Remapping Southern Literature Robert H. Brinkmeyer, 2010-07 The fiction of Doris Betts Barry Hannah Cormac McCarthy Madison Smartt Bell Richard Ford Rick Bass Barbara Kingsolver Chris Offutt Frederick Barthelme Dorothy Allison and Clyde Edgerton among others challenges long standing definitions of Southern fiction and regional identity and reconfigures the myths of the West that have shaped American life In Remapping Southern Literature Brinkmeyer proposes that today's Southern writers are not by this shift abandoning Southern culture but are instead expanding its reach by seeking to balance the ideals of the South and West BOOK JACKET Remembering Medgar Evers Minrose Gwin, 2013-02-25 As the first NAACP field secretary for Mississippi Medgar Wiley Evers put his life on the line to investigate racial crimes including Emmett Till's murder and to organize boycotts and voter registration drives On June 12 1963 he was shot in the back by white supremacist Byron De La Beckwith as the civil rights leader unloaded a stack of Jim Crow Must Go T shirts in his own driveway His was the first assassination of a high ranking public figure in the civil rights movement While Evers's death ushered in a decade of political assassinations and ignited a powder keg of racial unrest nationwide his life of service and courage has largely been consigned to the periphery of U S and civil rights history In her compelling study of collective memory and artistic production Remembering Medgar Evers Minrose Gwin engages the powerful body of work that has emerged in response to Evers's life and death fiction poetry memoir drama and songs from James Baldwin Margaret Walker Eudora Welty Lucille Clifton Bob Dylan and Willie Morris among others Gwin examines local news accounts about Evers 1960s gospel and protest music as well as contemporary hip hop the haunting poems of Frank X Walker and contemporary fiction such as The Help and Gwin's own novel The Queen of Palmyra In this study Evers springs to life as a leader of plural singularity who modeled for southern African Americans a new form of cultural identity that both drew from the past and broke from it to quote Gwendolyn Brooks He leaned across tomorrow Fifty years after his untimely death Evers still casts a long shadow In her examination of the body of work he has inspired Gwin probes wide ranging questions about collective memory and art as instruments of social justice Remembered Evers's life's legacy pivots to the future she writes linking us to other human rights struggles both local and global A Sarah Mills Hodge Fund Publication Hidden in Plain Sight John T. Matthews, 2020-04-22 For as long as the United States owed its prosperity to a New World plantation complex from colonial settlement until well into the twentieth century the toxic practices associated with its permutations stimulated imaginary solutions to the contradiction with the nation's enlightenment ideals and republican ideology Ideals of liberty democracy and individualism could not be separated from a history of forcible coercion oligarchic power and state protected economic opportunism While recent historical scholarship about the relation of capitalism to slavery explores the depths at which U S ascension was indebted to global plantation slave economies John T Matthews probes how exemplary works of literature represented the determination to deny the open secret of a national atrocity Difficult truths were hidden in plain sight allowing beholders at once to recognize and disavow knowledge they would not act on What were the habits of mind that enabled free Americans to acknowledge what was intolerable yet act as if they did not In what ways did non slave owning Americans imagine a relation to slavery that both admitted its iniquity and accepted its benefits How did the reconfiguration of the plantation system after the Civil War elicit new literary forms for dealing with its perpetuation of racial injustice expropriation of labor and exploitation for profit of the land Hidden in Plain Sight examines signal nineteenth century works by Edgar Allan Poe Nathaniel Hawthorne Herman Melville and Joel Chandler Harris to show how writers portrayed a nation founded on the unseen seen of slavery s capitalism The Weird South Melanie Benson Taylor,2025-06

How do we read southern literature in a postplantation postregional and posthuman moment How do we address the urgent contemporary catastrophes of the Anthropocene in these newly leveled landscapes Put simply how do we parse the levels of human responsibility both for apocalypse and for deliverance in contexts where settler colonial and racial capitalist histories dramatically shape our reality Reading modern and contemporary southern literary texts from a variety of perspectives these lectures engage the new materialist object oriented ontologies that critique and decenter human agency while uncovering the lasting determinative haunting realities of humanity s detention within what Timothy Morton calls the weird web of our entwined social racial economic and natural ecologies As a concept in the burgeoning conversation about Anthropocenic disaster and climate emergency the weird is a powerful way to conceptualize not just human hubris but also humility we are no different from no more powerful than any other living or inanimate objects neither the organisms that take up residence in our bodies nor the myriad things that we imagine we create fashion patrol and control The Oral Character of Southern Literature Clay Morton,2008 The literary distinctiveness of the American South has been an object of much scholarly discussion Although oratory and folklore are often cited as influences on the unique character of Southern literature no scholar in the field has yet explored orality as a possibly deterministic factor in the shaping of the region s literary and cultural identity This study makes use of the extensive research available on the differences between oral and literate thought and expression in order to argue that practically every distinguishing factor of Southern literature may be traced the region s oral orientation To this end empirical findings on identifiably oral linguistic strategies narrative structures and epistemologies are fruitfully synthesized with analyses of works by Southern authors including James Weldon Johnson Eudira Welty William Gilmore Simms William Faulkner Donald Davidson and Zora Neale Hurston These discussions provide not only a new theory of Southern exceptionalism but also a new theoretical framework for reading Southern texts The Zombie Memes of Dixie Scott Romine,2024-12-01 This book traces the origin and development of several propositions tropes types clich s and ideas commonly associated with the U S South for example that it has been shaped by a warm climate that its people are hospitable and enjoy a slower pace of life that it is characterized by localist tendencies and possesses a distinctive sense of place Approaching these propositions as memes that is group forming replicators Scott Romine argues that many of them developed in defense of slavery and evolved in its aftermath to continue to form a southern group whose way of life naturalized an emergent regime of segregation Following the civil rights era another set of mutations allowed the ostensible inclusion of groups heretofore excluded from the category southerner mostly through the conceptualization of a culture projected backward into time By attending closely to the historical formation and mutation of the things southerners have most often said that they are we can better understand the dynamic and dialogic process of group formation in the U S South

