Knots Untied George S. McWatters, 1872 A narrative of marvellous sic experiences among all classes of society criminals in high life swindlers bank robbers thieves lottery agents gamblers necromancers counterfeiters burglars etc etc etc Title page Too Far for Comfort Rana Tekcan, 2014-08-01

The dynamic between the biographer and the subject is perhaps one of the most fascinating aspects of biography as a genre. How does the biographer stage the illusion that is the narrative life? The illusion that the subject assumes a living form through words. In contrast to purely fictional forms, biography writing does not allow total freedom to the biographer in this creative act. Ideally, a biography's backbone is structured by accurate historical facts. But its spirit lies elsewhere. The way a biographer captures the spirit of a subject is intriguingly shaped by the historical distance between the two. We find three types of distance in biographical narrative. First, where the biographer and the subject personally know one another. Second, where the biographer is a near contemporary of the subject. And third, where biographer and subject are distinctly separated in some cases by hundreds of years. In this revised and expanded edition, Rana Tekcan explores how some of the most accomplished biographers manage to recreate life across time and space. She looks at their illusionary art through the narrative strategies in Samuel Johnson's Life of Savage, James Boswell's Life of Johnson, Lytton Strachey's Eminent Victorians, Michael Holroyd's Lytton Strachey, Park Honan's Jane Austen, and Andrew Motion's Keats.
