Reluctant Angels:

Reluctant Death Briony Heneberry, 2012-08-26 Micaela Godfrey's life is thrown into disarray after the death of her unborn child she loses faith in her God and her marriage falls to apathy and emptiness What she finds however is that her world is not limited to the personal tragedy she has suffered and that whispers of the past draw her to a future of endless possibility Lines between right and wrong begin to blur and Micaela learns that that the will alone can shape reality if it is strong enough For her darkness now moved in the form of corrupted magic that would seek in her a secret that she does not remember Good guys and bad guys light and dark the mundane and the magical traditional roles are tested in a world like our own but where truly opening your eyes may mean you see something that you wish you hadn't *Forever J. Firmly I Believe and Truly John Saward, John Morrill, Michael Tomko, 2013-09-05 An Anthology of Writings from 1483 to 1999 Firmly I Believe and Truly celebrates the depth and breadth of the spiritual literary and intellectual heritage of the Post Reformation English Roman Catholic tradition in an anthology of writings that span a five hundred year period between William Caxton and Cardinal Hume. Intended as a rich resource for all with an interest in Roman Catholicism the writings have been carefully selected and edited by a team of scholars with historical theological and literary expertise. Each author is introduced to provide context for the included extracts and the chronological arrangement of the anthology makes the volume easy to use whilst creating a fascinating overview of the modern era in English Catholic thought. The extracts comprise a wide variety of writing genres: sermons, prayers, poetry, diaries, novels, theology, apologetics, works of controversy, devotional literature, biographies, drama and essays. Includes writings by John Colet, John Fisher, Thomas More, Robert Southwell, Philip Howard, Edmund Campion, John Gother, John Dryden, Mary Barker, Alexander Pope, Richard Challoner, Alban Butler, John Milner, Elizabeth Inchbald, Nicholas Wiseman, Margaret Mary Hallahan, A. W. N. Pugin, John Henry Newman, Henry Edward Manning, Frederick William Faber, Bertrand Wilberforce, Gerard Manley Hopkins, Vincent McNabb, Hilaire Belloc, Maurice Baring, G. K. Chesterton, R. A. Knox, J. R. R. Tolkien, Caryl Chessman, Evelyn Waugh, Graham Greene, John Bradburne, Cardinal Hume. Discourses Addressed to Mixed Congregations John Henry Newman, 1849 The Village That Died for England Patrick Wright, 2021-09-14 A reissue of Patrick Wright's 1995 classic about the military takeover of the village of Tyneham with a new introduction taking in Brexit and a new wave of British nationalism. Shortly before Christmas in 1943 the British military announced they were taking over a remote valley on the Dorset coast and turning it into a firing range for tanks in preparation for D Day. The residents of the village of Tyneham loyally packed up their things and filed out of their homes into temporary accommodation yet Tyneham refused to die. Although it was never returned to its pre-war occupants and owners Tyneham would persist through a long and extraordinary afterlife in the English imagination. It was said that Churchill himself had promised that the villagers would be able to return once the war was over and that the post-war Labour government was responsible for the betrayal of that pledge. Both the accusation and the sense of grievance would reverberate through many decades after that. Back in print and with a brand new introduction this book explores how Tyneham came to be converted into a symbol of posthumous England, a patriotic community betrayed by the alleged humiliations of post-war national history. Both celebrated and reviled at the time of its first publication in 1995, The Village that Died for England is indispensable reading for anyone trying to understand where Brexit came from and where it might be leading us. Catholic Oratory James Gibbons, 1891 Character and Characteristic Men Edwin Percy Whipple, 1884 Insights Peter Haverty, 2020-10-29 My first attempt at writing was based on the fact that I had collected over the years about 500 quotations from Catholic spiritual authors and I selected about 20 of these which I classified as Insights I printed them off in a hurry because I thought I was going to die in an impending operation For a long time while preaching I had decided that to win a hearing from the congregation any discourse needs an arresting mother idea or insight On recovering I thought I could make it into a decent sized book by adding on some 20 meditations on the topics following the sequence I use for a retreat This part constitutes Part Two of the present proposed book The style of English corresponds I suppose to what was current in the 1950 s Although over the years I have tended to preach in a conversational way

Grains of Wheat Eleonore Stump,2025-02-20 There is a kind of knowledge that is non propositional one variety of it can be acquired in second person experience of another person but it can also be transmitted through narratives This narratively mediated kind of knowledge can be significant for philosophical and theological reflection Biblical narratives have prompted detailed reflection for so many centuries because they offer profound insights into the nature of the human condition and human flourishing This book brings together detailed examinations of narratives in the Hebrew Bible and the New Testament to yield one large emergent story which has something to teach that can be missed when the stories are taken in isolation from one another These are the stories of Job Samson Abraham Mary of Bethany the temptations of Christ the passion of Christ and the story from the book of Ecclesiastes Taken together these narratives depict a possible world in which there is a good for suffering human beings that outweighs their suffering and that could not be gotten without the suffering not even in a world without the Fall On this emergent larger story human suffering is defeated and peace and joy in human life are possible