Wingless Chickens, Bayou Catholics, and Pilgrim Wayfarers L. Lamar Nisly, 2011 Flannery O Connor Tim Gautreaux and Walker Percy are all Catholic writers from the South and seem to embody very fully both parts of that label Yet as quickly becomes clear in their writing their fiction employs markedly different tones and modes of addressing their audience O Connor seems intent on shocking her reader whom she anticipates will be hostile to her deepest beliefs Gautreaux gently and humorously engages his reader inviting his expected sympathetic audience to embrace the characters needed moral growth Percy satirically lampoons an array of social ills and failings in the Church as he tries to get his audience laughing with him while he makes his deadly serious point about the flaws he finds in the church and larger culture Why do these three writers assume such divergent images of their audience Why do texts by three writers who each embrace their Southern locale and their Catholic beliefs seem to have so little in common To answer these questions Nisly helps readers understand these authors fiction by examining the role that place and time had in shaping each author s idea of an audience and by extension his or her manner of addressing that audience More specifically Nisly focuses on each author s experience of Catholic community and each author s placement in relation to the Second Vatican Council Linking together biographical information and a reading of their fiction Nisly argues that O Connor s Gautreaux s and Percy s sense of audience has been shaped in significant ways by each author s own local experience of Catholicism in his or her home region as well as the larger global changes of Vatican II that transformed Roman Catholicism Essay and General Literature Index Minnie Earl Sears, Marian Shaw, Dorothy Herbert West, 2000 Includes List of books indexed published also separately

The Mississippi Quarterly , 2002 100 Great American Novels You've (Probably) Never Read Karl Bridges, 2007-09-30 From Elizabeth Stoddard s The Morgesons and Anzia Yzierska s The Bread Givers to Laurie Colwin s Shine On Bright and Dangerous Object and Chet Raymo s The Dork of Cork here are some of the forgotten gems of American literature Bridges has compiled a diverse list of 100 American novels published between 1797 and 1997 and worthy of the title great Although the idea is to bring light to the obscure these titles are physically accessible to readers either in print or represented in library collections and available through library loan American Book Publishing Record , 2000

Forthcoming Books Rose Arny, 2000 The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells, 2002 Subject Guide to Books in Print , 2001 Southern Writers in the Modern World , 1958 Three Modes of Modern Southern Fiction C.

Hugh Holman, 2008 Within the general region designated as The South there are three societies only shadowily defined at their outer limits but distinct and sharp at their centers In these essays C Hugh Holman suggests ways in which race geography climate and religion have contributed to the formation of these relatively definite sub regions He also shows that continuing literary traditions and social attitudes have shaped qualified and to some extent defined the artistic methods and forms which writers in these regions used To demonstrate his thesis he has chosen Ellen Glasgow as spokesman for the Tidewater South Thomas Wolfe for the Piedmont South and William Faulkner for the Deep South A thorough scholar critic Holman approaches his subject positively presenting the impact of these sub regions on three great Southern novelists and showing the distinctively different views of the South which each novelist embodies in his work These essays will prove a useful tool to any student who wishes to understand the nature quality and meaning of the South both as a literary subject and as a personal and often tragic experience

Southern Writers in the Modern World Donald Davidson, 2010-11-01 One of the most important of the Southern magazines in the 1920s was The Fugitive a magazine of verse and brief commentaries on literature in general Among its contributors were John Crowe Ransom Allen Tate Robert Penn Warren Donald Davidson and Merrill Moore Publication began in April 1922 and ended in December 1925 Soon thereafter the Fugitive writers and some others became profoundly concerned with the materialism of American life and its effect upon the South The group became known as Agrarians Their thinking and discussion culminated in a symposium I'll Take My Stand published in 1930 In his first two lectures Davidson describes the underlying nature and aims of the Fugitive and Agrarian movements He brings to the discussion his intimate and thorough knowledge of Southern life and letters The third lecture deals with the place of the writer in the modern university posing the questions of whether the writer needs the university and whether the university needs or wants the writer

A Web of Words Richard J. Gray, 2007 Helps readers understand how any literary tradition involves an open conversation between its texts a web of words that stretches from the local to the transnational This book charts 3 different intertextual practices involving writings both within and outside the South

The Southern Writer in the Postmodern World Fred C. Hobson, 1991 In The Southern Writer in the Postmodern World Fred Hobson offers a witty and engaging preliminary estimate of some of the most prominent new figures in southern fiction Although he discovers no shortage of talent he does find various and conflicting attitudes toward the south and the contemporary world Especially concerned with the relationship of these new writers to their literary predecessors he traces the continuity or lack of continuity or lack of continuity of certain attitudes fictional approaches and even values that informed southern writing during its earlier flowering in the 1920s 1930s and 1940s
