Handbook of South American Archaeology Helaine Silverman, William Isbell, 2008-04-06 Perhaps the contributions of South American archaeology to the larger field of world archaeology have been inadequately recognized. If so, this is probably because there have been relatively few archaeologists working in South America outside of Peru, and recent advances in knowledge in other parts of the continent are only beginning to enter larger archaeological discourse. Many ideas of and about South American archaeology held by scholars from outside the area are going to change irrevocably with the appearance of the present volume. Not only does the Handbook of South American Archaeology (HSA) provide immense and broad information about ancient South America, the volume also showcases the contributions made by South Americans to social theory. Moreover, one of the merits of this volume is that about half the authors (30) are South Americans, and the bibliographies in their chapters will be especially useful guides to Spanish and Portuguese literature as well as to the latest research. It is inevitable that the HSA will be compared with the multi-volume Handbook of South American Indians (HSAI) with its detailed descriptions of indigenous peoples of South America that was organized and edited by Julian Steward. Although there are heroic archaeological essays in the HSAI by the likes of Junius Bird, Gordon Willey, John Rowe, and John Murra, Steward states frankly in his introduction to Volume Two that archaeology is included by way of background to the ethnographic chapters.

Proceedings of the 10th International Conference on Behaviour of Steel Structures in Seismic Areas Federico M. Mazzolani, Dan Dubina, Aurel Stratan, 2022-05-07 This volume highlights the latest advances, innovations, and applications in the field of seismic design and performance of steel structures as presented by leading international researchers and engineers at the 10th International Conference on the Behaviour of Steel Structures in Seismic Areas (STESSA) held in Timisoara, Romania, on 25-27 May 2022. It covers a diverse range of topics such as behaviour of structural members and connections, performance of structural systems, mixed and composite structures, energy dissipation systems, self-centring and low damage systems, assessment and retrofitting codes and standards, light gauge systems. The contributions, which were selected by means of a rigorous international peer review process, present a wealth of exciting ideas that will open novel research directions and foster multidisciplinary collaboration among different specialists.
