Troubled Everyday Alison Taylor, 2017-04-28

Extreme violence in contemporary European art cinema is generally interpreted for its affective potential but what about the significance of the everyday that so often frames and forms the majority of these films Why do the sudden moments of violence that punctuate films like Catherine Breillat's Fat Girl 2001 Gaspar Noé's Irreversible 2002 and Markus Schleiner's Michael 2011 seem so reliant on everyday routines and settings for their impact Addressing these questions through a series of case studies and considering notorious films in their historical and philosophical context Troubled Everyday offers the first detailed examination of the relationship between violence and the everyday in European art cinema It calls for a reevaluation of what gives these films such affective force and such a prolonged grip on our imagination

Shimmering Images Eliza Steinbock, 2019-02-14 In Shimmering Images Eliza Steinbock traces how cinema offers alternative ways to understand gender transitions through a specific aesthetics of change Drawing on Barthes's idea of the shimmer and Foucault's notion of sex as a mirage the author shows how sex and gender can appear mirage-like on film an effect they label shimmering Steinbock applies the concept of shimmering which delineates change in its emergent form as well as the qualities of transforming bodies images and affects to analyses of films that span time and genre These include examinations of the fantastic and phantasmagorical shimmerings of sex change in Georges Méliès's nineteenth-century trick films and Lili Elbe's 1931 autobiographical writings and photomontage in Man into Woman Steinbock also explores more recent documentaries science-fiction and pornographic and experimental films Presenting a cinematic philosophy of transgender embodiment that demonstrates how shimmering images mediate transitioning Steinbock not only offers a corrective to the gender binary

Hermeneutic Humility and the Political Theology of Cinema Sean Desilets, 2016-06-10 This book revisits the tradition of Western religious cinema in light of scholarship on St Paul's political theology The book's subtitle derives from the account in the Book of Acts that St Paul was temporarily blinded in the wake of his conversion on the road to Damascus In imitation of Paul the films on which Sean Desilets's analysis hinges including those of Carl Th Dreyer Robert Bresson Pier Paolo Pasolini and Carlos Reygadas place a god blind mechanism the camera between themselves and the divine Desilets calls the posture they adopt hermeneutic humility hermeneutic in that it interprets the world but humble in that it pays particular even obsessive attention to its own limits Though these films may not consciously reflect Pauline theology Desilets argues that they participate in a messianic hermeneutic tradition that runs from Paul through St Augustine Blaise Pascal Karl Barth and Walter Benjamin and which contributes significantly to contemporary discussions in poststructuralist literary theory political theology and religious studies Desilets's insightful explication of Jean Luc Nancy's deconstruction of Christianity and Giorgio Agamben's recent work on religion makes a substantial contribution to film philosophy and emerging critical trends in the study of religion and film This book puts forward a nuanced theoretical framework that will be useful for film scholars students of contemporary political theology and scholars interested in the intersections of religion and media

