Making Sense of the Intercultural Adrian Holliday,Sara Amadas,2019-11-19 In this book we wish to find a new way of talking about connecting and operationalising the third space narratives positioning and interculturality Our purpose is to shake established views in what we consider to be an urgent quest for dealing with prejudice We therefore seek to draw attention to the following How Centre structures and large culture boundaries are sources of prejudice How deCentred intercultural threads address prejudice by dissolving these boundaries How in everyday small culture formation on the go the cultural and the intercultural are observable and become indistinguishable How agency personal and grand narratives discourses and positioning become visible in unexpected ways How we researchers also bring competing narratives in making sense of the intercultural How third spaces are discordant and uncomfortable places in which all of us must struggle to achieve interculturality This book is therefore a journey of discovery with each chapter building on the previous ones While throughout there are particular empirical events interviews reconstructed ethnographic accounts and research diary entries with their own detailed analyses and insights they connect back to discussion in previous chapters

Journey'S End Victoria Brewster,Julie Saeger Nierenberg,2017-07-20 In Journey s End many and varied collaborators write about death dying and the end of life We attempt to describe real life issues and circumstances and we discuss ways to proactively deal with them Useful training resource and reference material is also included Death dying and end of life are topics many prefer to avoid This book suggests that we benefit from having frank discussions living life to the fullest and planning for our own journey s end whenever that may be Everyone who is born eventually will die whether or not we want to embrace that fact Though few of us know when we will die we and our family or friends can be well prepared We can have discussions and create written directives for what we want if we are unable to verbally state them ourselves Do we want life support Do we want interventions that may or may not have any benefit to our quality of life if we are in the hospital or in an accident Do we want to be involved in planning our funeral memorial or celebration of life The submissions within are from professionals in the field of death and bereavement support and from laypeople all of whom share stories of dying family members friends clients and patients Julie and Victoria the coauthors of this book also share stories from their personal and professional experiences Journey s End is a broadly comprehensive book about death dying and the end of life

Sara, Beyond the Veil Rev Susan J. Henley, 2012-10 For Sara the loss of her husband Peter was unbearable Soon after he passed Peter came to visit taking her to various places that only they could go Her children refusing to believe that she was talking to him assumed that she had dementia She suffered a fall and from that time on never returned to her home But while recovering Sara was able to travel beyond The Veil learning beautiful heartfelt lessons that she was able to bring back with her and pass on to her children Peter takes Sara on a journey both here and to the hereafter Her life and those of her children is never the same She finds an abundance of peace and serenity in a place that is timeless where unconditional love creates healing and comfort and where the ravages of dementia cannot touch her Walking among the angels Sara s desire is for everyone to know the place beyond The Veil
