Arab and Jewish Women in Kentucky Nora Rose Moosnick, 2012-05-21 Outwardly it would appear that Arab and Jewish immigrants comprise two distinct groups with differing cultural backgrounds and an adversarial relationship Yet as immigrants who have settled in communities at a distance from metropolitan areas both must negotiate complex identities Growing up in Kentucky as the granddaughter of Jewish immigrants Nora Rose Moosnick observed this traditionally mismatched pairing firsthand finding that Arab and Jewish immigrants have been brought together by their shared otherness and shared fears Even more intriguing to Moosnick was the key role played by immigrant women of both cultures in family businesses a similarity which brings the two groups close together as they try to balance the demands of integration into American society In Arab and Jewish Women in Kentucky Stories of Audacity and Accommodation Moosnick reveals how Jewish and Arab women have navigated the intersection of tradition assimilation and Kentucky's cultural landscape The stories of ten women's experiences as immigrants or the children of immigrants join around common themes of public service to their communities intergenerational relationships running small businesses and the difficulties of juggling family and work Together their compelling narratives challenge misconceptions and overcome the invisibility of Arabs and Jews in out of the way places in America
