A Time for Building Sir Paul Hasluck, 1976      Savage Life in New Guinea Charles William Abel, 1901      Teacher Preparation in Papua New Guinea John Mortimer, 2024-03-20 The authors present a comprehensive examination of the historical origins and development of schooling and teacher preparation in Papua New Guinea from indigenous education in villages the influence of European colonization and the role of missionaries in providing education and the implications for education policies and practices      Photographing Papua Max Quanchi, 2009-03-26 Photographing Papua is a study of photography in the public domain in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries It argues that southeastern New Guinea known as British New Guinea and then as Papua when it became an Australian colony was created as a geographical place through visual representation in illustrated magazines and newspapers lavishly illustrated travelogues and mission hagiography serial encyclopedia lantern slides and postcards Readers knew Papua because many thousands of black and white photographs of Papuans villages and material culture rapidly swamped the reading public once the process of halftone newsprint reproduction became possible In an innovative and breakthrough fashion Photographing Papua switches attention from a few well known prints in museums and archives in some cases repeatedly reproduced but mostly rarely seen outside of scientific and scholarly circles It deals instead with thousands of photographs often used in ways not intended when the photograph was taken but which editors and publishers and subsequent photographers gradually made conform to an iconographic imperative a sort of abbreviated visual gallery of natives and a quick access pathway to the actual and imagined lives of Papuans in the last Unknown as New Guinea was titled It is a study of representation colonialism cross cultural encounters and the early world of illustrated media and photo journalism      Savage Life in New Guinea, with Papuan in Many Moods Charles W. Abel (of Kwato.), 1902      The Mirror and the Mind Katja Guenther, 2022-11-08 How the classic mirror test served as a portal for scientists to explore questions of self awareness Since the late eighteenth century scientists have placed subjects humans infants animals and robots in front of mirrors in order to look for signs of self recognition Mirrors served as the possible means for answering the question What makes us human In The Mirror and the Mind Katja Guenther traces the history of the mirror self recognition test exploring how researchers from a range of disciplines psychoanalysis psychiatry developmental and animal psychology cybernetics anthropology and neuroscience came to read the peculiar behaviors elicited by mirrors Investigating the ways mirrors could lead to both identification and misidentification Guenther looks at how such experiments ultimately failed to determine human specificity The mirror test was thrust into the limelight when Charles Darwin challenged the idea that language sets humans apart Thereafter the mirror previously a recurrent if marginal scientific tool became dominant in attempts to demarcate humans from other animals But because researchers could not rely on language to determine what their nonspeaking subjects were experiencing they had to come up with significant innovations including notation strategies testing protocols and the linking of scientific theories across disciplines From the robotic tortoises of Grey Walter and the mark test of Beulah Amsterdam and Gordon Gallup to anorexia research and mirror neurons the mirror test offers a window into the emergence of such fields as biology psychology psychiatry animal studies cognitive science and neuroscience The Mirror and the Mind offers an intriguing history of experiments in self awareness and the advancements of the human sciences across more than a century

South Sea Maidens Michael Sturma,2002-03-30 From the first European contact with Tahiti in 1767 the myth of the South Sea maiden has endured through many incarnations Although the maiden frequently provided an idealized antidote to Western women s self assertion the South Pacific also afforded a space where boundaries between the sexes could be relaxed and transgressed From James Cook and Captain Bligh to James Michener and Margaret Mead the Island girl has occupied a special place in the erotic imagination of the West In a sweeping study that embraces history literature visual arts anthropology and film this study gives fresh insight into the myths and reality of a Western icon While women from far off lands have always been presented as exotic and alluring the South Sea maiden has come to symbolize feminine sexuality as an integral part of the adventure sensuality and romance of the South Pacific Everyone from early explorers to 19th century writers and artists to latter day anthropologists film makers and tourism promoters have extolled their virtues and their bodies Sturma looks behind the popular cliché to reveal how the myth making process reflected not only Western desires but the cut and thrust of changing sexual politics The result is an intriguing look at both South Sea image makers and the women whom they found so seductive Uncertain Corridors Gideon Haigh,2014-01-02 For all the glamour and new found wealth that has come to cricket thanks to the IPL the sport has rarely faced such an uncertain future The gold standard of cricket Test matches is being sidelined in some countries by the shorter forms of the game While the sport is being transformed administrators are struggling to keep pace with it all Yet despite all of this the sport s essential elements remain in place great games are played new stars rise up and old stars step back and retire In this new collection of writing Gideon Haigh takes the pulse of the game today and in particular looks at the decline of the sport in Australia where the once all conquering men in the baggy green suddenly found themselves struggling to impose themselves on their opponents Our
