Remembered Film:

The Remembered Film Victor Burgin, 2004 The Remembered Film addresses a previously overlooked aspect of cinema the isolated fragments of films iconic images or scenes that fleetingly cross our perceptions and thoughts in the course of everyday life Neuroscience in Science Fiction Films Sharon Packer, M.D., 2014-11-19 As the gap between science fiction and science fact has narrowed films that were intended as pure fantasy at the time of their premier have taken on deeper meaning This volume explores neuroscience in science fiction films focusing on neuroscience and psychiatry as running themes in SF and finding correlations between turning points in neuroscience fiction and advances in the scientific field The films covered include The Strange Case of Dr Jekyll and Mr Hyde The Island of Dr Moreau Robocop The Stepford Wives The Mind Snatchers and iconic franchises like Terminator Ironman and Planet of the Apes Examining the parallel histories of psychiatry neuroscience and cinema this book shows how science fiction films offer insightful commentary on the scientific and philosophical developments of their times At the Edges of Sleep Jean Ma, 2022-10-04 Apichatpong Weerasethakul and the turn to sleep Sleep must be protected Into the dark Exiting and entering early cinema Somnolent journeys Insentient intimacies The regressive thesis Narcotic reception A little history of sleeping at the movies Zoning out Circadian cinemas

Audiences Ian Christie, 2012 This timely volume engages with one of the most important shifts in recent film studies the turn away from text based analysis towards the viewer Historically this marks a return to early interest in the effect of film on the audience by psychoanalysts and psychologists which was overtaken by concern with the effects of film linked to calls for censorship and moral panics rather than to understanding the mental and behavioral world of the spectator Early cinema history has revealed the diversity of film viewing habits while traditional box office studies which treated the audience initially as a homogeneous market have been replaced by the study of individual consumers and their motivations Latterly there has been a marked turn towards more sophisticated economic and sociological analysis of attendance data And as the film experience fragments across multiple formats the perceptual and cognitive experience of the individual viewer who is also an auditor has become increasingly accessible With contributions from Gregory Waller John Sedgwick and Martin Barker this work spans the spectrum of contemporary audience studies revealing work being done on local non theatrical and live digital transmission audiences and on the relative attraction of large scale domestic and mobile platforms Publisher's website

Joining up in the Second World War Joel Morley, 2025-07-29 This book connects the First and Second World Wars It uses oral histories and Mass Observation material to explore men's attitudes to Second World War enlistment and the relationship they perceived between military service and masculinity and how these were influenced by understandings of the First World War Locating the cultural legacy of First World War in the subjectivities of men who participated in the Second World War demonstrates the breadth of sources that informed men's understandings of the First World War in interwar Britain Its cultural legacy was omnipresent and diverse and informed young men's attitudes and service preferences

but it reinforced Edwardian conceptions of wartime masculinity as often as it undermined them Two decades after the First World War ended they remained resilient in the subjective understandings of men who grew up in the Great War's shadow

Diving Pioneers Eric Hanauer, 1994 This is the saga of diving in America told by the men and women who lived it and made it These stories and more recall scuba's pioneer days of the 40s and 50s where every dive was an adventure

Repertory Movie Theaters of New York City Ben Davis, 2017-03-04 New York's repertory movie houses specialized in presenting films ignored by mainstream and art house audiences Curating vintage and undistributed movies from various countries they educated the public about the art of film at a time when the cinema had begun to be respected as an art form Operating on shoestring budgets in funky settings each repertory house had its own personality reflecting the preferences of the often eccentric proprietor While a few theaters existed in other cities New York offered the greatest number and variety Focusing on the active years from 1960 through 1994 this book documents the repertory movement in the context of economics and film culture

The Wild Bunch Bill Mesce, Jr., 2020-01-17 One of the most controversial films of its time The Wild Bunch is the epitome of the no holds barred filmmaking of the 1960s and 1970s Since its 1969 release it has come to be recognized not only as an iconic Western but as one of the most important films in the American cinematic canon Over the years a parade of filmmakers have tried to imitate its gut punch effects but none have equaled it The Wild Bunch revived the floundering career of volatile self destructive director Sam Peckinpah it also hung on him the label Bloody Sam This book tells the complete story of the film's production reception and legacy

