Remembrance Of Things Fast:

Remembrance of Things Fast , Upheavals of Thought Martha C. Nussbaum, 2001-08-27 Emotions shape the landscape of our mental and social lives Like geological upheavals in a landscape they mark our lives as uneven uncertain and prone to reversal Are they simply as some have claimed animal energies or impulses with no connection to our thoughts Or are they rather suffused with intelligence and discernment and thus a source of deep awareness and understanding In this compelling book Martha C Nussbaum presents a powerful argument for treating emotions not as alien forces but as highly discriminating responses to what is of value and importance She explores and illuminates the structure of a wide range of emotions in particular compassion and love showing that there can be no adequate ethical theory without an adequate theory of the emotions This involves understanding their cultural sources their history in infancy and childhood and their sometimes unpredictable and disorderly operations in our daily lives Remembrance of Things Fast Susan Ferraro, 1990

Sympathy for the Devil Dominic Molon, Diedrich Diederichsen, Anthony Elms, Richard Hell, Dan Graham, Matthew Higgs, Jutta Koether, Bob Nickas, Mike Kelley, Jan Tumlir, 2007-01-01 Catalogus bij een tentoonstelling over de relatie tussen rockmuziek en avantgardistische kunst sinds de zestiger jaren London in Cinema Charlotte Brunsdon, 2019-07-25 Charlotte Brunsdon's illuminating study explores the variety of cinematic Londons that appear in films made since 1945 Brunsdon traces the familiar ways that film makers establish that a film is set in London by use of recognisable landmarks and the city's shorthand iconography of red buses and black taxis as well as the ways in which these icons are avoided She looks at London weather fog and rain and everyday locations like the pub and the housing estate while also examining the recurring patterns of representation associated with films set in the East and West Ends of London from Spring in Park Lane 1948 to Mona Lisa 1986 and from Night and the City 1950 to From Hell 2001 Brunsdon provides a detailed analysis of a selection of films exploring their contribution to the cinematic geography of London and showing the ways in which feature films have responded to and created changing views of the city She traces London's transformation from imperial capital to global city through the different ways in which the local is imagined in films ranging from Ealing comedies to Pressure 1974 as well as through the shifting imagery of the River Thames and the Docks She addresses the role of cinematic genres such as horror and film noir in the constitution of the cinematic city as well as the recurrence of figures such as the cockney the gangster and the housewife Challenging the view that London is not a particularly cinematic city Brunsdon demonstrates that many London set films offer their own meditation on the complex relationships between the cinema and the city Bisexual Characters in Film Wayne M Bryant, 2013-10-23 How far have we progressed from the days when showing a film such as Jack Smith's Flaming Creatures landed the cinema's programmer projectionist and ticket taker in jail What are some of the hidden clues modern audiences are overlooking in older films that suggest a character's bisexuality Which famous actors actresses directors and screenwriters were attracted to people of both sexes In Bisexual Characters in Film the first book to focus on the role of bisexual characters in film you'll find answers to these questions and many more as you explore, analyze, and celebrate 80 years of bisexual movie characters and the people who have created them from around the world. A lively, entertaining, and informative commentary, this book examines the treatment of bisexual film characters and shows you how that treatment has been affected by societal forces such as censorship, politics, religious prejudices, homophobia, and sexual stereotypes. Bisexual Characters in Film looks at the contribution of bisexual people and others who have had lovers of varying sexes to the body of work available on film today. These include the directors, writers, actors, composers, and designers whose sexual orientation has informed their work. An analysis of the Motion Picture Production Code and its devastating effect on bisexual and homosexual screen images forms an important part of the book. You learn how specifically it eradicated gay, lesbian, and bisexual characters from Hollywood films, as well as the role of bisexual, lesbian, and gay filmmakers in finally defeating it. Other questions you'll find answers to include: Who or what is a bisexual? How were bisexual characters represented in silent film before the forces of censorship banned them from the screen? What bisexual myths and stereotypes are portrayed on film? What is the role of camp in bisexual film? Bisexual Characters in Film is a unique resource for researchers, librarians, film festival planners, the queer media professors and students of lesbian, gay, and bisexual studies, bisexual activists, and general bisexual, gay, lesbian, and transgendered readers. It provides a much-needed view of bisexual representations in a major segment of our popular culture.

British Film Catalogue Denis Gifford, 2016-04-01 First published in 2001. The standard work on its subject, this resource includes every traceable British entertainment film from the inception of the silent cinema to the present day. Now this new edition includes a wholly original second volume devoted to non-fiction and documentary film, an area in which the British film industry has particularly excelled. All entries throughout this third edition have been revised, and coverage has been extended through 1994. Together, these two volumes provide a unique, authoritative source of information for historians, archivists, librarians, and film scholars.

Encyclopedia of the Novel Paul Schellinger, 2014-04-08 The Encyclopedia of the Novel is the first reference book that focuses on the development of the novel throughout the world. Entries on individual writers assess the place of that writer within the development of the novel form, explaining why and in exactly what ways that writer is important. Similarly, an entry on an individual novel discusses the importance of that novel, not only from analyzing the particular innovations that novel has introduced and the ways in which it has influenced the subsequent course of the genre. A wide range of topic entries explore the history, criticism, theory, production, dissemination, and reception of the novel. A very important component of the Encyclopedia of the Novel is its long surveys of development of the novel in various regions of the world.