Counter-Archive Paula Amad, 2010-09-28 Counter Archive brilliantly reflects the visual character of philosophy geography and historiography in twentieth century France Organized hermetically and crafted meticulously this volume offers a wealth of information as it considers film theory Tom Conley Harvard University Tucked Away in a Garden on the edge of Paris is a multimedia archive like no other Albert Kahn's Archives de la Planete 1908 1931 Kahn's vast photo cinematographic experiment preserved world memory through the privileged lens of everyday life and Counter Archive situates this project in its biographic intellectual and cinematic contexts Tracing the archive's key influences such as the philosopher Henri Bergson the geographer Jean Brunhes and the biologist Jean Comandon Paula Amad maps an alternative landscape of French cultural modernity in which vitalist philosophy cross pollinated with early film theory documentary film with the avant grade cinematic models of temporality with the early Annales school of history and film's appropriation of the planet with human geography and colonial ideology At the heart of the book is an insightful meditation upon the transformed concept of the archive in the age of cinema and an innovative argument about film's counter archival challenge to history This impressive book carves out a field of interest that prior to Paula Amad's scrutiny did not exist Amad displays extraordinary erudition assembling a remarkable bibliography of primary sources She invites us to ponder her ideas in relation to our own digital counter archival image overload Antonia Lant New York University editor of Red Velvet Seat Women's Writings on the First Fifty Years of Cinema Paula Amad handles technical details with flourish and mastery and the research in the French archives is exhilarating Donald Crafton University of Notre Dame Paula Amad's book is far more than an unusually successful effort to recover and analyze Kahn's unique dream of archiving the planet It stages a theoretical interrogation of the terms archive everyday life and modernity arguing that the emergence of motion pictures produced a revisionist concept of the archive or what she calls the counter archive Her book ultimately mounts a highly original methodological exploration of the intersection of history and theory Richard Abel University of Michigan Religion and Film S. Brent Plate, 2017-09-05 Religion and cinema share a capacity for world making ritualizing mythologizing and creating sacred time and space Through cinematography mise en scene editing and other production activities film takes the world out there and refashions it Religion achieves similar ends by setting apart particular objects and periods of time telling stories and gathering people together for communal actions and concentrated focus The result of both cinema and religious practice is a re-created world a world of fantasy a world of ideology a world we long to live in or a world we wish to avoid at all costs Religion and Film introduces readers to both religious studies and film studies by focusing on the formal similarities between cinema and religious practices and on the ways they each re-create the world Explorations of film show how the cinematic experience relies on similar aesthetic devices on which religious rituals have long relied sight sound the taste of food the body and communal experience Meanwhile a deeper understanding of the aesthetic nature of religious rituals can alter our understanding of film production Utilizing terminology and theoretical insights from the study of religion as well as the study of film Religion and Film shows that by paying attention to the ways films are constructed we can shed new light on the ways religious myths and rituals are constructed and vice versa This thoroughly revised and expanded new edition is designed to appeal to the needs of courses in religion as well as film departments In addition to two new chapters this edition has been restructured into three distinct sections that offer students and instructors theories and methods for thinking about cinema in ways that more fully connect film studies with religious studies Practices of Projection Gabriel Menotti, Virginia Crisp, 2020-02-05 To many the technological aspects of projection often go unnoticed only brought to attention during moments of crisis or malfunction For example when a movie theater projector falters the audience suddenly looks toward the back of the theater to see a sign of mechanical failure The history of cinema similarly shows that the attention to projection has been most focused when the whole medium is hanging in suspension During Hollywood's economic consolidation in the 30s projection defined the ways that sync sound technologies could be deployed within the medium Most recently the digitization of cinema repeated this process as technology was reworked to facilitate mobility These examples show how projection continually speaks to the rearrangement of media technology Projection therefore needs to be examined as a pivotal element in the future of visual media's technological transition In Practices of Projection Histories and Technologies volume editors Gabriel Menotti and Virginia Crisp address the cultural and technological significance of projection Throughout the volume chapters reiterate that projection cannot and must not be reduced to its cinematic functions alone

Borrowing media theorist Siegfried Zielinski's definition Menotti and Crisp refer to projection as the heterogeneous array of artefacts, technical systems and particularly visual praxes of experimentation and of culture. From this, readers can understand the performative character of the moving image and the labor of the different actors involved in the utterance of the film text. Projection is not the same everywhere nor equal all the time. Its systems are in permanent interaction with environmental circumstances, neighboring structures, local cultures and social economies. Thus, the idea of projection as a universal, fully autonomous operation cannot hold. Each occurrence of projection adds nuance to a wider understanding of film screening technologies.

Subversive Esotericism and Aesthetic Radicalism Sólveig Guðmundsdóttir, 2024-12-29 In this book, Sólveig Guðmundsdóttir uncovers the crucial role of esotericism in the art of the Vienna Actionists, a group of Austrian neo avant garde artists infamous for their transgressive performance art. Addressing this frequently overlooked aspect of Actionism, Guðmundsdóttir traces, historicizes and examines the esoteric discourses in selected works: the collective manifesto Die Blutorgel 1962, Rudolf Schwarzkogler's text Das sthetische Panorama 1967-68 and the performances Abreaktionsspiel 1970 by Hermann Nitsch and Zerrei 1970 by Günther Brus. Mapping out the various discursive entanglements as they appear in the works, i.e. between esotericism and psychoanalysis, fascism, gender, sexuality, aesthetics, science, orientalism and religious discourses, the author illustrates and establishes the importance of esoteric traditions for the Actionists' art and subversive practices. The historical analysis of the artworks reflects on the cultural nexus of post-war Austria as well as the relations between radical politics, countercultures and esotericism and how they appear in Actionism. Guðmundsdóttir argues that to survey the historical placement of esotericism is vital for understanding not only the context of their works but also the contradictory image of the Actionists as both anti-authoritarian and reactionary artists.

Latin American Writers and the Rise of Hollywood Cinema Jason Borge, 2008-07-23 This book analyzes the initial engagement with Hollywood by key Latin American writers, examining the ways in which these writers seized the opportunity to reassert their relevance in the rapidly modernizing public sphere by actively and often subversively mediating encounters between Hollywood and local audiences.

Acrobatic Modernism from the Avant-garde to Prehistory Jed Rasula, 2020 Moving through a vast geographical, cultural and artistic terrain and juxtaposing numerous modernist works, this volume explores the multiplicity of modernism and provides in-depth case studies including of James Joyce's Finnegans Wake, the reception of jazz music in Europe and the Cubist movement in the visual arts.
