visual culture using cinematic representations to illustrate changing definitions of mixed identity across different historical and geographical contexts.

How Capitalism Underdeveloped Black America Manning Marable, 2015-10-27 How Capitalism Underdeveloped Black America dispenses impeccably comprehensive research to expose the realities of African American poverty, health, employment, and education, as well as other demographics. Marable's conclusions prove an undeniable connection between the oppression and exploitation of Black America and capitalism.

Standing at Armageddon: A Grassroots History of the Progressive Era Nell Irvin Painter, 2011-03-07 A gripping and forceful narrative. Nancy F. Cott, author of Public Vows. An enthralling Michael Kazin, Washington Post account of America's shift from a rural and agrarian society to an urban and industrial society. In the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries, technological innovation made possible dramatic increases in industrial and agricultural productivity. By 1919, per capita gross national product had soared. But this new wealth and new power were not distributed evenly. In this landmark work with continued resonance for our times, acclaimed historian Nell Irvin Painter illuminates the class, economic, and political conflicts that defined the Progressive Era. Demonstrating the ways in which racial and social hierarchies were interwoven with reform movements, she offers a lively and comprehensive view of Americans rich and working class at the precipice of change.

Struggles in the Promised Land Jack Salzman, Cornel West, 1997 To communicate that history, the essays gathered here move from the common demonization of Blacks and Jews in the Middle Ages to an accurate assessment of Jewish involvement in the slave trade to the confluence of Black migration from the South and Jewish immigration from Europe into Northern cities between 1880 and 1935 to the meaningful alliance forged during the Civil Rights movement and the conflicts over Black Power and the struggle in the Middle East that effectively ended that alliance

A Promise and a Way of Life Becky W. Thompson, 2001 Beginning with the diverse catalysts that started these activists on their journeys this book demonstrates the contributions and limitations of white antiracism in key social justice movements