Diverse Practices Julia Knight, 1996 This anthology brings together a collection of essays that discuss various aspects of British video art within a range of frameworks: historical, theoretical, critical, and chronological.

The History and Allure of Interactive Visual Novels Mark Kretzschmar, Sara Raffel, 2023-06-15 Visual novels (VNs) are a ludic video game genre that pairs textual fiction stories with anime-like images and varying degrees of interactivity have increased in popularity among Western audiences in recent years. Despite originating in Japan, these stories have made their way into global culture as a genre accessible for both play and creation with wide ranging themes from horror and loneliness to sexuality. The History and Allure of Interactive Visual Novels begins with a comprehensive overview of the visual novel genre and the cultural evolution that led to its rise, then explains the tropes and appeal of subgenres like bishojo, cute girl games, detective games, horror, and eroge (erotic games). Finally, the book explores the future of the genre in both user-generated games and games from other genres that liberally borrow both narrative and ludological themes from visual novels. Whether you're a long-standing fan of the genre or a newcomer looking for a fresh experience, The History and Allure of Interactive Visual Novels will provide an accessible and critically engaging overview of a genre that is rich in storytelling yet often overlooked.

The British Cinema Book Robert Murphy, 2019-07-25 The new edition of The British Cinema Book has been thoroughly revised and updated to provide a comprehensive introduction to the major periods, genres, studios, film makers, and debates in British cinema from the 1890s to the present. The book has five sections addressing debates and controversies: industry, genre, and representation; British cinema 1895-1939; British cinema from World War II to the 1970s; and contemporary British cinema. Within these sections, leading scholars and critics address a wide range of issues and topics, including British cinema as a national cinema, its complex relationship with Hollywood, film censorship, key British genres such as horror, comedy, and costume film, the work of directors including Alfred Hitchcock, Anthony Asquith, Alexander Mackendrick, Michael Powell, Lindsay Anderson, Ken Russell, and Mike Leigh, studios such as Gainsborough, Ealing, Rank, and Gaumont, and recent signs of hope for the British film industry such as the rebirth of the low budget British horror picture and the emergence of a British Asian cinema. Discussions are illustrated with case studies of key films, many of which are new to this edition, including Piccadilly (1929), It Always Rains on Sunday (1947), The Ladykillers (1955), This Sporting Life (1963), The Devils (1971), Withnail and I (1986), Bend It Like Beckham (2002), and Control (2007), and with over 100 images from the BFI's collection. The Editor, Robert Murphy, is Professor in Film Studies at De Montfort University and has written and edited a number of books on British cinema, including British Cinema and the Second World War (2000) and Directors in British and Irish Cinema (2006). The contributors include Ian Aitken, Charles Barr, Geoff Brown, William Brown, Stella Bruzzi, Jon Burrows, James Chapman, Steve Chibnall, Pamela Church Gibson, Ian Conrich, Richard Dacre, Raymond Durgnat, Allen Eyles, Christine Geraghty, Christine Gledhill, Kevin Gough, Yates Sheldon Hall, Benjamin Halligan, Sue Harper, Erik Hedling, Andrew Hill, John Hill, Peter Hutchings, Nick James, Marcia Landy, Barbara Korte, Alan Lovell, Brian McFarlane, Martin McLoone, Andrew Moor, Robert Murphy, Lawrence Napper, Michael O'Pray, Jim Pines, Vincent Porter, Tim Pulleine, Jeffrey Richards, James C. Projected Cities Stephen Barber, 2004-02-03 In this illuminating and provocative survey, Stephen Barber examines the historical relationship between film and the urban landscape. Projected Cities looks with particular focus at the cinema of Europe and Japan two closely linked cinematic cultures which have been foremost in the use of urban imagery to reveal elements of culture architecture and history By examining this imagery especially at moments of turmoil and experimentation the author reveals how cinema has used images of cities to influence our perception of everything from history to the human body and how cinematic images of cities have been fundamental to the ways in which the city has been imagined formulated and remembered The book goes on to assess the impact of media culture on the status of film and cinema spaces and concludes by considering digital renderings of the modern city Projected Cities will appeal to all readers engaged with the city film and contemporary culture The British Film Catalogue Denis Gifford,2018-10-24 The standard work on its subject this resource includes every traceable British entertainment film from the inception of the silent cinema to the present day Now this new edition includes a wholly original second volume devoted to non fiction and documentary film an area in which the British film industry has particularly excelled All entries throughout this third edition have been revised and coverage has been extended through 1994 Together these two volumes provide a unique authoritative source of information for historians archivists librarians and film scholars Carpe Ma ana Leonard Sweet,2003 A naturalization manual to help Christians become leaders in the new world of postmodern culture Through nine naturalization classes Leonard Sweet an outside the box thinker offers strategies for leaders to put their faces not their backs to the future Art of Rhetoric Peter E.