Comprehending Cinema Scott MacDonald, 2024-10-22 Comprehending Cinema is a collection of in depth interviews and panoramic essays that models a generalist approach to modern audiovisual media prioritizing remarkable cinematic accomplishments that can get lost within our overwhelming modern mediascape The 18 interviewees featured in this publication include Oscar winning documentarians Daniel Lindsay and TJ Martin Dean Fleischer Camp whose Marcel the Shell with Shoes On was an internet smash then an Oscar nominee canonical filmmakers Guy Maddin and Su Friedrich still building on remarkable careers renowned poet and cineaste John Ashbery Irish independent Tadhg O Sullivan who is entranced by the moon indefatigable cine historian Paul Cronin LA artist Jennifer West who collaborated with 11 500 visitors on New York City's High Line to produce a new kind of City Symphony Penny Lane whose documentary films continually surprise a collaborative filmmaking team who provide an immersive motion study of a crowd taking selfies with the Mona Lisa cine explorers Lucien Castaing Taylor and V r na Paravel master of the cine archive Bill Morrison cine scientist Erin Espelie video essayist Chlo Galibert La n and the Alloy Orchestra who entertained silent film audiences for three decades Comprehending Cinema combines engaging conversations with accomplished filmmakers and essayistic explorations of recent contributions to modern media making by filmmakers creating a tradition of cine nocturnes and by filmmakers exploring archival representations of World War 1 The book offers a reading adventure dedicated to opening the door to exciting new kinds of film experience

The Oxford

Handbook of Japanese Cinema Daisuke Miyao, 2014 The reality of transnational innovation and dissemination of new technologies including digital media has yet to make a dent in the deep seated culturalism that insists on reinscribing a divide between the West and Japan The Oxford Handbook of Japanese Cinema aims to counter this trend toward dichotomizing the West and Japan and to challenge the pervasive culturalism of today's film and media studies Featuring twenty essays each authored by a leading researcher in the field this volume addresses productive debates about where Japanese cinema is and where Japanese cinema is going at the period of crisis of national boundary under globalization It reevaluates the position of Japanese cinema within the discipline of cinema and media studies and beyond and situates Japanese cinema within the broader fields of transnational film history Likewise it examines the materiality of Japanese cinema scrutinizes cinema's relationship to other media and identifies the specific practices of film production and reception As a whole the volume fosters a dialogue between Japanese scholars of Japanese cinema film scholars of Japanese cinema based in Anglo American and European countries film scholars of non Japanese cinema film archivists film critics and filmmakers familiar with film scholarship A comprehensive volume that grasps Japanese cinema under the rubric of the global and also fills the gap between Japanese and non Japanese film studies and between theories and practices The Oxford Handbook of Japanese Cinema challenges and responds to the major developments underfoot in this rapidly changing field

The Films of Harrison Ford Lee Pfeiffer, Michael Lewis, 2002 Traces the films of Harrison Ford from his debut in Dead Heat on a Merry Go Round through his success as Han Solo and Indiana Jones to his roles in The Fugitive Air Force One This title has a 5 star Amazon review

Politics and Time Michael J. Shapiro, 2016-09-06 Catastrophic events like the bombing of Hiroshima Hurricane Katrina's devastation of New Orleans and drone strikes periodically achieve renewed political significance as subsequent developments summon them back to public awareness But why and how do different conceptions of time inform and challenge these key events and the narratives they create In this book Michael J Shapiro provides an approach to politics and time that unsettles official collective histories by introducing analyses of lived experience articulated in cinematic televisual musical and literary genres His investigation is framed by questions of our responsibility to acknowledge those victims of violence and catastrophe who have failed to rise above the threshold of public recognition Ultimately by focusing on time as an active force shaping our conception of political life we can deepen our understanding of complex political dynamics and improve the theories and methods we rely on to interpret them This bold and original book will be of interest to students and scholars of political theory cultural studies and cinema studies looking for a new perspective on the temporal aspects of political life

What Philosophy Wants from Images D. N. Rodowick, 2018-01-08 In recent decades contemporary art has displayed an ever increasing and complicated fascination with the cinema or perhaps more accurately as D N Rodowick shows a certain memory of cinema Contemporary works of film video and moving image installation mine a vast and virtual archive of cultural experience through elliptical and discontinuous fragments of remembered images even as the lived experience of film and photography recedes into the past supplanted by the digital Rodowick here explores work by artists such as Ken Jacobs Ernie Gehr Victor Burgin Harun Farocki and others artists who are creating forms that express a new historical consciousness of images These forms acknowledge a complex relationship to the disappearing past even as they point toward new media that will challenge viewers confidence in what the images they see are or are becoming What philosophy wants from images Rodowick shows is to renew itself conceptually through deep engagement with new forms of aesthetic experience

News in Public Memory Ingrid Volkmer, 2006 News in Public Memory brings together a team of international experts to investigate the media transmitted history of the twentieth century as it exists in the memories and minds of people living in diverse cultures across the globe This book compares media related childhood memories across three generations in nine countries Results reveal that events of the past century are not only historical facts but have become substantial elements of a new global collective memory that has been integrated into generational identity worldwide The global approach of this research encourages the idea that the world is an interconnected whole but it also helps to advance a better understanding of the different perceptions of global and local news as they emerge from various cultural angles and geographical regions
