The Longman Companion to Renaissance Europe, 1390-1530 Stella Fletcher, 2014-02-04 This new Companion is the ideal reference guide. It fills a gap by providing an authoritative but accessible reference on political, economic, religious, social, as well as cultural developments in this crucial period. It contains information on all major topics including the church, war and diplomacy, civic life, learning and letters, printing, the economy, science and technology, the arts across Europe and the wider world. Humphrey, Duke of Gloucester (1390-1447) and the Italian Humanists / by Susanne Saygin, Susanne

Saygin, 2002 This study reconstructs the relations between the fifteenth-century English patron of Italian Renaissance humanism, Humphrey, Duke of Gloucester (1390-1447), his Italian middlemen and several Italian humanists with regard to the social and political context of their shared literary interests. Renaissance Architecture David Thomson, 1993 The author uses a range of published and unpublished sources and covers Italy, France, Britain, Spain, Germany and The Netherlands to explore the ethics, aesthetics and vanities of ambitious building. The Allegory of Love in the Early Renaissance James Calum O'Neill, 2023-07-31 Described as the most beautiful book ever printed, previous research has focused on the printing history of the Hypnerotomachia and its copious literary sources. This monograph critically engages with the narrative of the Hypnerotomachia and with Poliphilo as a character within this narrative, placing it within its European literary context. Using narratological analysis, it examines the journey of Poliphilo and the series of symbolic, allegorical and metaphorical experiences narrated by him that are indicative of his metamorphosing interiority. It analyses the relationship between Poliphilo and his external surroundings in sequences of the narrative pertaining to thresholds, the symbolic architectural, topographical and garden forms and spaces, and Poliphilo's transforming interior passions, including his love of antiquarianism, language and Polia, the latter of which leads to his elegiac description of lovesickness. Besides examinations of numerosophical symbolism in number form and proportion of the architectural descriptions and how they relate to the narrative. Renaissance Vision from Spectacles to Telescopes Vincent Ilardi, 2007 Deals with the history of eyeglasses from their invention in Italy ca. 1286 to the appearance of the telescope three centuries later. By the end of the 16th century, eyeglasses were as common in western and central Europe as desktop computers are in western developed countries today. Eyeglasses served an important technological function at both the intellectual and practical level, not only easing the textual studies of scholars but also easing the work of craftsmen, small businesses. During the 15th century, two crucial developments occurred: the ability to grind convex lenses for various levels of presbyopia and the ability to grind concave lenses for the correction of myopia. As a result, eyeglasses could be made almost to prescription by the early 17th century. Illus. Historical Outlook

"Cuckoldry, Impotence and Adultery in Europe (15th-17th century)" SaraF. Matthews-Grieco, 2017-07-05 In Renaissance and early modern Europe various constellations of phenomena ranging from sex scandals to legal debates to flurries of satirical prints collectively demonstrate at different times and places an increased concern with cuckoldry impotence and adultery This concern emerges in unusual events such as scatological rituals of house scorning appears in neglected sources such as drawings by Swiss mercenary soldier artists and engages innovative areas of inquiry such as the intersection between medical theory and Renaissance comedy Interdisciplinary analytical tools are here deployed to scrutinize court scandals and decipher archival documents Household recipes popular literary works and a variety of visual media are examined in the light of contemporary sexual culture and contextualized with reference to current social and political issues The essays in this volume reveal the central importance of sexuality and sexual metaphor for our understanding of European history politics and culture and emphasize the extent to which erotic presuppositions underpinned the early modern world

(1390/95-1443)* J. Santiago Madrigal Terrazas, 1995 (Un)Doing History Vanita Seth, 2025-03-31 Against the grain of much contemporary scholarship within medieval studies this work emphasizes the radical alterity and historical rupture that the Middle Ages represents in European history Through an engagement with three contentious debates in medieval studies historiography race and individuated subjectivity Vanita Seth's work employs postcolonial and postmodern theorizing to explore questions of ontology epistemology racial privileging and emotion and identity in the European Middle Ages and early modern period

While the subject matter of this book is historical the stakes are contemporary and political Seth's contention is that it is the very alterity that the medieval represents that enables contemporary scholars and activists to recognize as historical that which is so often posited as natural Writing a history of absence while also engaging radically different ways of being in the world this book argues helps to disrupt the self evident naturalization of the face to contest knee jerk celebrations of individuality tethered to the human visage and to recognize racism not as an age old nemesis but as a distinctly modern form of organizing power This work is interdisciplinary engaging scholarship in science studies philosophy feminist theory anthropology race studies and literature and postmodern and postcolonial theory It presumes no prior specialized knowledge in medieval studies and or history This book is an essential reading for scholars and students in the fields of medieval and early modern history race historiography identity and emotion studies
